Sunday Vespers Carol Service At High School

Sunday Vespers, a Christmas Carol service, has been arranged for Sunday afternoon, Dec. 11th, from four to five o'clock. This hour of music in the Newton High School auditorium at Newtonville is an innovation which is likely to be a prominent feature in the school year. Over 450 high school pupils and teachers are taking part in a program which will be entirely musical and includes many of the well-known Christmas carols. The carol service is open to the public without admission and with no reserved seats.

The program has been arranged by Mr. Haydn N. Morgan, director of music in the Newton schools. Mr. Charles R. Spaulding will direct the teachers' orchestra and Mr. Morgan the women teachers chorus with Miss Myrtle Erikson, soloist. The high school verse speaking choir will be directed by Miss Jessie A. Southard. The men teachers' octet will be comprised of Messrs. Lingo, Foster, Taylor, Morgan, Clark, Green, Land and Sanborn. Other features include a number by a trumpet quartette comprised of Doris Oldfield, Roger Whalen, Joseph Mascia and John Sircom, a cantata by Hazel Jean Kirk, and Joseph W. Clokey with the high school girls' chorus, boys' chorus, the voice culture class and the glee club. Soloists include William Stark, Donald Coligan, John Durkee, Richard Grimm, Kenneth Wood, Donald Finchbaugh and J. Collins Lingo. Mary Louise Shadman, Barbara Tower, Jeanne Morgan and Henry Richardson will be the accompanists.

McKay Says 1939 Tax Rate to Be High

Alderman Donald McKay was the speaker at the meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club on Tuesday. He explained how the expenses of the City of Newton are financed and he predicted that the tax rate for 1939 will be from $2 to $4 higher than the tax rate for this year. He said the budget had not been balanced this year, not enough having been provided for welfare, snow removal and other expenditures. He said that in order to properly balance the budget next year and put the city on a business like basis, it may be necessary to increase the tax rate $4.

Hatfield Estate to Widow, Daughter

The will of former Mayor Charles E. Hatfield, who died on November 10, was filed last Friday in Middlesex Probate Court. The size of the estate was not stated. The entire estate, real and personal property, was left to Mr. Hatfield's widow, Mrs. Martha P. Hatfield of West Newton; and upon her death it reverts to their daughter, Margaret Hatfield of Washington. The will was drawn in 1922 and the executors are the Old Colony Trust Company and Alice L. Frost.

Arrange Plans For Saltonstall Dinner

Further details have been perfected in connection with the all-Newton testimonial dinner in honor of Gov.-elect Leverett Saltonstall to be held in the Newton High School on Tuesday evening, January 3.

His Honor, Mayor Childs, will serve as toastmaster. The only speakers, apart from Mr. Saltonstall, will be former Mayor Sinclair Weeks, Thomas W. White and Lt.-Governor-elect Horace T. Cahill. Invited guests include the state ticket.

Hundreds of tickets have already been sold and every indication points to a full house on Jan. 3. A list of nearly eighty prominent citizens from whom tickets may be secured was printed in last week's issue. Through an oversight, the name of Mrs. Ernest Cobb, 28 Richardson rd., Upper Falls, was not printed. Additional names have been added, as follows:

Ward 2—Newtonville: Mrs. E. P. Railsback, 34 Foster st.; Warren K. Brimblecom, 5 Fairfield st.; C. Raymond Cabot, 18 Bullough pk.

Ward 5—Col. Henry D. Comerai, 1224 Boylston st., Upper Falls. Ward 7—Newton: Wilfred Chagnon, 51 Vernon st.; Mason H. Stone, Jr., 7 Breamore rd.; A. Burton Nelson, 88 Brackett rd.; Mrs. George W. Johnson, 321 Tremont st.

City Not to Take Land at Nonantum

Recently the Board of Aldermen received a petition signed by Rev. Joseph E. Robichaud, pastor of the church of St. Jean Evangeliste, and other Nonantum residents, asking that the city acquire the property of the late Effie Stearns, situated between 257 and 281 Watertown st., to protect its interest in the Stearns School property. The Stearns School is located at the rear of the Stearns property, and the rectory of the church of St. Jean Evangeliste at 253 Watertown st., abuts the property. There are two old houses on the property and a vacant lot of land between them. After Miss Stearns' death some months ago, her cousin, who is executor of the estate, went to Mayor Childs and offered to sell the vacant lot of land to the city for its assessed value, and also offered to donate to the city a small parcel of land near the school.

A couple of months ago an application was filed by Philip Gilks of the G & S Paper Company asking for a permit to erect a storage warehouse on the vacant lot at the Stearns property. The warehouse will be about 75 feet on Watertown st. and 165 feet in depth. It will be one story high, of cement block construction, and it will be bisected by a driveway leading to a loading platform and a car garage. At a recent meeting the Board of Aldermen voted to grant a permit for the garage to the G & S Paper Company. Later, the petition asking that the city take the land, was received, and the Aldermen then voted to rescind the vote on the granting of the permit for the garage.

At the meeting of the Aldermen last Monday night, Alderman Jamieson, reporting for the Public Works Committee, stated that the initiative on the taking of the Stearns property by the city, must come from the Mayor, in accordance with the city charter and as the Mayor had made no recommendation, no action could be taken by the Aldermen. The Aldermen, therefore, voted to again grant the permit for the garage to the G & S Company, and it is expected that work on the erection of the warehouse will be started in the near future.

Funeral Service of Mrs. J. C. Ferguson

Funeral services for the late Mrs. John C. Ferguson, formerly of 91 Arlington st., Newton, who died in Peeking, China, on October 6, will be held on Sunday, December 4, in the chapel at Newton Cemetery at 2:30 p. m. Rev. William Gunter of Newton Methodist Episcopal Church will officiate. Interment in Newton Cemetery will follow. Dr. John C. Ferguson, husband of the deceased, and her daughter, Miss Mary Ferguson, arrived in Newton on Wednesday from China.

Free Cooking School Attracts Many Women

Marion Greeley of Newton Centre Wins Gas Stove

The first annual NEWTON GRAPHIC Free Cooking School which was held on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week attracted much interest among Newton women. Despite the stormy week-end and the difficult travel early in the week there was a well-attended session on Monday. A larger attendance was in order on Tuesday with but a small section of the Newton Centre Woman's Club hall unfilled and on Wednesday there was hardly a vacant seat to be found. The sessions of the school were directed by Miss Margaret Fossett of the Home Economics Department of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company who imparted many helpful cooking hints and suggestions to her audience in the demonstration of many appetizing and delightful recipes.

Following the conclusion of the session each day numerous bags of groceries and prizes were awarded. On Wednesday the major prize, a 1938 model C-P Glenwood Automatic Gas Range, presented by the Boston Consolidated Gas Co., was awarded to Marion Greeley of 33 Ashton ave., Newton Centre.

Prizes donated by Newton merchants were also awarded on Wednesday afternoon. These prizes were valued at considerably more than one hundred dollars and a delighted audience applauded the various awards. A list of the winners of these prizes will be found elsewhere in this issue.

The success of this initial venture into this type of service makes it reasonably certain that the NEWTON GRAPHIC again will offer a similar treat to the women of the Newtons, possibly in another section of the city in order that it will be more convenient for women of other sections. Although a majority of those in attendance were from the Newton Centre section there were registrations from every section.

The NEWTON GRAPHIC takes this opportunity to publicly thank all those who participated in the cooking school and those whose attendance made the affair a great success.

Veterans Refuse To Protest Against Forum Speakers

At a meeting of the Newton Veterans Council on Monday night it was voted not to co-operate with a West Newton youth who seeks to prevent the appearance of Earl Browder, Communist, and Lawrence Dennis, Fascist, at a meeting of the Newton Community Forum on February 19. Roy Edwards, head of the Council, argued that alleged subversive movements gain strength when their advocates are denied the right of free speech, and the members of the Council agreed with him. Walter Taylor of West Newton, representing the Forum, was present at the meeting. The aid of Newton Post, American Legion was sought in the effort to prevent Browder from speaking, and that organization, like the Veterans Council, declined to take any action.

Dog Not Licensed, Driver Not Guilty

Joseph Conroy of 222 Linwood ave., Newtonville, was arraigned in the Newton court on Wednesday charged with failing to identify himself after the car he was driving had hit and injured a dog. The complainant was Mrs. Margaret Maguire of Maguire ct., Newtonville. She testified that on November 5 the car driven by Conroy hit her dog, which she was chasing, and broke one of the animal's legs. She said Conroy stopped the car for a short time and then drove on without making himself known. Conroy said that he thought the dog was not badly hurt. Judge Mayberry ruled that in accordance with the law he would have to impose a penalty. Conroy then informed the judge that the dog was not licensed. Mrs. Maguire admitted this fact, giving the excuse that she supposed the dog did not have to be licensed until it was a year old. The judge then ruled that the dog had no right to be on the street, and found Conroy not guilty.

School Committee Hearing on Sunday Use of Stadium

On Monday night the Newton School Committee held a hearing on the petition of the Newton Football League which asked for a permit to use Dickinson Stadium for a football game between Gaths Guards and Thompsonville on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 4. A petition for the use of the stadium on Sunday, Nov. 27, had been refused by the School Committee after considerable controversy and publicity. The game was then scheduled for last Sunday at the Newton Highlands playground, but weather conditions caused a postponement of the game. Another petition was then received from the league management asking for the stadium on next Sunday.

About 45 persons attended the hearing, the majority of whom were residents of the neighborhood in the vicinity of the stadium. They objected to the stadium being used for a football game on a Sunday. Robert C. Kelly of Walnut st. said that boys have climbed porches of houses near the stadium while football games were being played, and after having been driven away by police, returned to annoy residents again after the police had departed. Ellison Day of Hull st. also objected. He said that his father, the late Frank A. Day, had been a contributor toward the creation of the stadium, and he would not have approved of its use for Sunday games. Residents of Walnut, Hull and Blithedale sts., Lowell ave. and Kimball ter. also objected to the use of the stadium for Sunday games. Rupert Thompson, secretary of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, also opposed the petition. He said he did not object to the use of the stadium for football games, but he does not believe in establishing a precedent to allow it to be used on Sundays.

Rev. Charles O. Farrar, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Newton Highlands, president of the Football League, asked the opponents to look at the matter from a sympathetic viewpoint, and not to base their objections on property damage, or Sunday rest. He said it was not our boys who have been making trouble at football games. John E. Leary, Jr., playground department director of the league, advocated the granting of the petition. He said boys would not be tempted to climb porches at the game, because they could enter the stadium without paying any admission. Ernest Hermann, Superintendent of Playgrounds, also favored the petition. He said he had been instrumental in bringing Sunday games to Newton, and the Playground Commission favors opportunities being provided for recreation.

When some of those opposing the petition stated that although they disapproved of the use of the stadium for football games on Sundays, they would be willing to have a permit granted for its use on Saturday, Rev. Mr. Farrar changed the petition so that the game will be played on Saturday, Dec. 3, instead of Sunday, Dec. 4, and the use of the stadium was granted for that date.

Changes In Police Dept. Personnel

A resignation and two appointments took place in the Newton police department over the week-end. Mrs. Elsie Dunleavy Fitzgerald of 27 Broadway, Newtonville, for the past 15 years clerk at police headquarters resigned on Saturday. She was appointed by former Chief Burke in 1923. She is succeeded by Miss Catherine Heblity of 724 Watertown st., Newtonville, daughter of Captain Daniel Heblity of Engine 1. Miss Heblity has been employed at the Comptroller's office in City Hall.

Raymond J. Sullivan of 15 Washburn st., Newton, a member of the reserve force for the past two years, was appointed a regular patrolman on Monday. He succeeds Arthur Connolly who resigned recently. William J. Burke of 43 Melbourne ave., Newtonville, was appointed a member of the reserve force.

Former Newton Boy Talks On "Good City Government"

On Sunday, December 4, 1938, at 3:30 p. m. in the Newton High School Auditorium, Newtonville, Honorable Harold H. Burton, Mayor of Cleveland, Ohio, will speak before the Newton Community Forum. His topic will be "New Horizons in City Government."

MAYOR BURTON OF CLEVELAND

Mayor Burton knows well the problems which harass every leader of a city government today. In spite of the inheritance of the ills of an administration which had misled the city dry, he succeeded in giving Cleveland one of the cleanest, most respected, and efficient administrations of any large city in the United States. Mayor Burton, a former Newton boy, entered Cleveland politics on a reform platform in 1935. Upon graduation from Newton High School, Bowdoin College, and Harvard Law School, he started practicing law in Ohio, in 1912. He served for a time as a member of the House of Representatives in Ohio. He has become the most popular Mayor Cleveland has elected since city management was abandoned in 1929.

The function of a city's political, social and economic organization is to supply security, happiness, and comfort to the men, women and children who dwell therein. Whenever this function is seized by a small group of greedy leaders under the forms of law and with the aid of the money belonging to the people, the complacent citizenry will surely and sorely suffer. Cleveland, a few years ago, bowed down before such adventurers in aggrandizement as the "Van Sweringen Boys," and inevitably had to pay the price of their faithlessness and her own simplicity. This story of the betrayal and the redemption of city government will be ably outlined to the citizens of Newton on Sunday next by Mayor Burton of Cleveland.

Slippery Streets Cause Accidents

The slippery condition of Newton streets caused by the sleet and snow resulted in several automobile accidents on Thanksgiving Day. On Thursday night at 8:30 a car driven by Arthur Lazzerro of Waltham skidded at Washington and Watertown sts. and hit a car driven by John Corcoran of Belmont and caused it to hit two parked automobiles. All four cars were damaged, but no person was injured. At 7:30 p. m. a car driven by Joseph Cumiff of Watertown skidded at Newton and hit a car driven by Kenneth McKenzie of Stoneham. McKenzie and a man riding with him claimed to have received injuries. Cars driven by Maurice Wheaton of Jamaica Plain and Warren Arnold of Jamaica Plain collided at Washington st. and Jackson rd. on Thursday. Wheaton's wife and child were reported as having received injuries.

Colby Says Mayor Bought Wrong Type Of Police Radio

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night Alderman Colby of Ward 7 criticised the recent award by Mayor Childs of a contract to the Gamewell Company of Newton Upper Falls to supply two-way radio equipment for the Newton police department. Last year after two Newton policemen had been fatally shot, Alderman Colby advocated that the police department be equipped with two-way radio. His suggestion was followed and the Aldermen, on the Mayor's recommendation appropriated $11,000 to have the equipment purchased and installed at police headquarters and in a number of automobiles operated by the department.

A few months ago bids for the furnishing of the equipment were received from the R. C. A. Company, General Electric Company and the Gamewell Company—the latter to provide equipment largely made by the Westinghouse Company. The R. C. A. and General Electric bids were based on furnishing crystal controlled equipment, and the Gamewell bid was on "master oscillator" controlled equipment. Alderman Colby then wrote a letter to Mayor Childs telling of the superiority of the crystal controlled type, and urged that this type be purchased. Mayor Childs, however, gave the contract to the Gamewell Company and the master oscillator type is being installed.

The statement made by Colby on Monday night is as follows:

TWO WAY POLICE RADIO SYSTEM
I should like to make this final statement with relation to our two way police radio.

As the last effort on my part to convince the Mayor that he should purchase transmitters for our police cars of the crystal controlled type, I wrote several weeks ago to the Chief Engineer of the Federal Communications Commission in Washington advising him that we were considering the installation of transmitters in our police cars to operate on the ultra high frequency radio police band and that a controversy had arisen as to the value of crystal controlled or master oscillator type of transmitters for this purpose and requesting comments from him as follows:

1. As to which type we should buy.
2. Whether in his opinion the master oscillator type of transmitter could be relied on to meet the present frequency stability requirements of the Commission.
3. Whether there was a possibility that in the future the Commission would reduce the frequency tolerance for this type of service.

In reply to this inquiry I received under date of November 18th from Mr. T. J. Slowie, Secretary of the Federal Communications Commission, a letter of which the following is a substantial part.

"In this respect the Commission does not issue type approval for equipment used in services other than broadcast but does require that such equipment hold its assigned frequency within the tolerance requirements as set forth for the service in which the transmitter operates. It is believed that the majority of cities are replacing their master oscillator equipment with that of the crystal controlled type since this latter apparatus appears to be of a more reliable nature and less susceptible to deviations in emitted frequency. It has also been the policy of the Commission to require less frequent checks of the transmitted frequency when the equipment installed is of the crystal controlled type.

With regard to the possible change in the tolerance requirements of the emergency services it is impossible for the Commission in this respect. However, the Commission's technical requirements (Continued on Page 2)

THE VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Some two thousands of persons have indicated their opposition to the proposal to change the zoning status of land between Washington street and the railroad tracks between Newton and Newtonville. It was intimated at the public hearing before an Aldermanic committee this week that the land would be used for a restaurant and gas station. From the point of view of these two types of businesses the location is practically ideal, with thousands of cars using this main artery of the city daily. However, from many other points of view there is much that is undesirable. The close proximity to a church, together with the fact that the restaurant would probably desire and require a Sunday victualler's license is but one of these handicaps. The argument was proposed that if this land were made available that it would provide revenue for the city's treasury. While the taxpayer's burdens are sufficiently heavy and any further source of revenue would be welcome, the question is whether or not it is worth the price. We believe that the aldermen will reject the proposal and will continue to safeguard the best interests of the city in seeing that this land is used for desirable purposes only.

DEMOCRACY AND COMMUNISM

The Newton Veterans' Council, comprised of ten representatives of veterans' organizations in this city, has rejected a protest which had been placed before them urging them to actively protest the appearance of Earl Browder, Communist leader, at a meeting of the Newton Community Forum in February. The Council, emphasizing its disapproval of Communism, adopted a resolution to the effect that the ideal of the right of free speech in America must be upheld. We believe the majority of Newton residents will agree with this attitude. We would furthermore add that Browder's appearance on the forum platform will not make Communists of as many people as might be the case were he barred from coming here. The many subversive "isms" of the present day, in general, and Communism in particular, thrive on adverse publicity and attempts to stifle public appearances. On the other hand true democracy must have free speech and liberty if it is to remain as the standard bearer of a better civilization.

Central Club To Hear Talk on Business Outlook

James R. Bancroft, President of the American Institute of Finance will speak before the Central Club of Newtonville, Monday evening, December 5th, on "The Business Outlook for 1939."

Mr. Bancroft was formerly head of the investment department of Babson Institute is a keen analyst of business conditions, and a recognized authority on economics and investments.

The meeting will include a dinner and an old fashioned spelling bee and is another of the interesting monthly programs arranged by the club and held at Central Church, Newtonville.

have in the past and undoubtedly continue in the future to keep pace with the technical advancements in the radio art."

It will be obvious to any one who reads this letter that although the Commission does not and cannot issue type approval for this service that it favors the crystal controlled type of equipment and believes that it is a more reliable equipment for this service.

It is also clear that although the future action of the Commission with relation to tolerance cannot be anticipated definitely that nevertheless in view of the fact that technically crystal controlled transmitters can maintain the stability of the frequency within 1%, that the Commission will undoubtedly tighten up the tolerance requirements when the ability of the crystal controlled equipment to thus hold the frequency is universally recognized.

The statements which I have read coming from the highest authority in radio communication in this country would seem to justify the position that I have taken that this type of equipment should have been purchased by the Mayor if he had clearly in mind the interest of the citizens of Newton.

A bulletin issued on September 1 of this year by the Federal Communications Commission, and sent out to police departments throughout the country, contained the following paragraph—"Stations operating in the emergency service are at present required to maintain their assigned frequency or frequencies within the tolerance as indicated in Rule 111.30 (3%). In order to insure this stability, frequency checks should be made frequently at regular intervals, depending on the stability of the frequency control equipment in the transmitter. In the case of high quality crystal controlled equipment capable of holding the transmitter on the assigned frequency over long periods of time, bimonthly checks may only be necessary; whereas with some types of equipment having poor stability, it may be necessary to provide for continuous monitoring of the transmitter in order to maintain operation within the required tolerance."

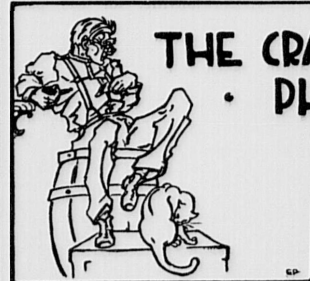

Old Bass Viol To Be Used In Loyalty Sunday Service

A bass viol, played by Miss Norma Olsen, will be an unusual feature of the Loyalty Sunday service at eleven o'clock at the First Church in Newton. The bass viol, now the property of Dr. Wallace Goodrich of the New England Conservatory of Music, was used for over forty years in the services of First Church by Deacon Woodward who was the grandfather of Dr. Goodrich. Miss Gladys Watt will play the clarinet and Mr. Frederick P. Plagg, the flute in this service which is reproducing some of the music which was used in the old days of the First Church. Mr. D. Ralph Maclean, organist and choir director, is using three anthems of the early days in New England for his quartet which is comprised of Mrs. Angus Ross, soprano; Mrs. R. B. MacKnight, contralto; John Tulloch, Jr., tenor; and F. Nelson Lane, bass.

Rev. Morrison Russell Boynton, D. D., will occupy the pulpit as usual preaching on the subject "An Old Friend."

W. C. T. U.

The West Newton W. C. T. U. will hold an Evangelistic Meeting on next Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Nellie Cooney, 61 West Pine Street, Auburndale. The leader will be Mrs. W. E. Blake and the assisting hostess will be Mrs. Helen Arriam.

THE CRACKER BARREL PHILOSOPHER

Turn off that radio, Zeke! A body can't discuss affairs properly with that contraption going all the time. Mind you, the radio's a fine invention. I wouldn't be without one. But a body's got to stop every now and then and sit down and the information he's collected and discuss it. Discussin' information is like chewin' food. If you try to swallow it whole, you'll get indigestion sure.

You've heard me say before—when free discussion dies in this country, democracy'll die with it!

Take Germany, now. The Germans have always been great ones for "readin' and studyin' and learnin' things. You lock a German in a library for a while and when you let him out he'll make a beeline for a pencil and paper and start writin' another book on "Shakespeare's Use of the Past Participle" or "Semi-colons in the Old Testament." That's why some of the greatest scientists in the world are Germans.

But anyone who swallows a politician's words whole is dead in with whiskey! And that's how the Germans have taken Hitler and his Nazis. They've tried to swallow 'em in one gulp, and the whole country is gone plumb crazy.

Now they're shippin' a new batch of Jews back to Poland. They ain't a-goin' to rest until they've rid themselves of every last Jew in the country.

They know that the Jews can't fit

Offer Program For Tax Action

The growing interest and concern in regard to taxation problems caused the National Association of Real Estate Boards to adopt a program of action designed to accomplish major objectives towards an equitable solution. The Newton Board of the Boston Real Estate Exchange submits for publication the following proposal, as the first of a six-point program, which have been adopted as basic principles for tax action:

Over-All Limitation

We propose: That each state and territory of the United States, by constitutional amendment where possible, otherwise by statutory enactment, specifically limit the total amount of taxes which may be levied against any parcel of real estate within any one year, such over-all limit to be a fixed percentage of the true value of such parcel of real estate, preferably one percentum.

This is "over-all limitation." It is so called to distinguish it from the limitations on separate portions of the real estate tax now in effect in nearly all states. Over-all limitation sets a maximum on the total taxes levied against any piece of real estate for all purposes.

Real estate at present is the only object of taxation which is not so protected. Laws levying taxes against other commodities state the limits: "three cents on each gallon of gasoline"—"2% of the total amount of the purchase price of the commodity"—"one cent on each package of twenty cigarettes." Real estate tax laws leave to the whims of the tax spending bodies, without check, the power to levy against real estate in any amount they see fit except in the nine states which have enacted over-all limitation measures.

In those states which already have adopted this proposal the taxing powers have been limited to a stated percentage of the value. In those states real estate taxes have been reduced and an approach already is being made to an equitable tax system. Those states are Rhode Island, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Washington, West Virginia, and Nevada. The over-all limit range from 1/2% to 5%.

We suggest that the limit should not exceed 1%. This in effect would be equivalent to an income tax of approximately 25%, which is surely all that real estate should, in equity, be called upon to pay. The average real estate tax at present is nearly three times this amount.

Rotary Club

Donald McKay, chairman of the Finance Committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen was the speaker at the regular Monday noon meeting of the Rotary Club. He gave a very interesting and instructive talk on "City Finances." This past year the Finance Committee has spent some 200 evening hours working over the City Budget.

Alderman McKay complimented Dr. Chope of the Health Department on his report submitted to the Finance Committee. He also stated that Newton enjoys one of the best credit ratings of any city in the Commonwealth.

Dr. Ed Mellus, who celebrated a birthday this month, was presented with a toy cleaning set by Lyle Bruce, to use in conjunction with his roll your own brand of smokes.

The Club is holding its Christmas party for the kiddies on Tuesday, December 27, at 12:15 at Brae Burn.

themselves into the German way of doin' things. They never have, and they never will.

The Jews have been individualists for over 5,000 years. The Germans think if a man is a doctor or professor or dictator he can't go wrong. Not even if he claims the moon is a German colony. But the Jews don't take anybody's say-so. They have to figure things out for themselves.

It's a peculiar thing, Zeke, but the Jews make just as good scientists as the Germans do!

Sometimes I feel right sorry for myself, Zeke, when I think of the advantages young folks got today. Yes, we used to feel right smart on Hallowe'en if we could scare a handful of folks with a white sheet or a tie-tac-toe or a skeleton.

Other night down in New York, though, a young fellow, name of Orson Welles, got loose on the radio and had himself the ding-busteded Hallowe'en Party ever was. He's had a lot o' practice 'bein' the Shadow and puttin' murder plays on the stage and radio, but this time he outdid himself. He near scared the wits out o' half the country pretendin' he was an invasion from Mars. O' course folks that had their wits about them knew what was goin' on. But it shows that all you have to do is dress spooks in modern clothes and you can still make folks hair stand on end.

Some people like that Senator Herring from Iowa, instead of laffin' and admittin' they had their britches scared off, got mad. They right away wanted to pass a new law about it. But there ain't never goin' to be laws enough to keep jittery people from goin' off half-cocked.

Jiminy crickets, I wish I was young again!

During Mayor Ellison's absence in Colorado, President J. Wesley Kimball of the Board of Aldermen acted as Mayor.

Professor Phillip Paul Quinn Johnson, the colored man who sold a large number of tickets to a mythical concert last week, was sentenced in the police court on Thursday to serve 9 months in the House of Correction.

The churches are holding their services according to the new standard time, but it brings the evening meetings so late that there is talk of changing the hour from 7:30 to 7:15, bringing it back to the actual time as before.

Police authorities have undertaken to distribute material for Thanksgiving dinners to the deserving poor, outside of Wards 1 and 7 which are taken care of by the Young Men's Christian Association. City Marshal Cannon has a list of poor and deserving families, and any provisions sent to the police stations will be dealt out to those in need.

A new device has been put into use this week on the lines of the Suburban Telephone Company. To ascertain the exact time at any moment it is only necessary to listen at the telephone and a series of distinct beats indicating the exact hour and minute will soon be heard: the numbers being struck on the same system that the numbers of fire-alarm boxes are given. The ringing of the call will break the circuit and stop these pulsations, for when the instruments are being used for talking, the time current is taken from the "ground," and interrupted until the telephone has been replaced. This feature of telephone service is introduced without extra charge to subscribers.

A tea party and dance will be given at City Hall on December 7 under the direction of Mrs. Capen. The proceeds are to be devoted to the West Newton Athenaeum library for the purchase of books and other expenses.

The West Newton Woman's Educational Society met on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. P. Tooman, about 60 people being present. An interesting address was given by Dr. Mary Safford of Boston upon "Aids to Moral Growth." She spoke about the work being done by moral education societies in hunting out the sources of immorality in schools, and she urged home instruction to offset outside evil influences.

The Boston & Albany has just finished a high board fence at Auburndale on the north side of the tracks, which effectually cuts the village in two and has aroused general indignation. The highway bridges are now the only means of crossing the tracks, and there is a demand for a foot-bridge at the West end of the depot platform. The beauty of the village is about spoiled by the barricade, which a well known professor says, makes the place look like a cattle quarantine.

The hearing before the City Council on Wednesday evening relative to taking land around Bullogh's Pond for a public park, was largely attended and the most enthusiastic meeting yet held. Very little was said, however, about the proposed purchase—the hearing turned into a reopening of the old question whether it would be better to have a large central park, or a small one for each village. City Engineer Noyes displayed a large map showing the boundaries of the proposed park. D. W. Farquhar opened the discussion in opposition. He said Newton has a greater need for a sewerage system than a large park. John S. Farlow, Dr. O. E. Hunt, Ex-Mayor, Robert R. Bishop and A. C. Walworth favored a large, central park. Mr. Walworth said that betterments on adjoining properties, put into a sinking fund, would pay for the cost of the park. The park would include 174 acres of land, and the valuation put upon it is $86,666.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on motion of Alderman Cobb it was voted to increase the appropriation for the Fire Department from $24,000 to $25,000, so that the pay of the call firemen can be increased $15 per year. Mr. Cobb showed that firemen in Newton are obliged to work harder than in some of the larger cities in the State, while receiving only half as much pay. Worcester, with only 47 alarms last year, pays call men $150 per year, while in Newton the call men receive only from $70 to $100 per year, and so far this year have answered 84 alarms. Many of these are for brush fires, which require long and hard work.

Powers' Paragraphs

The writer admits, with regret, that he does very little walking, so our efforts in the past to obtain more consideration for pedestrians in Newton cannot be ascribed to selfish motives. For many years we advocated the enforcement of the city ordinance relating to the shovelling of snow off sidewalks after storms. Before the automobile era the police of Newton enforced this ordinance, but for a long time it had not been enforced. A few years ago a special committee was appointed to study the matter of snow removal from sidewalks. The result was that matters went from bad to worse, because a couple of years ago that special committee presented a report, which was adopted by the then Board of Aldermen. That report recommended the abolition of the ordinance, more than 50 years old, which compelled the clearing of snow from improved sidewalks in most sections of the city. It limited the compulsory clearing of snow from sidewalks to the business zones. He made his matter worse. We refer to this matter again, because since the recent snowstorms old residents of this city have complained to us that sidewalks which were cleared of snow in former years, now are not shovelled. Pedestrians have to walk out on the streets, risking being hit by motor vehicles. The motto in Newton seems to be—"Pedestrians be damned."

Another old resident of Newton asked us to give publicity to his grievance. He said that he faithfully clears the snow from the sidewalk in front of his house, and then a truck comes along with a snowplow in front, pushes the snow partly back onto the sidewalk, and closes the opening the complainant had dug to afford access to the street. He contends that the Street Department should have men with shovels clear away the snow which is piled up by the snowplows in front of footpaths and driveways.

Two years ago the Board of Aldermen passed an ordinance forbidding all-night parking of automobiles on public streets. One reason for the passage of this ordinance was becoming automobiles parked all night on streets, prevented the proper clearing of streets of snow by the trucks of the Street Department. The ordinance is not being enforced by the police, streets are still being used as garages by many owners of automobiles, and the Street Department is still being handicapped in snow removal as a result.

The outstanding victory of Attorney General Dever in the recent election must be deeply grieved over the conditions that now prevail in France.

While James M. Curley was Governor, he advocated the abolition of the Executive (or Governor's) Council. At that time we did not believe that Mr. Curley was right in this proposal, but now we agree with him. The attitude displayed by Democratic and a majority of Republican members of the Council during the administrations of Governors Curley and Hurler, showed that they were motivated not by a desire to be of real benefit to the people of this State whom they allegedly represented but, rather to obtain political jobs for themselves or their relatives, or assist favored persons in getting contracts which added unnecessarily to the tax burden of Massachusetts citizens.

We admire the candor of Judge Mahoney, recently appointed to the bench by Governor Hurley. A case was tried by Judge Mahoney the other day at which one of the persons involved acted as his own counsel.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

First Snow Worries

It was good to see Winter get off at such a royal start last week-end. The sudden appearance of those becoming snows worn by young women made me feel as cheerful as if gazing at a rainbow and it wasn't the colors alone.

In spite of the procession of radiant beauty, I did give a little thought to one or two of the grave problems that arise after the first heavy fall of snow. Newton hasn't yet become quite used to the city ordinance which requires sidewalks be cleared only in the business section. Some householders still hold to the old-fashioned custom of shovelling off sidewalks or having it done for them. But a great many citizens appear to think there is no obligation. The ones that it has hit hardest are those who make a few dollars by shovelling. When snow removal was compulsory they had plenty of work but now the jobs are limited to steps and paths and there isn't anything like the money in it there used to be. In case there may exist some question, I wish to state that I have it on excellent authority there is no law against having your sidewalks cleared. The authorities will offer no objection whatever if you wish to show some consideration for pedestrians and see that there are no snow mounds or ice packs to impede the progress of those obliged to walk. Of course this may be changed at any time—you never can tell what these aldermen will do.

Pups and Patience

It would be something this department could brag about if we could promote a better understanding in places where such a thing is badly needed. It is a good deal of a tax on the general supply of vitality to attempt to persuade people to change their line of thought and consequently I have long since refrained from convincing folks afraid of dogs not to give way to it. Often we read of a barking and biting dog that has brought its owner into court. Now and then some ardent friend of all dogs writes to the papers to show that the fault is more likely that of the human. I'll not be drawn into that controversy but will relate an incident I saw last Thanksgiving Day and which I feel has its lesson.

It was in the morning and a number of people were headed towards church. A young man was distributing printed matter from a department store. It struck me as an odd hour and moment for that kind of advertising, but that's not the point. A dog ran out, barking loudly and apparently threatening the young man. The pup lives near me and I know it as a friendly but noisy animal. I wondered what the young man would do, saying to myself, "He probably is barked at by many dogs in the course of his work." Instead of taking a belligerent attitude and standing ready for an attack, which many people would have done, the youth waited until the dog approached, spoke kindly and offered to pet it. The demeanor of the dog changed at once, his tail began to wag, the barking ceased and when I left, the two appeared real chums.

Molasses Meditations

As one extremely fond of molasses candy, especially those hard squares, welcomed the drop in temperature because I felt there would be more of this delicious confection on the counters. There is probably too much there now for my personal good, although I recall that a physician once assured me that it was beneficial. Nevertheless, I do exercise self-restraint in seeking to limit the amount I consume. That, however, is not the immediate problem. What does puzzle me and has for ages is how to smash these blocks of sweetness into convenient sizes for eating and at the same time prevent the loss of bits here and there. Usually I leave the wrapper on and this only keeps the splinters and atoms from getting away. I don't know how many methods I have resorted to—cracking with a hammer, a paper weight, a pair of scissors or banging against the wall. The result is almost invariably the same—one or two pieces just the right size for the mouth and the rest too large or too small. Possibly a kind reader may suggest I devour molasses kisses instead and save myself worry. But I do like molasses bars and as long as they are made somebody must eat them.

War Scare Close-up

There resides in London a friend of mine whom I have known since boyhood. His letters are to me always extremely interesting. I thought of him when war was threatened between England and Germany. His latest letter told me much. Here is an excerpt I feel you'd like to read: "You have read in the papers much about the war scare. It was actual. Guns in the parks, trenches for civilian shelters when bombed—all over the place—in gardens, back yards, playing fields, etc. Ancient guns, many of them useless. Gas masks distributed in the middle of the night. Hundreds of thousands running away into the country. School children being sent away by local authorities. Hospitals told to evacuate all movable patients and get 40,000 beds ready for air raid casualties. Coffins ordered by the tens of thousands and expectation of 200,000 dead in the streets within a week. All this without exaggeration on my part. Personal worries seem tiny compared with all these possibilities, and yet whenever I spoke with people here during the time, it was their own little family affairs that were uppermost."

Older Boys' Conference

On Friday morning thirty-four boys from the Newton Y. M. C. A. will go to Holyoke to represent Newton at the 49th Annual Older Boys' Conference.

Quite significant this year is the fact that the main speaker is a former Newton Boy who at present is pastor of the large Methodist Church at Glens Falls, New York. Dr. Charles C. Noble will give three addresses, "What It Means To Be Alive," "Taking Life In Stride," and "Power To Follow Through." Dr. Noble is a graduate of Newton High School, Wilbraham Academy, Williams College, and Union Theological Seminary. While in Williams and Union he served as Director of Camp Frank A. Day, the Newton Y. M. C. A. Boys' Camp.

The theme of the Conference is "Living Courageously," with the speakers presenting ways and methods of Living Courageously. Discussion groups on seven themes will be presented.

Will Introduce New Parisian Permanent Wave

Mr. Albert of Albert's Beauty Studio, Newtonville, returned recently from an extended tour of several of the principal cities of Europe. He attended the International Beauty Congress which brought together beauticians from all parts of the civilized world for the purpose of exchanging ideas, discussing methods and studying the rapid advances being made in the art of beauty culture.

In Paris, Mr. Albert discovered an entirely new permanent wave, which it is expected will become immensely popular with American women who are particular about their hair-do. He devoted considerable study to the procedure and technique required to perform this new permanent, and is now ready to introduce it to Newton women.

When interviewed by a GRAPHIC reporter, Mr. Albert stated, "Contrary to expectations our Parisian Permanent costs considerably less than the ordinary wave now in vogue. It is cooler, more comfortable, machineless and takes less time."

"In Italy," he continued, "I found a budget system which is very popular with schoolgirls and office workers of moderate means. It operates very satisfactory in the larger cities. Plans are now under way and we expect to inaugurate and announce a similar system in Newton in the very near future. The plan cuts the cost of permanents considerably, and affords the opportunity of acquiring a wave without the usual outlay of money at one time. I feel confident that the new plan will be well received in Newton. The budget plan operates in such a manner as to make it adaptable as a welcome Christmas gift."

Child Posture Contest At Annual Xmas Bazaar

Newton parents are invited to enter their children in the second annual child posture contest, the only one of its kind in New England, to be held at the Hotel Vendome, Boston, at 2 p. m., Saturday, Dec. 10th, in the Women's Association of the Mass. Osteopathic Hospital. Mrs. Arthur E. Martell, of Elmwood pk., Newtonville, secretary of the association explains that the judging will be solely and entirely on the excellence of the child's natural physical posture and that it is not a child beauty contest. There is no entry fee for the two classes, one for boys and one for girls, with a silver cup and two ribbons to be awarded in each class. The contest will take place during the annual Christmas bazaar, "Mrs. Santa Claus Store."

The Newton Auxiliary of the association is taking a leading part in preparations for the bazaar, at which they will have a booth built to represent "The House That Jack Built." Mrs. Clifford O. Mooney of Highland ave., president of the Newton Auxiliary, will be dressed to represent "the maiden all forlorn." Also serving on the Newton committee are Mrs. Walter N. Keene of Lowell ave. and Mrs. Alexander F. McWilliams of Forest ave.

Five of the ten physician judges in the posture contest are Newton residents. They are Dr. John A. MacDonald of Waban, Dr. McWilliams, Dr. Myron B. Barstow of Chestnut Hill, Dr. Keene, and Dr. Everett L. Pierce of Newton.

Recent Weddings

KELLAWAY-PARKER

Palms and tall white chrysanthemums formed a beautiful setting for the wedding of Miss Alice Chapin Parker, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Stevens Parker of 1047 Walnut st., Newton Highlands, and Ralph William Kellaway, son of Mr. Edward Thomas and the late Mrs. Florence Cooper Kellaway of 31 Wyman st., Waban, at the Newton Highlands Congregational Church on Saturday, Nov. 26, at 8 p. m. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white faille silk with puffed sleeves, snugly fitted bodice, the square neckline being adorned with a band of orange blossoms, and a full skirt with a court train. Her long tulle veil fell from a cap and short cape of chauntilly lace. Her bouquet was of white gardenias, stevia, and maiden hair fern with a shower of white sweet peas. gineer, but Alderman Childs thought that the City Engineer was a fair horse now, that $100 would be enough to get him a new wagon, and $50 a new harness. His motion that $150 be appropriated instead of $300 was passed.

Newton Centre people think it is neither brave, bright nor smart for certain grown-up boys or others to annoy people who call at the post-office for mail, and bother the efficient lady assistants in the postoffice by making unnecessary noise, and coarse, silly remarks.

The wheelbarrow bet on the election was paid on Monday evening when Mr. Robinson wheeled Albert Scott over some of the principal streets of Newton Centre, accompanied by the fire and drum corps.

Wednesday the day before Thanksgiving saw the distribution of twelve baskets of various kinds of foods including meat for as many families in Newton. The gathering and delivery was supervised by Miss Peoples. Each of the twelve home rooms sent one basket.

Outdoor sports at the Frank A. Day Junior High School ended, with the Thanksgiving Vacation, with the possible exception of a boys' hockey team. Basketball is now the game for both boys and girls and this week another of the Boys' Thursday Basketball Tournaments under the direction of Mr. E. Tanner started. Each team is composed of five boys having at least two seventh and one eighth grader. General varsity practice has also started.

Right to Wear Amethyst

At Pleasure of the King

The amethyst was in days gone by, regarded as a royal stone of a regal color, the right to wear which was bestowed by the king on his "inspired men." Hence, the amethyst denoted royal dignity and was supposed to oppose evil, drunkenness and all intemperance, says a writer in the Montreal Herald.

The amethyst is supposed to have been the ninth stone in the breast plate of Moses. It was very popular among the Egyptians and was carved by them. A famous collection has a large pale amethyst engraved with the head of a Syrian king.

The amethyst is a species of transparent violet colored quartz supposed to oppose the effects of the fumes of intoxicants. To enjoy the full vibration, the amethyst must be worn on the third finger of the left hand. It is supposed to be a charm against death from arrows. Soldiers carried it on the field of battle in Egypt. This practice was also carried into the Middle Ages and many amethysts were worn for the terrible wars of the period.

There is a lovely allegorical legend telling that Dionysus, enamored of a graceful nymph pressed his love upon her, but Diana intervened, transforming her into a lovely purple amethyst. In respect for the transformed nymph, Dionysus vowed that whosoever wore the amethyst would be protected from the evils of intoxicating wines.

This stone has always been regarded as symbolic of the pioneer in thought and action on the philosophical, religious, spiritual and material planes. It has also been long regarded as a charm against witchcraft, poison, and evil thought. It is also a charm for the securing of the favor of princes.

Lamerie, Silver Worker, Was a Famous Craftsman

Paul Lamerie, the great silversmith, was of French Huguenot descent and was born in 1688, and died in 1751. He was one of a group of French refugee silversmiths who came to England in the first half of the eighteenth century and settled there. These craftsmen brought with them a new refinement of style and delicacy of workmanship which had helped to pave the way for the beauty of the Queen Anne period. Lamerie, however, was considered far above his contemporaries in this work, notes Alice R. Rollins in the Los Angeles Times. His supremacy was shown not only in his creative genius but in his superb workmanship.

At the beginning of the Eighteenth century and through the Queen Anne period, silver was of high quality and was characterized by simple form and design. But following upon this appeared that form of ornamentation called the rococo which had its effect on all the arts. In England this desire for more elaborate adornment resulted in the standard of the quality of the silver metal being raised so that it was much softer and finer than the decoration of silver in repousse, engraving and pierced work; and resulted in the ornate designs we find in this period.

'Boy Stood on Burning Deck'

The battle of the Nile in August, 1798, is the episode memorialized in the poem "Casabianca." The lines first appeared in the second edition of "Forest Sanctuary," published in 1829. Louis Casabianca, French naval officer, was mortally wounded on August 1, 1798. His ten-year-old son, Giacomo Joccante Casabianca, was with him on board ship. Louis Casabianca was in command of the Orient, which bore the flag of Admiral Bruys. When the latter was killed, Casabianca, though badly wounded, fought the burning ship to the end and perished with most of the crew. His little son refused to leave him, and both were killed in the exploding of the ship.

Woman Made Lincoln Statue

Vinnie Ream was the first woman to be awarded a federal art commission by the United States government, to make Lincoln's statue. The contract was signed on August 30, 1866. Five thousand dollars was paid when the statue was completed. For many years it has stood in the rotunda of the Capitol in Washington. Lincoln sat every day for approximately five months for the young sculptress, who had little instruction. At the time she had a government position. Miss Ream was permitted to absent herself from her work on condition that her assignment not be affected by her art work in connection with the execution of the President's statue.

The 'Fugleman'

The West Indian Negroes, such as one finds on the island of Jamaica, have a sense of rhythm that is amazing, and like the old-time deep sea sailors, they do their best work while singing. They are always led in their songs by a man known as the "fugleman," who receives higher wages than the other laborers. He starts each "song" which lasts only a few minutes, by singing a short phrase of the song, and the gang around him shouts in chorus. The fugleman must possess an extensive repertoire, as it is customary to start a new song every five minutes or so throughout the day.

Over 2000 Protest Zone Change

appeared at City Hall relative to attempts to get gasoline stations or zone changes near the church property. He said there was no need of him making a set speech, but he would present a petition signed by over 2000 members of the parish protesting against the proposed change. Father Sheridan said the city fathers in past years who loved Newton planned beautiful approaches for this city and saw that all buildings were removed from the strip of land between Washington st. and the railroad tracks. He referred to the abandoned coal yard opposite the church, and termed it "No Man's Land." Its owners do not use it, but must pay taxes on it. It is a menace to children, as it is on a level with the tracks, and the children take a short cut through the former coal yard and across the tracks toward Cabot Park playground. He said something should be done to correct this condition. He commented that the city recently bought the Maglinch property on Elm rd. to "square off" the high school grounds.

The city might well take the old coal yard to end the menace of the children crossing the railroad tracks, and protect the school of Our Lady's parish, which for over 40 years has annually been saving Newton taxpayers large sums of money. Father Sheridan said that if business is allowed on the land in question, it will be the opening wedge for business all along Washington st. from Newton to West Newton. He stated that no one knows what types of business might locate on the railroad land.

Lawrence Stanley, representing the Stanley heirs who own property on Washington st. opposite the site of the proposed filling station and restaurant, objected to the petition. He said that if a restaurant is located there, later on liquor may be sold, and the place kept open until late hours, thus causing a nuisance. Joseph Chevarley of Thornton st. said he is a life-long member of Our Lady's Parish, and that because of the educational expenses that the schools of that parish have saved the city, that the property should be protected by the city. Replying to Chevarley, Mr. Gallagher said that he has been a member of Our Lady's Parish for about 50 years and would do nothing to injure it. He and Father Sheridan exchanged assertions of mutual friendship. Father Sheridan said that while Mr. Gallagher's participation in the controversy was "all in a day's work," the matter means something more to him. Clifford White, representing the Newtonville Improvement Association, and Edward H. Powers as president of the Ward 1 Improvement Association, both stated that these organizations object to the zoning change as asked for in the petition.

FARMED WITHOUT TOOLS

The Arawak Indians, original inhabitants of the island of Jamaica in the British West Indies, had no agricultural implements. They burned the herbage of their dry savannas and stirred up the earth with short sticks.

Shipping experts have pointed out the interesting discrepancy between the gross and displacement tonnages in both the Queen Elizabeth and the Queen Mary. Until the advent of the superliner class of transatlantic ships a few years ago, displacement tonnages in passenger ships always exceeded the gross tonnages. The superliners have reversed this relationship. Displacement tonnage is the weight of the water displaced by a ship when fully loaded and ready to sail, while gross tonnage, not a measurement of weight at all, is figured on the basis of one gross ton being equal to 100 cubic feet of enclosed space.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"God the Only Cause and Creator" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, Dec. 4.

The Golden Text is: "I am the Lord, your Holy One, the creator of Israel, your King" (Isaiah 43:15).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Thou, even thou, art Lord alone; thou hast made heaven, the heaven of heavens, with all their host, the earth, and all things that are therein, the seas, and all that is therein, and thou preservest them all; and the host of heaven worshippeth thee" (Nehemiah 9:6).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Infinite Mind creates and governs all, from the mental molecule to infinity. This divine Principle of all expresses Science and art throughout His creation, and the immortality of man and the universe. Creation is ever appearing, and must ever continue to appear from the nature of its inexhaustible source" (p. 507).

'Dead' Snake Lives to Bite

The belief that snakes do not die until sundown is probably based on the fact that their nerve reflexes sometimes continue to function and respond to stimuli after death. In one case, says Collier's Weekly, they caused a snake to bite a man fatally after it had been not only dead for more than an hour but also skinned.

Curfew Players Organized
By Waban Actress

Old Boston's Curfew Players, the group of actors and actresses residing in Greater Boston, who banded together to fill the city's lack of a professional stock company, has been augmented for their presentation on Dec. 2nd and 3rd by the arrival from Hollywood of their leading man, William Wright. They will present "Candle-Light" at the Peabody Playhouse at 357 Charles st., Boston. Miss Phyllis Wheeler of Homestead st., Waban, is the organizer and the leading lady of the Curfew Players.

Last season Miss Wheeler and Mr. Wright were playing opposite each other at the Neil Gwyn Theatre in Albany, N. Y., where dramatic critics discovered them already playing to packed houses. Subsequently Mr. Wright accepted a Hollywood engagement and Miss Wheeler decided to form her own company rather than accept an offer of a Broadway producer. As many of the acting company resided near Boston it was decided to build a permanent winter stock company here. A hand-picked cast of 18 began rehearsing, the Peabody Playhouse was engaged, and Joseph Cell, manager and director of the Boothbay Playhouse at Boothbay, Me., was engaged as director. A group of 1938-39 debutants were appointed as ushers and many prominent persons made up a list of patrons and patronesses. The show, "The Night of Jan. 16th," went on and the results were gratifyingly successful. With the arrival of Mr. Wright the Curfew Players are ready for their second presentation, "Candle-Light." For a later presentation the Curfew Players are considering "Love from a Stranger," a tense drama based on an Agatha Christie story, a London hit.

Comestibles "With the Tang
Of The Sea Still on Them"

It is a thrilling experience for the hostess on the alert for something new to delight her guests. A cocktail of fresh Celery and Tomato; an hors d'oeuvre of Caviar or Anchovy Dressing; a garnish of Stuffed Oranges, an unusual tart Conserva or Jelly to accompany a roast, provide the essence of perfect flavor. Cape Cod Farms, Inc., has a background of recognized excellence in preserving down by experts of the old school. Their local store is at 1296 Centre st., Newton Centre. Mrs. Boyd is the manager.

Want Zoning Law
Made More Strict

Henry C. Cummings of the Oak Hill Improvement Association appeared before the Claims and Rules Committee of the Board of Aldermen on Wednesday night and presented the following communication from that association:

"The Oak Hill District Improvement Association is distinctly in favor of the amendment to the Zoning Ordinance which contemplates extending its control of use of buildings to 'use of land' as well.

"It believes this further control is necessary to prevent exploitation of land by those who would ignore the spirit of the Ordinance, such as, the technical disposal of soil and gravel by other means than by direct sale. It feels this further control may help to regulate the questionable practice of those who would use residentially zoned areas for temporary business use, such as, the 'outdoor parking of building equipment and fleets of ten trucks'—which obviously cannot be justified in a residential area. It believes this further control will give property owners greater protection from those who would 'commercialize and circumvent' the Ordinance for their particular advantage.

"We hope your committee will recommend acceptance of this happy addition to our Zoning Ordinance."

Swain Breaks Into Newton Home

Earl Buell, a young man who gave his address as the Army Base at South Boston, was fined $5 in the Newton court last Saturday for drunkenness. For causing injury to a dwelling he was given a suspended sentence of 30 days. Buell was arrested early Friday morning after he had broken a window at the home of Warner Eustis, 260 Franklin st., Newton, and entered the house. Buell cut his hand when he broke the window. He told the police he was acquainted with a young woman employed at the residence as a maid, and he was paying a visit at the unconventional hour.

Charged With Theft of Jewelry

Walter Lowther, 42, of New Bedford, who formerly resided on Cabot st., Newton, and who was arrested last week by New Bedford police on charges of larceny, is also wanted by Newton police. He is charged with the theft of several articles of jewelry from Mrs. Elizabeth Dixwell of Bonwood st., Newtonville. A valuable diamond ring owned by Mrs. Dixwell, and allegedly stolen by Lowther, was recovered by Captain Goode and Inspector Hammell of the Newton police in a Boston pawnshop.

Mrs. Linberg, Mrs. Nickerson and the Sewing Circle will have a table of choice home-made foods. This sale is open to the public—a good time and place to begin Christmas shopping.

COOLIDGE CORNER THEATRE
BROOKLINE

Hailed as another screen triumph, the screen version of the George S. Kaufman-Moss Hart Pulitzer Prize play, "You Can Take It With You," opens for a week's run on Friday, December 2nd, at the Coolidge Corner Theatre, Brookline, with a cast which includes Jean Arthur, James Stewart, Lionel Barrymore, Edward Arnold, Mischa Auer, Ann Miller and numerous others.

"You Can't Take It With You" based on the stage success, deals with the lovely and perfectly delightful Vanderhof family, which believes in doing whatever it wants whenever it wants to and the aristocratic Kirby. In their old New York home, presided over by Grandpa Vanderhof, this uninhibited group reveals a heartwarming attitude toward life in a merry melange of comedy flavored with romance and tinged with pathos. Prominent in the supporting cast of this film are Sprague Brundy, Sam S. Hinds, Donald Meek, Eddie Anderson and Lillian Yarbo.

Due to the length of "You Can't Take It With You," the doors will open daily during this engagement at 1:15 p. m., and the first show will start at 1:30 p. m. Screenings of "You Can't Take It With You" will be at 2:35, 5:55 and 9:15 p. m. daily. The excellent co-feature on this program is another in the Mr. Moto series, "Mysterious Mr. Moto," starring Peter Lorre. In "Mysterious Mr. Moto," he succeeds in capturing the leader of a notorious gang of assassins operating in London and saves the life of an intended victim. Others in the cast in addition to Peter Lorre are Mary Maguire, Henry Wilcoxon, Erik Rhodes, Harold Huber and Leon Ames.

Conference On International Relations

Mrs. Malcolm Green, State chairman, announces that the department of International Relations is holding its tenth annual Conference, Thursday, December 8, at 10:30 o'clock, at the Hotel Somerset, 400 Commonwealth ave., Boston.

In the morning there will be a symposium on the question: "Can Democracy Endure." Following is the list of speakers and their subjects:

Mrs. J. Anton DeHaas, "The Far East"; Miss Sarah Wambaugh, "Mittel Europa"; Leonard Cronkhite, "Youth"; Ralph Blagden, "The Press"; Miss Harriet E. Whittier, "Collective Security"; and Bishop Raymond C. Heron, "The Church."

Each will speak for ten minutes, and then the meeting will be thrown open for questions from the floor and from the members of the Panel.

This discussion should give information with which to meet the challenge of our time.

After luncheon the Conference will enjoy "Colorful China," a motion picture travelogue, with musical accompaniment, filmed and presented by Rev. J. F. Goforth. This should have appeal, for, to quote Mrs. Green: "China! Land of mystery and enchantment! Where stately palaces, haunted by proud memories of the past, their yellow-tiled roofs glistening in the fierce sun, rise grandly above a sea of squal, grey dwellings, white temples, serene and aloof, an air of timelessness about them, nestle unobtrusively amid groves of ancient cypress trees. . . . One of the tenet dramas of our times is being enacted on Chinese soil. 'Colorful China,' with its realistic portrayal of the China of today provides a background for an understanding of that drama such as no amount of reading could possibly give."

Mr. Goforth, the lecturer, was born in China and spent half of his life there. He has a deep understanding of Old and New China. Moreover, he has the gift of interpretation, Mrs. Green declares.

Registration is 50 cents. Luncheon and registration together costs $1.50. Tickets may be had from Mrs. George G. Brayley, 84 Cambridge St., Winchester, by sending check and a stamped, addressed envelope. Her telephone number is Winchester 0492.

INSERT 2ND Under Feature ENTITLED "HOLIDAY Programs Etc.—High School Daughters To Be Guests

Alice Dixon Bond will lecture on Monday, December 5, at 2:30 o'clock, at the Neighborhood Club House, at the meeting of the Waban Woman's Club. Mrs. Bond, well-known in the field of book reviews, is giving a new lecture before many clubs of her summer spent in Hollywood studios.

Daughters of Club members who are in Junior and Senior High Schools are invited to attend this program.

Hoyland Bettinger, well-known artist of the Newton Hobby School, will exhibit his pictures.

Mrs. Sydney Wiggin will be tea hostess for the day.

Noted Baritone On Program President's Day

Reinald Werrenrath, the famous American Baritone, will give his own original program on "The Story of American Music" at the Newtonville Woman's Club on Presidents' Day, Tuesday, December 6. As he is of a family of musicians, Mr. Werrenrath has always known many famous composers and his knowledge of his subject, combined with his many close friendships with American composers, makes his program both intimate and authoritative. Mr. Werrenrath will illustrate his story by singing from the earliest Negro and Indian songs to the music of today, so giving to his audience the unique combination of the lecturer and soloist in one person. This unusual opportunity to hear a noted singer's superb voice in varied types of songs should be a program in honor of the Club's guests that will long be remembered.

Before Mr. Werrenrath's program, there will be a dessert-coffee in Social Hall and an exhibit in the Art Gallery from 1:30 to 2:15 p. m. During this hour Club members and their guests of the day, the presidents of the clubs in the Twelfth District, will have the opportunity of greeting in the receiving line with the Newtonville Woman's Club president, Mrs. George H. Tracy, the following invited guests of honor: Mrs. Henry W. Hildreth, president of the Massachusetts State Federation; Mrs. William F. Leach, director of the Twelfth District; Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, president of the Newton Federation; and Miss Louise Balch, the newly-elected president of the Newtonville Junior Club.

The second lecture on "World News" will be given at the Club House, Thursday, December 8, at 10:30 a. m., with Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor as lecturer.

The next lecture in the Art Course will be on "Art in Dress," at the home of Mrs. Louis J. Hunter, 35 Hyde ave., on December 12, at 10:30 a. m.

December 5th will be Community Club Day at Mrs. Howard M. Le Sourd's Candle Beam Shop, 206 Waverley ave. Beautiful candles and a large variety of Christmas gifts will be for sale, the proceeds of which will go to the Club's Scholarship Fund.

Old English Customs, Pageantry, and Song

The "Medieval Christmas" presented by the Old English Singers and the Lothrop Bell Ringers will provide the ideal holiday season program for the Newton Community Club on Thursday, December 8, at 2 p. m., in the Underwood School Hall.

The stage will be set to represent the hall in an old castle where the hale and hearty lord entertains his guests with Christmas cheer. The yule log is dragged to the fireplace with lusty song. The wassailers come with the flowing bowl and the Boar's Head is presented with the singing of the original song that has been used for many hundreds of years. Solos will be sung by the lord, his lady, and the court jester. A narrator gives the historical data of the varied old English customs. Against this background the Bell Ringers, in their medieval costumes, entertain with a variety of Christmas Carols on their beautifully-toned hand bells.

There will be also trios and chorus work. Color and pageantry will make this a program not easily forgotten.

The next lecture in the Art Course will be on "Art in Dress," at the home of Mrs. Louis J. Hunter, 35 Hyde ave., on December 12, at 10:30 a. m.

December 5th will be Community Club Day at Mrs. Howard M. Le Sourd's Candle Beam Shop, 206 Waverley ave. Beautiful candles and a large variety of Christmas gifts will be for sale, the proceeds of which will go to the Club's Scholarship Fund.

Among the many interesting heirlooms described was a Quaker collection of two quaint Quaker dolls and several Quaker bonnets brought by Miss Marjorie Briggs and belonging to her great-grandmother in Salem, and also an original copy of Mother Goose. Especially distinctive was a hand-blocked Andrew Jackson chintz, with the American eagle on it, a definite sign of good value, Miss Hudson stated. Parts of this chintz, the owner, Mrs. Clyde Allen said, were in the Metropolitan Art Museum. An historical touch was added with a powder-horn brought by Mrs. Perez B. Howard, which was used in the war of 1812, and a Pitkin glass bottle dating from the Revolution, also by Mrs. Clyde Allen, a direct descendant of the Pitkin family.

Interesting remarks followed about several antique chairs, including banister, Windsor, Hitchcock, flat back, and tiny children's chairs now being used by the fifth generation. Lovely pieces of table silver, which Miss Hudson explained by the designs, were very fine; old china, with a mammoth teapot holding six quarts; jewelry, hand-woven linens, and a dress display dating back to the Revolution, completed this varied exhibit.

An interesting peek into the past was from a collection of letters worn by Mrs. Theodore M. Reed, dating from 1815, written by various members of the Whitehouse family of Newport, R. I., and containing the seasonal postscript of a recipe for pumpkin pudding. Mrs. Reed also showed an amusing sampler laboriously worked by a little girl often, with the inscription at the bottom "Have pity Tree Fell on House,

Wants $376 of City

Murray Horwood of 37 Westbourne rd., Newton Centre, has filed a claim against the city for $376 damages. It was presented to the Board of Aldermen on Monday night. During the hurricane on Sept. 21 a large tree which stood on the sidewalk in front of his home was blown onto Horwood's house. Horwood, a professor at M. I. T., contends that the city is liable because the tree was of a brittle type and should not have been allowed to remain near his residence. Horwood's communication states that he did not include the cost of removing a row of poplar trees, which he had cut down, and which the city charged him each year for spraying. The Claims and Rules Committee will give the claim leave to withdraw because the hurricane was an act of God.

Dorchester Man
Ignores Summons

A default warrant was issued in the Newton court on Wednesday against Samuel Fireman, 24, of 66 Columbia rd., Dorchester. Patrolman Joe Smith had obtained a complaint against Fireman after the latter had ignored repeated warnings about violating parking ordinances on Woodchester Drive, Chestnut Hill. Fireman was supposed to be in court on Oct. 19 but asked that the case be continued, as he was going to get married. His request was granted, but he failed to appear on Wednesday.

Fireman was arrested on Wednesday night by Patrolmen Smith and Turner and appeared in court on Thursday morning. He was fined $15 by Judge Mayberry; $5 on each of the two counts of all-night parking, and $5 for parking without proper lights.

Police Ordered To Enforce Snow Law

As a result of complaints that police were not enforcing the city ordinance which compels the removal of snow and ice from sidewalks in business zones within 24 hours following the end of a snowstorm, Chief Hughes on Tuesday had copies of the ordinance issued to patrolmen with orders to warn persons in business sections who have not been obeying the law in this respect.

Gets Permit For
Nursery at L. Falls

Cyril Furbush of Church st., Newton, was granted a permit by the Board of Aldermen on Monday night to establish a nursery at 2101 Washington st., opposite Beacon st., Newton Lower Falls. Mr. Furbush has purchased about a third of the large area which formerly was an unsightly gravel pit and the cause of much controversy in past years. The pit was filled in a few years ago, and Mr. Furbush stated he will cover the area he has acquired with loam, plant evergreens there, and greatly improve its appearance. The land is in a single residence zone, but nurseries can be located in such zones by permission of the Board of Aldermen.

LIMITING STANDOUT ON ALL-SCHOLASTIC TEAMS

Bob Liming, Newton High senior and centre on the football eleven the past two years was chosen by several Boston sports writers for various all-scholastic eleven. The 184-lb. Newton pivot played full time in most every game this season and was used frequently in the 1937 season. In practically every game he was one of the few bright spots in an otherwise drab season. He was selected on the Boston Herald first team eleven and as centre on the second teams of the Boston Globe and Boston Traveler.

Liming was one of the other three coaches in the league in the selection of the All-Suburban team for which no coach may select any of his own players. Flanking Liming on this All-Suburban group is George Hutchings, William Pescosolido, and John Fitzgerald. Those who will receive letters in addition to Heath are William Boyer, Donald Brock, Gino Castoldi, Richard Crosby, Kittredge Fisher, John Fitzgerald, Gilbert Gould, William Harber, John Holter, Arthur Hughes, Walter Hurley, George Hutchings, Robert Liming, John MacNeill, Stewart MacNeill, Joseph Paglia, William Pescosolido, Howard Potter, Thomas Powers, Richard Prout, Anthony Rezzutti, John Thomas and Edward White.

Man Fined For Drunken Driving

James L. Sullivan of Circuit ave., Upper Falls, was fined $35 by Judge Crehan in the Newton court on Thursday for driving a car while under the influence of liquor. He was arrested on November 17 by Patrolmen Hoyt and Taffe after the car he was driving had collided with two other automobiles on Needham st. The case was not called until nearly noon, and then it was found that the two policemen involved had been ordered out on their regular task of school traffic duty. This aroused the ire of Judge Crehan and he started to admonish Patrolmen Hoyt and Taffe after he had waited about an hour for them to return, but when they informed him that they had acted on orders, he agreed they were not to blame, but suggested that different arrangements be made to prevent a recurrence of such a delay.

The fire was discovered by Mrs. Guterman as she was about to retire and she phoned the fire department at 12:09 a. m. Saturday. Engines 2 and 4 and Ladder 1 responded and the flames were found to have worked up between a wall. The damage was estimated at about $700.

Brooks Heath, junior on the 1938 Newton High School eleven, has been elected to captain the 1939 football team. The election took place at a recent meeting of twenty-four 1938 lettermen who gathered for a team photo. Heath was an outstanding bucking back and was one of the orange and black individual stars in the 20-14 Thanksgiving Day victory over Brookline. He scored two of the three touchdowns and tossed a pass which accounted for the third tally.

Heath has an inherited athletic talent as his father played four years at Drake under Ossie Solem who is now coaching at Syracuse. In addition the younger Heath, who also plays basketball as well as a little baseball, is an honor student and president of his class.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

tures of the meeting of the Auburn-dale Woman's Club last Tuesday afternoon, November 22. Mrs. Arthur Robinson, chairman of International Relations, introduced Mrs. John Anderson, from the League of Nations Association, who urged that the women become familiar with the seriousness of the present situation at home and abroad, in order that their influence would extend eventually to Washington.

Mrs. E. Graham Bates, Day chairman, introduced the speaker for the regular program, Mrs. Raymond Green. Mrs. Green made a tour recently of several European countries, from which she had brought back many of the quaint costumes which are worn by the peasants in far-away corners of those lands.

Deborah Potter and George Pierce, Jr., children of Club members, appeared first on the stage, wearing costumes which had been brought from the Bavarian Alps. The speaker explained that the older people were almost identical garments.

From Germany, Mrs. Green took her audience to Holland with their costume which is familiar to all, the colors taking on the same shades as the famous tulips of that country. Mrs. Bradley Hill was introduced as the "Woman from Valendam."

Another colorful combination, consisting of beautifully embroidered skirts, short jacket, and very tiny hat, was worn by Miss Della Shepherd, representing the "Maid from Goos."

Mrs. Green's next model was dressed in what she termed the Dress Costume of Spain, the black and white lace mantilla being unusually fine in texture. This was worn by Miss Annetta Couchman.

From France she showed the peasant garb of quaint Brittany, where blue predominates, as that is the color in which the peasants clothe the Madonna. Mrs. Frederick Y. Briscoe wore this costume.

From France, Mrs. Green took her audience to Germany once more, this time to the province of Schwalm, and Mrs. Ralph Weston was shown in a most unusual garb which consisted of fifteen skirts, each one a trifle shorter than the one below it.

Another charming model was little Dorothy Gray who represented a Hessian child.

The most elaborate gown, one made of pastel shades, with an immense hat to match, was worn by Mrs. William Flye, as the "Lady of Spreewald."

As this group stood together on the stage, picturesque, but certainly not dressed for comfort, the last model came among them, Mrs. Richard Kennedy. Her tailored suit of black, and her chic little hat, as well as her modish shoes, which contrasted with the wooden sabots worn by the other women, all emphasized the fact, that to our eyes at least, the American girl has all the charm of the Old World coupled with the freedom of the New.

Iraq, Name for Kingdom
Occidentals pronounce Iraq E-rok, with the accent on the final syllable. Iraq is the Arab name for the kingdom which occupies practically the whole of the Euphrates valley—Mesopotamia.

It is a region about the size of New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Ohio combined, but the boundaries are rather hazy. The country is a plain which lies between Persia, the Persian gulf, the Arabian and Syrian deserts and Kurdistan.

The climate is hot and rather unhealthy, but the Tigris-Euphrates region is wonderfully fertile and irrigation, says a writer in the Cleveland Plain Dealer, would restore the land to the prosperity of the days when Bagdad was one of the world's great capitals and the deeds of the Caliph Haroun Al Rashid were weaving themselves into "The Thousand and One Nights."

Down from Mosul, which occupies the site of ancient Nineveh, to Bagdad, runs one of the links of the famous Berlin-to-Bagdad railway which was one day to have cemented the central powers. The British, who wrested Iraq from the Turks in 1917, extended this road to Basra, or Bassorah, near the gulf. The British mandatory rights, however, were formally renounced and the independence of Iraq recognized by a treaty signed at Bagdad June 30, 1930.

Iraq has great petroleum resources, ranking eighth in the world's supply. The country grows cotton, dates, tobacco, wheat, sheep, cattle and silkworms with equal success.

Gen. Winfield Scott Was Prominent Military Man

Gen. Winfield Scott, born near Petersburg, Va., June 13, 1786, contributed almost half a century of public service to his country and for the last 20 years of his military career was commanding general of the United States army.

The soldier who was called "Fuss and Feathers" because of his severe discipline and dignity, won his greatest military fame in the brilliant Mexican campaign of 1847. However, he is credited with being a major factor in ending the War of 1812 as well as averting several others, recalls Leslie Hartley in the Washington Star.

It is of especial interest that while Scott was restoring order in the conquered Mexican territory he sent home from local revenues $118,000 to be applied to an army asylum which afterward became Soldiers' home.

Though his country paid him many honors for his military service, he was denied the supreme recognition he desired—the office of the presidency.

At the outbreak of the Civil war he remained at the head of the United States armies until November, 1861, and died at West Point May 29, 1866.

Giant's Causeway, a Wonder

The remarkable group of basaltic columns on the north coast of Ireland known as the Giant's causeway, or causeway, ranks as a world's wonder. These rocks project 300 feet out into the North channel near Bengore head, about eight miles from Portrush. The name originated from a legend that they were once part of a bridge or causeway over which giants passed between Ireland and Scotland. According to geologists this interesting formation has some natural connection with the basaltic formations on Staffa island, near the coast of Scotland, and is apparently the result of an upheaval of basalt during the Tertiary period. Ages of erosion have left a line of perpendicular cliffs 500 feet in height. The individual columns of the Giant's causeway, of which there are some 40,000, are cut as if by mathematical calculation and so closely are they connected that water cannot pass between them. It is hard for the spectator to realize they were not carved by human hands. Their height ranges from 15 to 36 feet and their diameter from 15 to 30 inches. Most of them are pentagonal and hexagonal.

First U. S.-China Trade

Immediately after the Revolution, in the year 1784, the famous Robert Morris and others fitted out the Empress of China to trade with China. The cargo consisted chiefly of gin-seng, and teas and other goods were brought back. When the American ship reached China the Chinese were told they were from America, and after some difficulty the Chinese finally understood the story and how they differed from the English that they knew of. "The New People" the Chinese called the Americans. The profits of the venture amounted to some $30,000, about one-quarter of the investment.

The Eternal

Over the triple doors of the Milan cathedral there are three inscriptions spanning the splendid arches. Over one is carved a wreath of roses: "All that which pleases is but for a moment." Over the other there is a sculptured cross, and underneath are the words: "All that which troubles is but for a moment." While underneath the great central entrance to the main aisle is the inscription: "That only is important which is eternal."

and during the discussion caused by this circumstance, Judge Mahoney commented that a judge is a lawyer who was a friend of some Governor. While this frankness will not meet with the approval of many members of the judiciary, people in general will say—"Ain't it the Truth!"

From present indications those who predict we are to have a long, severe winter, seem to have the weight of evidence on their side.

We commend the Newton Veterans Council for refusing to support the efforts of a West Newton youth who has been obtaining publicity by his activity in urging the prohibition of the scheduled appearance of Earl Browder at a meeting of the Newton Community Forum next February. At this meeting there will be a symposium on the respective merits (or demerits) of Communism, Fascism and Capitalism. Browder will advocate Communism. The youth who is attempting to serve as a self-appointed censor registered as a voter on June 24, 1936, upon reaching the age of 21, and became a candidate for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 3 in 1937.

The hunting season is with us again, and in many homes there will be mourning for a family friend whose fate is unknown.

This year, as in the past, scores of dogs will be stolen by tinhorn hunters who, with no dogs of their own, pick up any likely breed that comes along. These thieves keep their ill acquired hunting companions for a weekend of shooting, or until the season closes; then they abandon the animal. Few hunters, who stoop to stealing a dog, have the consideration to return the animal to the locality in which it was kidnapped. Once in a while one of these stolen dogs returns to its former home, footsore, thin, its coat matted with mud and burrs, but in most cases, owners search and wait in vain for the return of their pets.

There is supposed to be a code of decency among sportsmen, but obviously not all hunters are sportsmen.

Police have uncovered organized dog-napping gangs, who at this time of year are in full operation. They steal hunting dogs in one locality, then transport and sell them in another. I personally have known thieves so brazen that dogs kenneled in a wire enclosure were stolen. If you own a hunting dog, who is accustomed to running loose around the neighborhood, my advice would be to tie him up at home until the hunting season has passed.

A woman in Detroit suing for divorce asked for the custody of the family dog, declaring that her husband was ruining its character by taking it to beer gardens.

There are a few people who extol the beer drinking capacity of their dog, and it is true that most dogs will drink beer, and even some will lap up a stronger drink. It is cruel, however, to give a dog even a drop of intoxicating liquor, except for medicinal purposes.

Cocker Spaniels, the most popular breed of registered dog in this country, are also the current favorites in Great Britain. Wires rank second, with Scotties third. In the United States the Boston is second, but they are not mentioned in the first five ranking breeds of Great Britain. Fourth and fifth places in England go to Pekes, followed by Cairns.

It is interesting to note that the Beagle, which ranked fifth in the United States last year, with a total registration of 4390, was way down on the English list, with only 42 being placed in the English Stud Book.

There is one sure passenger, and he rides free, on every cattle boat that brings Guernseys to this, or any other country from the Isle of Guernsey and that passenger is a dog. Whenever Guernsey cows are shipped, they are accompanied by the dog which roamed their former pastures with them. It has been discovered that the dog has a quieting and soothing influence on the cattle while they are in transit. I often wondered what happened to the dog when the cattle finally reached their destination and were bought up by different individuals. I learn that always one of the buyers of the cows purchases the dog too.

Dogs are found in the stables of many well known race horses. The power our canine friends have over horses and cows is hard to explain, but it is a well known fact that their temperament is influenced when a dog shares their living quarters with them.

A small white Spitz dog wildly upset the usual routine of the police and an emergency hospital in Los Angeles. An elderly man collapsed on the street while walking his dog. When the police arrived, the dog refused to allow them to touch his master, but when the ambulance came, he stood aside to let the attendants lift the unconscious man into the automobile—then he jumped into the machine after them and rode to the hospital.

He was barred from entering the hospital door. After waiting on the step a few minutes he disappeared. It wasn't long before nurses and attendants on the third floor were startled to see the animal dashing wildly down the corridor and through the door of the ward where his master lay. Hospital attendants allowed him to stay until his master was discharged two days later, but added to the bill was the cost of repairing a broken window pane. The dog in his anxiety to reach his owner's side had jumped through a cellar window.

Answer: A dog under twelve months of age is considered a puppy. Question: What is the best method to teach a dog not to jump up on people? I have tried stepping on his back paws but it doesn't seem to do any good.—L. P.

Answer: When a dog jumps up, take his front paws in your hands and walk him backwards. Do this every time he leaps up. I have found that this method works, when others have failed.

Two Men Injured When Tire Bursts

As Wilbur Cooney of 61 West Pine st., Auburndale, was inflating an automobile tire at a gasoline filling station at 2095 Commonwealth ave., last Friday afternoon, after he had repaired it, a defect in the rim caused the tire to burst. Flying pieces of metal cut Cooney's face, and also caused cuts on the face and left leg of Blair Cossaboom of Winona st., Auburndale, who had brought the tire to be repaired. Both Cooney and Cossaboom were taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance.

Claim Driver Drunk, License Revoked

G. Bradford Leighton, 23, of 24 Windsor rd., Wellesley Hills, was arrested early Tuesday morning at Newton Centre sq. by Patrolman David Cummings on charges of drunkenness and driving a car while under the influence of liquor. The arrest was made when Leighton stopped his car and inquired of Cummings where he could find some lunch room. According to the police it is the third time that young Leighton had been arrested for drunken driving, and his license to drive had been revoked. He was arraigned in the Newton court on Tuesday and his case was continued to December 15.

Those who passed the test included the following:

Probation For Stock Swindler

John Ford of New York City, recently released from Atlanta Federal prison after serving 2 years of a sentence of 3 to 5 years, appeared in the Middlesex Superior Court on Monday to answer charges brought against him by Newton police. He pleaded guilty to the larceny of $900 in money from Mrs. S. P. McDonald, a teacher at Lasell Seminary in Auburndale, and of $700 in stock from Miss Anna O'Connell of Cabot st., Newtonville. He obtained the money and stocks from the two women in 1935 to invest for them. The stock was later recovered in New York by a telephone company representative. On his promise to make restitution to Mrs. McDonald at the rate of $25 per month, Ford was placed on probation by Judge Gray. Austin Montgomery, also accused with Ford in the two cases of larceny, is now serving a sentence at Atlanta for using the mails to defraud.

In Court For Not Paying Employees

Lewis Curtis of 333 Commonwealth ave., Newton Center, was arraigned in the Newton court last Friday charged with owing $810 to three persons who had been employed by him: $192 of that amount to Mary Haverly, a domestic; $360 to Theodore Veken and $264 to Philomena Veken. The latter two are trainers of racing pigeons. Breeding and racing homing pigeons has been a hobby of Curtis for years. Curtis told Judge Mayberry that his income has been tied up by litigation. The case was continued until February 17 on condition that Curtis pay each of his former employees $25 per month on what is owed them.

Chimney Fire at West Newton House

Saturday night about 11:10 Patrolman Barr and Lynch observed a chimney afire at the home of Francis Juggins, 1820 Washington st., West Newton. They notified the occupants and pulled an alarm from Box 471. Mrs. Juggins had been ill with pneumonia but it was not necessary for her to leave the house. The blaze was extinguished before much damage resulted.

Licenses to board infants were issued to Mrs. Cora Evans, 14 Prospect st., West Newton, and Mrs. Isabel Lynch, 11 Orchard st., Newton.

Dr. Harold D. Chope, health officer, presented his monthly report on communicable diseases, and Alexander Robertson, milk inspector, submitted his report on examination of milk.

Says Democracy Hinges on Cities

Newton entertained a successful son on Sunday when Mayor Harold H. Burton of Cleveland was the speaker at the community forum in the high school auditorium. Describing new horizons in city government, he listed problems of municipal administration and gave the current solutions adopted in Cleveland. He said, "The critical problem of democracy and its survival lies in the metropolitan areas. In whatever metropolitan area we live, we owe it to our community and to ourselves to make democracy work there."

Mayor Burton listed crime prevention, welfare, labor relations, taxation, housing and recreation as particular urban problems.

The WPA furnishes the most serious potential problem, he said, and warned that chaotic collapse of government would follow any sudden suspension of WPA expenditures.

The speaker pointed to new problems of such magnitude that city government is forced to rely on state facilities, and he urged that real estate be protected from sudden tax demands by city government and that the state be recognized as a collecting agency able to levy special sales taxes in behalf of municipalities.

Mayor Burton said that recent political history in Cleveland shows the ability of independent voters to control the policies of their own city in disregard of strong party machines and of national disputes.

Meeting to Protest Against Warehouse

On Saturday night, December 10, at 8 o'clock, a public meeting will be held at Stearns School Hall, Nonantum, protesting against the erection of a warehouse by the G & S Paper Company on Watertown st., Nonantum, on a vacant lot which is between the Stearns School and Watertown st. It is contended that the building will create a hazard to the safety of children attending the school and also the parish school of St. Jean de Evangeliste because of the trucks which will enter and leave it. Some weeks ago the Board of Aldermen granted a permit for a 2 car garage in the building, but later rescinded that vote when a protest was received from Rev. Joseph Robichaud of St. Jean's parish and other Nonantum residents. At the last meeting of the Board of Aldermen, the permit for the garage was again granted.

Health Board Passes Budget For Next Year

A budget of $74,555 for the Newton Health Department for the year 1939 was approved by the Board of Health at its final meeting of the year last night.

The budget will be submitted to Mayor Edwin O. Childs, who will be asked to recommend to the Board of Aldermen next year that the appropriations be passed. Included in the total is the sum of $30,000 for hospitalization of communicable disease.

The Board last night denied the application of the Hillside Dairies of Marlboro for a permit to sell milk in Newton.

Licenses to board infants were issued to Mrs. Cora Evans, 14 Prospect st., West Newton, and Mrs. Isabel Lynch, 11 Orchard st., Newton.

Dr. Harold D. Chope, health officer, presented his monthly report on communicable diseases, and Alexander Robertson, milk inspector, submitted his report on examination of milk.

Salvation Army Starts Fund Drive

On Monday the Salvation Army Newton Sponsoring Committee opened its annual maintenance appeal in Newton where it is hoped to raise $5,000. The campaign is under the chairmanship of J. Weston Allen, former attorney general of Massachusetts, with William H. Cahill, of the Newton Trust Company, as treasurer.

There is a hope in the minds and hearts of the workers to put Newton over the top in a very few days. To this end five official collectors went to work early Monday. They are dressed in the Salvation Army uniform, wear official badges and carry credentials signed by Mr. Allen. The collectors are Reuben Bursey, J. H. Roberts, Ernest Stowe, Wesley Winsor and H. A. Clarke.

In a letter written to hundreds of men and women in the Newtons, Mr. Allen urged a thorough co-operation with the sponsoring committee and donations so that the work of the Salvation Army may go on in its broad sense.

His letter, in part, read: "As we know, the Salvation Army has established an impressive record of achievement. Its splendidly organized and effective work in supplying the physical needs of the destitute and in administering to their spiritual life is too well known to need further mention."

"Your aid in providing for the work in our city will be greatly appreciated by the Army and members of the committee."

Included on the Newton committee are the Rev. Edward T. Sullivan, honorary chairman of the Greater Boston campaign committee, as well as Mrs. Francis J. Flagg, head of the women's division of that organization. For years, Mr. Allen, chairman of the Newton work, has been a member of the advisory board of the Greater Boston Salvation Army and has first-hand information as to the work of the Army and its need of money to carry on its program.

90 Days In Jail For Auto Thieves

In the Newton court on Saturday Judge Mayberry sentenced Bernard McKenna, 19, of Wentworth st., Dorchester; and Stephen Polaski, 20, of West 3rd st., South Boston to 90 days in Billeca prison for stealing a car owned by Roger Taylor of Arapahoe rd., West Newton. The two youths were caught in Westfield the preceding day by Patrolman Donald of that town after a 5 mile chase toward Springfield. Saturday morning after the pair had been sentenced, word was received from Westfield that an automatic pistol had been found in the snow where the pair had abandoned the stolen car while being pursued. In court on Saturday the mothers of the two car thieves pleaded that they be shown clemency, but Judge Mayberry commented that if the pair kept going unpunished for their offence, they would get into more serious trouble.

Captain Goode of the Newton police, by means of the serial number on the automatic pistol, traced the weapon, and found that it had been in a car owned by Henry Rankin of Ellison rd., Dorchester, which was stolen several weeks ago. When the car was recovered, the pistol was not in it. Dorchester police will take victims of recent holdups in that section to Billeca prison to see if they can identify McKenna and Polaski.

Two Cars Stolen And Recovered

A car owned by Florence Brady of 18 Putnam st., West Newton, was stolen from Hunter st. on Wednesday night and found abandoned in Martineboro early yesterday morning. The owner of the car did not know it was stolen until informed by the police.

A car owned by Mrs. Fred Hawkins was stolen while parked on Magnolia ave., Newton, on Wednesday night, and was found abandoned in Brighton a few hours later.

Planning Board Would Have City Buy B & A Land

The Newton Planning Board has recommended that the city acquire the long strip of land extending from Lewis ter. bridge at Newton toward Harvard st., and that this land be taken for park and public purposes. This recommendation of the Planning Board was made in connection with a recommendation that a petition recently presented to the Board of Aldermen by the Boston & Albany Railroad asking that the land be changed from private residence to business zone be denied. A public hearing was held on this petition on November 30 by the Claims & Rules Committee of the Aldermen at City Hall and a number of citizens appeared to protest against the asked for zoning change. Among them was Rev. John Sheridan, pastor of Our Lady's Church, who presented a petition of protest signed by 2000 of his parishioners. No representatives of the B & A was present at the hearing.

The land in question is owned at its easterly portion by the Metropolitan Coal Company, and there is 85 or 90 feet in depth. It was abandoned as a coal yard some years ago. The strip owned by the B & A is about 85 deep where it abuts the site of the former Brackett Coal yard, and narrows rapidly until it comes to a point at its westerly end. When Washington st. was widened and the B & A tracks depressed 44 years ago, the coal yard was the only private parcel of land not taken between Newton and West Newton, except for the narrow strip owned by the railroad. The latter land never was used for any purpose since, except as the location of a signal and switch tower. A couple of times in the past 15 years a few enterprising individuals, seeking to make a nice profit, endeavored to obtain a permit for a gasoline filling station on this land, opposite Crafts st. Owners of nearby properties, and the then pastor of Our Lady's Church opposed the attempts to bring business into the property, and the petitions for the gasoline stations were promptly turned down. A few months ago a petition was presented to the Aldermen in behalf of Philip Winkler of Boston asking for a permit for a gasoline station on the B & A land West of Crafts st. Later the petition from the railroad was presented asking for the change of zone.

For years parishioners of Our Lady's Church, pastors of that church, including the late Rev. Lawrence Slatery, and Rev. John Sheridan, the present pastor, have contended that the city should acquire the former coal yard property, which was an eyesore because of the dilapidated old buildings there, and because all other parcels of property for two miles along Washington st. had been taken when the street was widened 44 years ago, except the narrow B & A strip referred to here. It was argued that the parochial schools of Our Lady's Parish, elementary and high schools have during a period of 45 years saved millions of dollars for the City of Newton and its taxpayers by educating children, numbering some years over 1000, and the city in return should remove the eyesore opposite the church property. Last year a public hearing was held on the matter of condemning the abandoned buildings on the former coal yard property, and as a result the structures were razed. Since then agitation for the acquisition of that property by the city has increased. The attempt to change the railroad land, West of the coal yard property from residence to business zone, was at definite cross-purposes with the years' old endeavors of Our Lady's parish. The recommendation of the Planning Board is in support of the desire of Our Lady's parish and would put an end, if adopted by the Board of Aldermen and the Mayor, to further efforts of anyone attempting to profit by having the land in question placed in a business zone.

At the hearing on Nov. 30, in addition to the proposal to establish a gasoline filling station on the land, it was

Health Report For November

The reports of the Newton Health Department for the month of November show that during that period 51 deaths occurred in the city; 25 males and 26 females. Among the causes of death were—cancer, 7; heart diseases, 15; diabetes, 1; leukemia, 1; Hodgkin's disease, 1; Parkinson's disease, 1; cerebral hemorrhage, 8; arteriosclerosis, 2; pneumonia, 3; nephritis, 1. Among communicable diseases reported were whooping cough, 71 cases; chicken pox, 18; lobar pneumonia, 4; measles, 2; mumps, 2; scarlet fever, 9; pulmonary T. B., 4. The all too many cases of persons bitten by dogs in Newton continued during the month. Eighteen cases of dog-bites were reported.

Fire In Cafe At Nonantum

A fire in the cellar of the Columbus Cafe, 398 Watertown st., Nonantum, was discovered shortly before midnight on Wednesday by Clement Leone who conducts the place. He notified Engine 8 across the street, and that outfit, together with Engine 1 and Ladder 3 responded. The blaze was confined to the cellar. It apparently started in some rubbish.

The Claims & Rules Committee of the Board of Aldermen at the meeting of the Board next Monday night will recommend that the petition be given leave to withdraw. It also stated that it was planned to have a restaurant there. Objections were made that the bringing of business to the narrow strip along this part of Washington st. would add to the traffic hazards of the street, already with the worst record in the city from the standpoint of traffic safety. Father Sheridan also called attention to the fact that since the old buildings at the coal yard were torn down, many children risk their lives by taking a short cut across the railroad tracks at this place.

Sunbeam Chats

I told you I had a hard time about sucking my thumb. I finally stopped that but I tried out several things the District Nurse called had habits. One thing she called temper tantrums. One day mother said I couldn't have her watch to play with and so I screamed as loud as I could and kicked. She never said boo, and paid no attention to me. I tried it once more another day and then thought it didn't get me anywhere and wasn't any fun. See you next week.

Songs of spirit, humor, and sentiment, mingled with spirituals and carols, make up its splendid program for the December concert. The Highland Glee Club will sing a composition by a Newton pianist, Mrs. Kathryn Ford, whose "Four Winds" has been recently arranged for men's voices.

Rotary Club

Julius Warren, superintendent of the Newton schools, who has charge of the Rotary programs for December, was happy in his choice of speaker on Monday when his old friend and fellow teacher, Mr. John Scully, formerly superintendent of the Newton schools, gave a most interesting and helpful talk on "Personality." Witty anecdotes, mostly from his experience as a school master, captivated his audience and drove home the points he wished to make. "What makes a person attractive," he asked. The answer usually is, "Oh, attractiveness is a gift of the gods, an intangible thing, hard to explain." "Yes," said Mr. Scully, "but that is only half the truth. Personality can be developed and persons with the greatest physical handicaps have by persistent practice made most attractive individuals of themselves."

The speaker emphasized the importance of play in each life and urged upon every one to have a hobby. Then, we must develop cordiality and sympathy, and we must be appreciative. And don't forget loyalty. Scully added, rotarians who are not loyal to their club had better get out. Then, using the late Governor John D. Long as an example, Mr. Scully demonstrated the importance of being democratic and sociable. Furthermore, we should ask ourselves, Are we charitable? Yes, we say, but so often our charity is merely perfunctory. Genuine personal service is what counts.

There were seven guests present from other clubs, and a questionaire before the address brought out the fact that four members of the club had not missed a Rotary meeting in ten years and one had a perfect record for nine years. Of charter members four were present at Monday's meeting. The club is now fifteen years old.

LASELL JUNIOR COLLEGE

At Tuesday Assembly the students were entertained by Mr. Paul Clemens, Master Puppeteer and Friday Mr. Laurence B. Fletcher gave a talk on "Preserving Beautiful and Historic Places in Massachusetts."

The resident students of Woodland Park Hall were at home to their friends on Thursday afternoon. The Lasell Dramatic Club gave "Dear Brutus" on Saturday evening at Winslow Hall. The play was directed by Miss Ruth Goodwin of the faculty. The stage settings were made by Miss Spoor's class in Stage Design.

At the Christmas Vesper Service on Sunday the Lasell Glee Club will sing Christmas Carols and Dr. Phillips Osgood of Boston will be the guest speaker.

A New, Glamorous World Cruise

With all the world to choose from the Cunard White Star Line naturally selected a route for its 1939 Franconia World Cruise that will be completed in 170 days. Mr. Kimball, who is well known and promises to make a good showing at the polls next Tuesday. A good deal of hard feeling has been excited between the two sides. The leaders of the Ellison side charge Mr. Kimball with stultifying himself by accepting the candidacy after he had pledged himself, as they assert, not to oppose Mayor Ellison. Mr. Kimball's friends charge the other side with withdrawing the Mayor's name, then tried to get all possible opponents out of the way by a sharp trick. What a pity it is that mud slinging should be considered a necessary part of the campaign. The presence of an opposition ticket, strongly backed, cannot fail to have a healthful influence on local politics, which are run too much in ruts.

Neither of the Protestant churches at Upper Falls read Governor Ben Butler's Thanksgiving Day proclamation, but Rev. E. B. Barry at the Baptist church made comments on it in a way that didn't please the Governor's friends, and a couple in the congregation became disgusted and left the church. Someone pasted a copy of the proclamation on the church door Wednesday evening. At the meeting of the Common Council on Monday night Councilman Powers read a letter from Otis N. Howland of Skinner Hill, stating that street lights had been put out at 10:30 last Friday night, one of the darkest nights of the season. The street committee was asked to investigate the way the contractors are performing the duty of lighting and extinguishing the lights.

NEWTON IN THE PAST

55 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, Dec. 1, 1883

At the meeting of the School Committee on Wednesday evening Miss Emily Dyer of Newton was appointed a teacher in the Bigelow School on probation.

Never has there been a more beautiful Thanksgiving than this year. The churches drew their usual small congregations, but the home celebrations and the dinners showed no decline in New England's great festival.

The Newton Y. M. C. A. made 65 poor Newton families happy on Thanksgiving with supplies for dinner. The expenses were about $150 and the association wishes to thank those who contributed funds and provisions.

The blowing down of the long disused icehouse on Cherry st., West Newton, near the Waltham line is a source of satisfaction to the public as it has been a rendezvous for tramps and rowdies.

The citizens' caucus called on Friday evening by members of both political parties who are opposed to the present method of running city affairs on party lines, nominated Alderman J. Wesley Kimball of Newtonville for Mayor, and the Republican ticket for the other city offices with a few changes. The meeting was a lively one for the most part, good natured and enthusiastic. D. W. Farquhar called the meeting to order and said that the large number present is evidence of interest in city affairs. Charles W. Shepard was elected chairman. D. W. Farquhar presented the name of J. Wesley Kimball for Mayor. He alluded to the peculiar history of the contest. He said Mayor Ellison had informed his friends that he would not run again, thereupon two of the Aldermen were asked to sign a complimentary petition asking him to accept a third term. They signed it, the Mayor then consented to run again, and his friends claim that these two Aldermen are barred out from running against him. That action is tainted with what is not honest politics. The nomination was received with cheers, and was seconded by J. W. Stover. Some objection being made to nominating, by acclamation, Alderman Edwin O. Childs demanded that anyone who had anything against Alderman Kimball should speak out. He said—"There has been altogether too much insinuation in this campaign." On motion of E. A. Paddock a hand vote was taken. Mr. Kimball received 170 votes, Lucius G. Pratt 4, Vernon Carpenter 3, Charles Robinson, Jr. 2. On motion of George Pike the vote was made unanimous.

City politics in Newton are no longer to be of the tranquil, cut and dried description that has been the rule the past few years. The citizens' organization with the name of J. Wesley Kimball at the head of its ticket, set well underway and promises to make a good showing at the polls next Tuesday. A good deal of hard feeling has been excited between the two sides. The leaders of the Ellison side charge Mr. Kimball with stultifying himself by accepting the candidacy after he had pledged himself, as they assert, not to oppose Mayor Ellison. We have nothing to say about the Chinese, whether they go or stay, but there is another nationality rapidly increasing on all our streets; a very unsightly race which Newton would be glad to expel. We refer to the poles, brought in to care for the new electric service.

Powers' Paragraphs

In the Boston Herald on Monday was a page-width photograph showing a three weeks' accumulation of ash, rubbish and refuse in a residential section between the South End and Roxbury, due to the failure of the Boston Street Department to make its regular collections of refuse and rubbish. It is not difficult to understand why residents of Newton, Brookline, Milton, Winchester, and other well-conducted suburbs of Boston, do not want their communities annexed to the big city.

Next week a new activity will be started by the City of Newton—a preschool clinic that will be conducted at City Hall under the direction of the Health Department. An expert pediatrician, with the assistance of a dental hygienist, nutritionist, and nurses of the Health Department, will examine youngsters between the ages of 1½ and 5 years, and give advice to mothers on the care of the little ones. For many years Newton has had physicians and nurses guarding the health of our school children. Now, another step is taken, and the health of children under school age is to be protected, so that they may arrive at school age physically fit. Times have changed. When the writer first went to school in Newton, and for many years after, no physicians came to schools to examine children, and there were no school nurses. A couple of years later, however, a "nurse" was appointed to visit the schools. She was not, however, concerned with the health of the children, and her title was somewhat misleading. Her duty was to examine the heads of children whom teachers observed habitually scratching their craniums. She should have been more properly called an inspector, or a "hunter." But, she never had to examine our red head. Our mother used to wash it thoroughly every week.

An old Newton Centre resident complained last week about the use of the flagstaff at the village green there for the display of flags advertising drives for philanthropic purposes. He said that flagstaff is the War Memorial of Newton Centre, therefore sacred, and should be used only for the display of the national flag.

"Vox Populi" Silent
If you should get a notion that although this is December something seems to be missing and you can't for the life of you think what it may be that I can tell. I certainly hope you are lazy or even slightly bewitched so the fun will be mine. Every body enjoys the lofty attitude of a teacher and pushing intelligence along. And that is why I would shake an admonitory finger and say, "You've forgotten already that last year Newton did away with annual municipal elections so we skip 1938 and don't vote again for city fathers until 1939!" The next thing is to determine the success of biennial city elections. Seems to me it will be proved whenever you hear it said, "Well, thank heaven we didn't have the nuisance of going to the polls again this year."

Marks That Don't Count
It wasn't so long ago that we received the new editions of the big and little telephone directories to which Newton subscribers are entitled. Now comes the question, how long may we expect to keep the covers free from pencil marks, providing, of course, the books are not mislaid. The temptation to put writing, scrawls, etc., on the cover of a telephone directory is something only a few noble souls are able to resist.

Some covers are free from anything of the kind and that indicates, without doubt, a well-ordered household. But I have seen many a directory that possessed a wealth of fantastic pencillings. It must be that there are people who no sooner come in contact with a telephone book than they are seized with an impulse to draw. Possibly delay in putting through the call, or waiting for a non-busy line on the other end invites the artistic instinct to display itself.

The other day I came across a large telephone book with about every kind of design in pencil on the cover. That must have been a home of constant telephone users. There were revealed numbers, initials, clock dials, wheels, plain and fancy circles, triangles, squares, sketches of human profiles, animals, ships and no end of things—none of them well executed and most of them very crude. I trust that no one will be discouraged from continuing to draw whenever and wherever they can find a telephone book and a pencil. On the contrary I would encourage them as I feel confident it steadies the nerves.

Couldn't Discourage Him
It is not infrequently that I am asked advice by those young people who would embark on a literary career. Whenever they do I correct their first error by pointing out that newspaper work is one thing and writing novels, poetry and plays quite another. But I would say to all that whether it be news writing or books, defeatism should have no place in one's formula. Industry, patience and willingness to keep plugging in

This Keeping-warm Business

On days when the weather is particularly sharp it is good fun, if you have time for it, to observe the different methods people employ to keep themselves warm or somewhere near approaching that condition. Not you understand, the clothing they wear but the physical effort expended. I think the most common of all is pinching one's own ears. Perhaps I'm wrong and should give first place to the act of running one hand over the other or rubbing both together.

I think one has to be pretty cold to swing one's arms in a sort of amorous windmill movement. I know that drivers on slow moving vehicles usually resort to this and I suspect it is done only when absolutely necessary. Stamping the feet, I believe, represents another extreme as it demands and consumes vitality. There are those who think that dancing about, minus music, keeps them from freezing and I wouldn't wonder if they achieved some benefit. I suppose I could go on further but prudence suggests otherwise. As likely as not I may be telling all this to folks who either know as well as I do how to keep warm or are going South for the winter and need not worry about it.

Coasting, Then and Now

Laugh if you wish at the horse and buggy days but it was a great deal safer to coast on the public streets when Old Dobbin was drawing either a sleigh or a four-wheel conveyance. A horse could be pulled up short and collision avoided. Who dares pretend that it is possible to check the progress of a motor vehicle in any such manner, especially when the surface of the road is slippery?

Please don't spoil my theorizing by saying that children should not coast on public streets anyway—I know they shouldn't with conditions such as they are today. I wish they might if they could get the fun out of it that we did years ago. The sport we derived from the double-runner was fully as thrilling as skiing, I'll say. And I'll back belly-bump against tobogganing any time. Not that the old times were any better, but to me they were equally good. I think we worked a little harder for our fun but we had plenty of it.

Motorcycle Squad No Longer Active

The motorcycle squad of the Newton Police Department which for the past 2 years has been an important factor in reducing automobile accidents and fatalities in Newton, ceased to function on Wednesday and the seven men in the squad were assigned to other duties. The squad consisted of nine men until a few weeks ago. Four motorcycles were operated on day and night shifts by eight men, and one man was on relief duty. Then one of the overworked, small motorcycles was destroyed by fire, and no action was taken to replace it. The next episode in the elimination of Newton's police motorcycle squad was the refusal of the Board of Aldermen at the meeting on November 28 to appropriate $200 additional asked for maintenance of the police department's automobiles. The Board had appropriated $6500 for this purpose in the budget, and Chief Hughes had reported that he had been informed by Serg. Mechanic Cullen that up to the last of November $6200 of that sum had been expended. Inasmuch as the average monthly expenditure for the care of the police automobiles and motorcycles has been $500, in order to keep the police cars in operation, Chief Hughes decided that the use of the motorcycles must be discontinued temporarily.

Last year the automobile division of the police department expended $5771 for automobile maintenance. For this year $7525 was asked, but the Board cut this figure to $5500, and an additional $1000 was later appropriated. If the Aldermen will appropriate $200 at the meeting of the Board next Monday night, the motorcycles will probably be again in operation on Newton's streets to safeguard traffic.

Recommend River Road Extension

The Metropolitan Planning Board in its annual report, issued on Wednesday will recommend to the Legislature among other highway projects, the continuation of the Metropolitan parkway along the South side of Charles River from the Galen st. bridge at Watertown to Bridge st. at Nonantum, thence along the river to the Waltham line, and continuing along the river in Waltham to Weston st. in that town. This extension of the river parkway has been urged for several years, and last year Representative Leo Landry of Watertown was active in this matter.

Newton Youth's Car Kills Boston Woman

An automobile driven by Robert D. Hurley, 21, of Chestnut st., West Newton, was alleged to have hit and killed Margaret McLeod, 25, employed as a domestic in the Back Bay, as the young woman was crossing Commonwealth ave. near Sherborn st., Boston, early Thursday morning. Hurley was arrested by Boston police and arraigned in the Roxbury court yesterday. He pleaded not guilty to charges of driving while under the influence of liquor, driving so as to endanger the lives of the public, and manslaughter. His case was continued until December 21.

No Signal, Left Turn, $5 Fine

Herbert Barbour, 21, of 1081 Washington st., West Newton, was fined $5 by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court on Wednesday for making a left turn without giving a signal. Patrolman Joe Smith testified that on November 18 Barbour made a left turn with a truck he was driving at Beacon st. and Avalon rd., and collided with a car Smith was driving. Barbour testified that he did give a signal by extending his arm, and that he had stated to two young men who were riding with him on the truck—"It's kind of foggy this morning, and he won't be able to see my arm, but I'll put it out." Barbour's companions substantiated his testimony, but Judge Mayberry found him guilty. Barbour at first took an appeal, but later withdrew it.

2 Years in Prison For Newton Man

Franklin Robbins, who had been residing on Wesley st., Newton, was found guilty in the Federal Court at Boston on Tuesday of having represented himself on eight occasions as a U. S. Secret Service agent, and obtaining money by so doing. He was charged with larceny of $325.10, and of forgery of checks to the amount of $367. Judge Ford sentenced him to serve two years in a Federal prison. Robbins was also accused of stealing a typewriter and an automobile heater, and will face these charges when his Federal sentence will have been completed.

6 Months In Jail For Stealing Ring

Wallace Lowther, 42, of Ash st., New Bedford, was sentenced by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court on Tuesday to serve 6 months in Bilerica prison for stealing a diamond ring from Mrs. Elizabeth Dixwell of Bonwood st., Newtonville. He appealed. The ring, valued at $400, was recovered in a Boston pawnshop. Lowther, who lived for a time in Newton, was recently arrested in Boston and turned over to New Bedford police on a charge of larceny by passing worthless checks.

Mr. Doten, New Manager Atwood's Camera Shop

Mr. Nathaniel M. Doten of Newton Highlands assumed his duties as manager of Atwood's Newtonville Camera Shop last Monday.

Mr. Doten has been a resident of Newton for many years and is well known in photographic circles in Boston and this city. He began taking pictures 40 years ago when cameras and equipment had not attained the perfection of modern times. For the past several years he has followed the craft of commercial photographer, and many notable photographs carry his by-line. Mr. Doten is prominent in scout work and teaches photography to both boy and girl scouts. He is merit badge examiner in photography for the Boy Scouts. He is also associated with local Community Chest activities.

The Newtonville branch of Atwood's Camera Shops was opened last October. The demands on it by Newton residents made it necessary to place the store under the management of a man experienced in all branches of photography.

Pre-School Clinic Starts Dec. 13th

The clinic for children between the ages of 18 months and 5 years will start at Newton City Hall on December 13. It will be open on Tuesdays and Thursdays of each week and the first week will be for children from the Newton Corner district. Parents who desire their children to be examined must make an appointment with the Health Department. It is estimated that about 20 children will be examined each week, and Dr. Chope, Health Officer, states that the purpose of the clinic is educational and not medical. It will provide health supervision for children of pre-school age, and parents will be given advice on nutrition, dental care and habit training. Its purpose is to reduce the number of children who enter schools with physical defects.

The Board of Health on Monday appointed Dr. Margaret Glendy of Eliot Memorial rd., Newton as physician in charge of the clinic. She will be assisted by Phillips Quimby, dental hygienist, Charlotte Raymond, nutritionist, and nurses of the Health Department. She is the wife of Dr. Robert Glendy. She graduated from the medical school of the University of Virginia in 1930 and later served as an interne in Pediatrics at Mass. General Hospital, and also as a resident physician there. She is now a member of the staff of the Baker Memorial Hospital and Mass. General Hospital, and a member of the courtesy staff of the Children's Hospital.

Bunco Centre Man In Cigarette Deal

Alfred Fontecchio who runs a market at 386 Langley rd., Newton Centre was uncoined out of $100 on Monday night by three men who sold him 150 cartons of cigarettes at the reduced wholesale price of $100. Fontecchio told the police that the trio came to his store on Monday afternoon, said they were wholesale tobaccoists, and would give him the cigarettes at cut rates. Fontecchio ordered 150 cartons, to be delivered at his home, 410 Langley rd. About 6 o'clock the trio returned, and Fontecchio went with them to his home where he found three large boxes had been delivered. He paid $100 and asked for a receipt, but the "outsider" men jumped into an automobile and vanished. Examining his bargain, Fontecchio found that the cartons contained paper and blocks of wood.

An outward freight train from Boston ran into a carriage owned by J. T. Hill the Newtonville livery station keeper on Tuesday afternoon, and the vehicle was completely demolished. The driver of the carriage drove onto the Walnut st. crossing

Refuse Permit For Oak Hill Cemetery

The Newton Board of Health on Monday night refused to grant a permit for the use of the Esty farm at Oak Hill as a cemetery. Some months ago the trustees of Holyhood-St. Joseph's Cemetery petitioned for a permit to use the Esty land as an addition to St. Joseph's Cemetery. It was contended that over a long period of years former Newton residents had been buried in Holyhood Cemetery, Brookline and St. Joseph's Cemetery, West Roxbury; both of which are controlled by the same corporation. There is no Catholic cemetery in Newton.

The land had been used as a gravel pit by the Highland Sand & Gravel Company for the past several years. Two public hearings were held on the petition. The Oak Hill Improvement Association opposed the proposed use of the land, and a protest was made by an official of the Brookline Water Department. The Newton Water Commissioner, Joseph J. Murray, stated he would abide by the decision of the Board of Health. The State Health Department stated that in its opinion the use of the land for cemetery purposes would not contaminate Newton's water supply, most of which comes from the Charles River not far from the location of the proposed cemetery.

The Newton Board of Health in unanimously refusing to grant the permit, states that individually and as a group they have carefully examined the land in question. They state that because much of the land adjoins the Charles River, and that the area in its present condition contains swampland, excavated hollows which are filled with pools of water, and is otherwise unsuited for burial purposes, that it would not grant a permit until such time as the land will have been properly filled in and graded. The Board of Health also states that on legal advice it finds that it cannot grant a provisional permit, based on the condition that the area would be properly filled and graded.

Fined $35 For Drunken Driving

C. Spurgeon Blair of 1341 Walnut st., Newton Highlands was fined $35 by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court on Monday for driving a car while under the influence of liquor. He was arrested on November 26 at Nantum by Patrolman James Jenkins.

Ralph Coburn of 10 Livermore rd., Wellesley was arrested about 7 a. m. Monday morning at Beacon st., Newton Centre by Patrolman Cummings on charges of drunkenness and driving a car while under the influence of liquor. The policeman's attention was attracted to Coburn when he saw the car driven by the latter traveling along Beacon st. with one tire missing, and another tire flat.

Fined $20 For Hit-Run Driving

Thomas Quinn, 23, of 61 Cherry st., West Newton, was fined $20 by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court on Wednesday for leaving the scene of an accident without revealing his identity.

On Nov. 24 a car driven by Quinn hit a car parked on Denny st., Joseph Street, 16, of 238 Nevada st., Newtonville, was seated in the car that was hit, and claimed that his side was injured. Patrolmen Lyons and Greeley testified that Quinn told them that he did not think anyone was in the parked car, and he did not stop because he believed the damage to the car didn't amount to much.

Old Name for New W. Newton School

The new school on Derby st., West Newton, over the naming of which there has been so much controversy, will bear the name of the old school which it replaces. Mayor Childs on Wednesday made the practical and sensible decision to have the new school called the Franklin School, the name which has been borne for over 60 years by the old school on River st. When it was first decided to build the new school, a group of citizens who had attended the old Franklin School requested that the same name be given to the new school. Later, a group of veterans asked that the new school be named the Reilly School, to honor a West Newton youth who was killed while serving with the A. E. F. in France. Then the School Committee voted to recommend that the new school be named the U. G. Wheeler School in honor of a former superintendent of Newton schools. A couple of weeks ago some friends of the late Charles E. Hatfield asked that the new school be named after the former Mayor.

A large percentage of Newton citizens will agree that Mayor Childs has done the right thing in continuing the name of the Franklin School. It is an illustrious name, made famous by one of the most outstanding citizens in the history of this country, and the thousands of Newton citizens who attended the old Franklin School during its more than 60 years of existence, will approve the Mayor's choice.

Gypsies Take $300 From New Woman

Florence A. LaFleur, a nurse, of 350 Tremont st., Newton, complained to the Cambridge police on Wednesday that she had been robbed of $300 by two gypsy women who had a fortune-telling studio in Cambridge. According to the police report, the woman went to the fortune tellers two weeks previous, and handed them her pocketbook containing the money so that they could cast a "spell" on it. They handed her back the pocketbook, supposedly with the money still in it, and told her to sleep on it each night for two weeks. She followed instructions and then opened the pocketbook to find the money gone and a roll of paper in its place. When she went to Cambridge she found that the gypsies had also gone.

57 Day So. America Cruise for $570

An ocean voyage around the continent of South America taken in a modern steamship with its comforts and safety has been the goal of most experienced travelers, but until now the cost has precluded all but a comparative few from taking it. This winter, however, the Swedish American Line will conduct a cruise around South America in the modern motor-liner GRIPSHOLM, a ship of 18,000 tons which provides every comfort and luxury of ocean travel, and the rates for this remarkable cruise of 57 days are as low as $570. The cruise will leave New York on January 31 and will proceed to Nassau, Havana, through the Panama Canal and down the West coast of South America. Stops will be made at Callao in Peru, where a slide trip may be made to Lima and the High Andes; at Valparaiso, Chile, and at Puerto Montt, the gateway to the lovely Chilean Lake Region. Then through the Straits of Magellan with a stop at Punta Arenas and on to Buenos Aires, the most magnificent city in the Western Hemisphere. Other stops will be at Montevideo, the beautiful capital of Uruguay; Santos, Brazil and Rio de Janeiro, a city in an incredibly beautiful setting, where four days will be spent. The cruise will then proceed to Bahia, Brazil, and from there to the mighty Amazon and up that river for 90 miles to Para in the midst of tropical jungles. Passing Devil's Island the last stop on the cruise will be at Trinidad, a picturesque British colony with a Hindu aspect. The ship will arrive back in New York on March 28 after having cruised 15,000 miles. Full particulars of this cruise, and reservations may be obtained from the Newton Steamship Agency, 11 Centre ave., Newton; phone Newton North 4501.

mentation of Mr. Goodwin's is much more sensible than his action distributing car stickers recently, said stickers specifying 45 miles as the limit for driving on wet roads.

A couple of years ago or more, the Aldermen passed an ordinance forbidding all-night parking of automobiles on streets in this city. The police, despite repeated complaints, have not been enforcing this ordinance which was passed to eliminate a traffic hazard, and a handicap to the Street Department in clearing streets of snow. The latest instance of the failure of the police to perform their duty in this line, has been called to our attention the past week by three citizens. They informed us that automobiles have been parked all night on Mount Ida st., Newton, a narrow street on which is located a new apartment building where no provisions were made for off-street parking facilities, or for garages.

The investigation by Attorney General Dever on complaints made by the Mass. Federation of Taxpayers' Associations regarding awards of contracts for removal of damages allegedly caused to State properties by the hurricane, bogged down on Tuesday when the taxpayers organization notified the Attorney General that it was not prepared to proceed with its protest against the contracts to the Benjamin Foster Company of Philadelphia, some of which were awarded on a basis of cost plus 20 per cent. The people of Massachusetts are watching this investigation with more than ordinary interest. In late years they have been so increasingly burdened by taxes, that as a matter of self-preservation they must protect themselves against such extravagances as are alleged in the matter of the hurricane rehabilitation, especially when millions so taken from the people, were assessed because of an emergency caused by a catastrophe. If the complainants have facts from which a case can be proved, there should be no calcimining.

WINTHROP COFFIN

He lived for years in Auburndale, helped organize the Newton Street Railway and became its president. His funeral service was held on Thursday at the First Parish Church, Brookline, and burial was at Newburyport.

On December the 13th the Auburndale Review Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Wickliffe J. Spaulding, 429 Wolcott st., at 10 o'clock. The papers read will deal with "Science," continued from the last meeting. Mrs. J. G. Paterson will read a paper on "Telescope Progress"; Mrs. Edward P. Kelly one on "New Uses for Glass"; and Mrs. Mervyn J. Bailey one on "Madam Curie."

Auburndale Current Events Day

More and more interest is being shown in the meetings of the Current Events Group of the Auburndale Woman's Club. The December meeting was held on Friday, December 2, at the Auburndale Club House. The morning session was in charge of the Public Health committee, Mrs. Henry Keever, chairman. She had secured Dr. Harold Chope, Director of Public Health in Newton, and he told of the work which is being done both in Newton and throughout the State to combat syphilis and gonorrhea. He told his audience of the presence of the disease back as far as the days of Columbus, and the little that had been done up to the last few years to fight it, owing to the apathy and lack of interest. He commended the State Federation of Women's Clubs for the attitude it has taken, and he stated that the subject is being approached now on sound and scientific lines. A question period followed. At 12 o'clock there was an intermission for luncheon, coffee being served by the committee.

Mrs. Eldin Lynn, chairman of Literature, opened the afternoon session. Reports of the recent Book Fair were given by Mrs. Paul Tardivel, Mrs. Gwyn Hughes, and Mrs. Lynn. The first book to be reviewed was "Fanny Kemble," by Armstrong, and Mrs. Roy Miller gave her audience a glimpse into the life of this well-known actress.

A change was made in the selection of the second Book Review and the "Biography of Benjamin Franklin" was given by Mrs. Gwyn Hughes, instead of "Chevalier Jackson" as previously announced.

Mrs. Charles Valentine was in charge of the Play Reading, "Windows," by Galsworthy, which closed the program. Those taking the parts beside Mrs. Valentine were Mrs. Franklin Hoyt, Mrs. Albert Palmateer, Mrs. William Jarvis, Mrs. Louis Paddison, Mrs. Keith Parriss, Mrs. Gwyn Hughes and Mrs. Eldin Lynn. Savings Bank Life Insurance

Officials of the Newton Savings Bank have announced that their Savings Bank Life Insurance Department now has in force over two million dollars of Savings Bank Life Insurance—considered a remarkable achievement for this department which commenced operation on March 1, 1937. They also state that "the real significance of this 'two millions' is the service which has been rendered to our community, not by this bank alone, but by the united co-operation of every bank in Newton, together with the assistance of many public-spirited citizens.

"This large amount of 'over-the-counter' life insurance represents substantial savings to many residents over the so-called industrial (weekly premium) insurance policies, and it means that a large portion of the money saved in premiums has been made available to purchase more commodities. A large part of the funds paid as premiums on Savings Bank Life Insurance policies has been invested in mortgages in the City of Newton, thus helping Newton people to finance their homes and keeping Newton money in the community."

The Newton Savings Bank is one of 26 banks throughout the State which write Savings Bank Life Insurance, but all of the other banks in the city act as agencies where applications may be filed and premiums paid.

Newton W. C. T. U.

The meeting of the Newton W. C. T. U. was held on Thursday, December 1, in the Parish House of the First Baptist Church, Newton Centre. In the absence of the president, Mrs. William E. Birdsall, the meeting was conducted by Mrs. Sarah S. P. Stevens. The devotional services were led by Mrs. Hattie Shultz, after which Mrs. William E. Ferrin sang a solo, "In the Garden."

The speaker of the afternoon was the newly-elected State president of the W. C. T. U., Mrs. Lila D. Warren, whose subject was "The Effect of the State-wide Liquor Vote." A sentiment, she stated, is slowly being created against the use of liquor. In Berkshire County, out of thirty-two small towns, seven voted to continue dry. Education is greatly needed to inform the people of both sides of the question, she declared, and stated that J. Edgar Hoover says that crime and insanity have greatly increased since repeal. The revenue obtained from liquor is greatly offset by what it costs for prisons, the care of the insane and the diseased, as a result of intemperance. Sixty per cent of the accidents on the highways are caused by drunken driving. Mrs. Warren further said that if the adult population is educated in regard to the evils of intemperance the children will grow up with the right thought on this subject. She closed by reading an appropriate poem on "Who Does God's Work."

Following Mrs. Warren's address, tea was served. The hostesses were Mrs. Isaac Goddard and Mrs. George W. Barber.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

Dr. Samuel Macaulay Lindsay both entertained and enlightened his enthusiastic audience of several hundred members and guests at the meeting of the Newton Centre Woman's Club last Friday afternoon, December 2. Showing how every science, every invention, and every step in progress down through the years have been the result of using the imagination, Dr. Lindsay brought his listeners to the modern days. Speaking of the very active imagination of little children, Dr. Lindsay explained that children could see the good in people and accepted others very readily. Not until Junior High School days did children become critical, said the speaker, and that criticism grows with the years in High School, and later, until they finally join the Women's Clubs! The speaker was introduced by the chairman of the Program committee, Mrs. George H. Crosbie.

During the business meeting Mrs. Arthur B. Hitchcock, president, spoke for the Christmas Seals, urging everyone to buy. During the coffee and social hour, Mrs. Raymond F. McFee and Mrs. A. Harry Hutchison presided at the tea table. A large, bell-shaped gourd, hollowed and filled with fresh fruits, formed the centerpiece, flanked by lighted tapers. Cloths decorated in seasonal colors covered the individual tables that were placed around the Recreation Room. Mrs. T. W. Callihan and Miss Mary Steeves were hostesses for the afternoon.

Enjoyable Program Featured for Guests

An excellent program was presented to the Newtonville Woman's Club and their guests of the day, the presidents of the Twelfth District, on Tuesday, Dec. 6, by Reinald Werrenrath, famous Baritone. Before the regular program, club members, with their president, Mrs. George H. Tracy, greeted the guests informally at a dessert-coffee in Social Hall. Later, in the Auditorium, after a cordial welcome, Mrs. Tracy asked for a few words from the guests of honor who were on the platform.

Miss Louise Balch, newly-elected president of the Junior Club in Newtonville, thanked their Senior Club sponsors for their guidance in forming the Club, and stated that the Juniors were "hopeful of progressing in leaps and bounds."

Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, president of the Newton Federation, spoke of the meeting of the Safety Council to be held at the Newton City Hall on December 14, when First Aid and Safety Prevention would be demonstrated, and asked Club members to attend.

Mrs. William Leach, the new Twelfth District director, urged Club members to shop early and so relieve congestion, and buy, if possible, at least one article from the physically-handicapped.

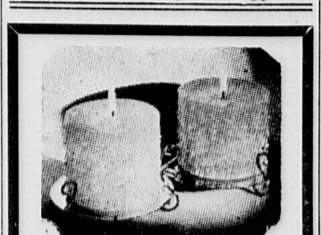

The last guest to speak, Mrs. Henry W. Hildreth, president of the State Federation, emphasized the importance of arousing public opinion which must be shared by both men and women, and told of the proposed radio program of the New England Town Meeting which was designed to encourage the right development of public opinion.

Miss Marian Bassett, Santa Claus for the needy Children's Christmas Party, stated that the history of each child's family was thoroughly looked into, before the allotting of needed presents and clothing.

Mr. Werrenrath then presented his feature program of the afternoon. In his informative talk on the history of the American song, Mr. Werrenrath stated that Americans owed little to the Indians musically, for there were few Indian songs, and little to the negro spirituals which all date back to darkest Africa. Rather did the roots of American songs spring from England, which songs the early settlers in this country brought over. He considered Francis Hopkinson, who was a close friend of George Washington, and also a signer of the Constitution, the earliest American composer, and his songs interesting as old museum pieces with an Elizabethan flavor, rather than as intrinsically great in themselves. Music during the early days of the country, was largely borrowed from Europe, he said. In this era, James Lyon was the grandfather of hymnologists of the 19th century, and Stephen Foster, the author of the second best American song, "Old Folks at Home."

After this sparse period musically, declared the speaker, there sprang up in the early 70's a Golden Age of great musicians. At the head of this aristocracy of composers stood Edward MacDowell, whose "The Sea" is rated as the greatest American song, and which Mr. Werrenrath sang inspiringly.

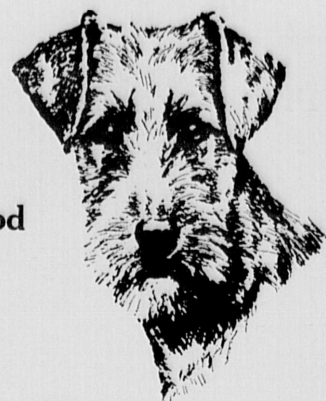

Coming down to the present day, no one, Mr. Werrenrath asserted, had done more for music than Walter Damrosch. Deems Taylor, Mr. Werrenrath's boyhood friend and co-worker, he pronounced the white hope of American music. For Mr. Werrenrath's rich baritone, the dramatic qualities of Mr. Taylor's "Henry Morgan," and Mr. Damrosch's "Danny Deever" were perfect mediums, while the sweet, plaintive tones of "Without a Song," by Vincent Youmans, aroused an equally warm response from his large and appreciative audience.

The Art committee, of which Mrs. John R. Tolman is chairman, contributed greatly to the pleasure of the afternoon by arranging a distinctive Exhibition of Paintings in the Gallery. Several landscapes by Miss Dorothy Emmons showed a fine appreciation of the wind and sunshine in wind-blown trees and sunny foregrounds; and colorful autumn scenes figured in the works of Mr. James Bonnar, Mr. Fred H. Daniels, and Guna Asberg. Several Club members exhibited, including Mrs. Frank E. Morris, with a charming bit of blue sea and white-fenced houses in quaint Rockport; and Mrs. Bertha Ried, a vivid winter landscape with unique decorative treatment of trees; and Mr. Bettinger showed two of his typically sweeping landscapes. Two daughters of Club members also exhibited, Miss Barbara Tolman, daughter of the Art chairman, showed an excellent copy of the "Boy with the Torn Hat," by Seully, and a pastel portrait; and the picture by Mrs. Judith Andress of two dogs and a coal black charger looked most life-like against effective backgrounds of deep reds and blues. In contrast of medium, a choice display of etchings, by Mr. Wilson, showed boats, from the clipper days with their billowing sails, down to the present ones with the sharp, clean-cut lines of a modern liner. An interesting group of water-colors in delicate coloring, chiefly of flowers, by Mrs. William E. Strong, completed this attractive and representative exhibition by artists in the Newtons. Among the many guests who attended were presidents and officers from the following clubs of the Twelfth District and others, Ashland, Auburndale Review Club, Auburndale Woman's Club, Framingham, Hopdale, Newton Social Science Club, Newton Centre, Newton Highlands, Newton Upper Falls, Waban, Wellesley Hills, West Newton Community Service, West Newton Women's Educational, Presidents' Club, Hopkinton, Natick, Needham Monday Club, Newton Community Club, Quincy Woman's Club, and Melrose Highlands Woman's Club.

Plan To Extend Rt. 128 Through Newton, Weston

One of the projects which the Metropolitan Planning Division is recommending to the Legislature, and on which work may be started in the near future—is the extension of Route 128 from its present terminus at the Worcester turnpike in Wellesley, near the Newton line. According to the plans Route 128 will cross the turnpike, probably on an overpass and continue along the Wellesley side of the river to a point just South of the aqueduct. It will cross the river to the Newton side and follow Quinobequin rd. to Washington st., and then cross the westerly part of the former gravel pit site, skirt the Woodland Golf Club links, cross Grove st. at Auburndale by the gravel pit, go over the Charles River on a bridge near the Riverside Recreation Field, proceed toward South ave., Weston, and follow along the river toward Roberts. Skirting the Cambridge reservoir near the Weston-Waltham border, it will pass West of Prospect Hill and continue along by Hobbs Basin into Lincoln and Lexington. Eventually Route 128 will continue from Lexington through Burlington, Woburn and Wakefield to Lynnfield and the Newburyport turnpike.

Route 128, planned as a circumferential highway, has its Southern terminus at Hingham and crosses Routes 3, 28, 1, 1a and 138. When finished it will cross all main traffic arteries radiating from Boston and suburbs.

Route 128 now proceeds from Needham over Needham, Centre and Walnut sts. to Newton Highlands business section, thence along Walnut st. through the Newtonville business section; over Crafts and High sts. through a heavily travelled part of Waltham, and thence to Lexington.

Safety Council For 25 Mile Limit

The Newton Safety Council held a meeting on Wednesday night in War Memorial Hall and voted to request Chief Hughes of the Newton police to cooperate in the campaign for safety in this State during the dangerous month of December by limiting automobile speed to 25 miles per hour during this period. The Chief said that at a meeting of the Mass. Asso. of Police Chiefs on Dec. 6 it was unanimously voted to follow the request of Registrar Goodwin in this speed limit, and that he would have this limit enforced in Newton for this month. President Daniel Needham of the Newton Safety Council said that during the past year this city's safety record has improved until it is within 100th of one per cent of being the best in the country in cities of its class in the improvement contest.

The meeting was under the auspices of the Adult Education Committee of the Council and Mrs. Edgar P. Hay was in charge. The speakers were Dr. Edward P. Leonard of the Newton Hospital staff who spoke on "Safety in the Home," and Joseph Serror, Safety Supervisor of the New England Telephone Company at Providence. Dr. Leonard said that 50 per cent of home accidents are caused by falls, and most of the victims are under 15 years of age and over 65. Scalds and burns rank second in home accidents, and practically all are caused by carelessness. Mr. Serror gave a demonstration of first aid methods. He related many cases of Mayor Childs sent a recommendation to the Board of Aldermen on Monday night that the city take for municipal purposes a lot of land on Watertown st., Nonantum, adjoining the Stearns School, provided the Board can see possibilities for the future use of that land. The Aldermen referred the matter to the City Solicitor to ascertain what the land would cost and what use it can be taken for.

Mayor Recommends City Take Stearns Land at Nonantum

The land was recently acquired by the G. & S. Paper Company and a permit for a large warehouse on it was granted. The Aldermen at a recent meeting also granted a permit for a 2 car garage in the proposed building. A protest was received signed by Rev. Joseph Robichaud and other Nonantum residents, and a protest meeting was arranged last Saturday night at Stearns School by Alderman Fahey.

Alderman Fahey presided at the meeting and explained the situation regarding the land and the proposed warehouse. He introduced former Alderman Edward H. Powers as one who was largely responsible for the rezoning of Nonantum a few years ago. Powers told how much of that district had been rezoned from manufacturing to residence zone, and that the late Ethelyn Stearns had agreed to have that part of her property next to St. Jean Evangeliste Rectory placed in a residence zone, and the remainder of the property in business zone. He said it was regrettable that the land had not been taken by the city in the past, and hoped some amicable arrangement can be made now between the owners of the land and the city.

Rev. Joseph Robichaud of St. Jean's Church told of the long struggle his parish had to finance and build the parochial school and rectory adjoining the Stearns property, and that its attractiveness should not be spoiled by the proposed warehouse. He said the large trucks coming to and leaving the warehouse would endanger the children attending the parish school, and he asked his parishioners to urge that the city take the Stearns land.

Alderman Frank McCabe explained that the Board of Aldermen cannot order the land taken unless the Mayor recommends such action. He said that Nonantum has been very generous to the Mayor in the past, giving him huge majorities at elections, and now is a chance for the Mayor to repay this generosity. He predicted that if the Mayor would recommend that the city take the land in question, the Aldermen will vote favorably on such a recommendation.

Two members of St. Jean's parish, J. Edward Theriault and Charles Chaisson urged that the city take the Stearns land. Mr. Chaisson said that the Aldermen had turned down the petition for a gasoline filling station on land near Our Lady's Church, and should also prevent the erection of the proposed warehouse. He was informed by Alderman McCabe that the two matters are quite different. The land where the proposed filling station would be erected near Our Lady's Church is in a residence zone, and it would be necessary to change this zone to business. The Stearns land is in a business zone, and the permission of the Aldermen is not needed to obtain a permit for a warehouse there.

P. Joseph Murphy said he is a friend of Mayor Childs and that the Mayor should not be criticized for failure of the city to seize the Stearns land, but that it was up to the Aldermen to act on the taking of the property. Alderman Fahey informed Mr. Murphy that the Mayor would have to initiate action on seizure of the land by the city.

West Newton Youth Sent To Prison

Carl Pintabona, 18, of 86 Underwood Park, West Newton, was sentenced to serve 18 months in Billerica Prison when he was found guilty in Middlesex Superior Court on Tuesday of stealing a car owned by Henry Turner of Waltham. On this charge Pintabona received 6 months, and on burglary charges in connection with breaks made in Newton and Waltham, about a year ago, he was sentenced to serve 6 months each. He had been on probation on these charges.

Busses Collide, 78 WPA Workers Claim Injuries

On December 1, about 3:30 p. m., three busses containing WPA workers who reside in Medford were traveling along Grove st., near Hancock st., Auburndale. The men had been engaged on a project at Hoxkinton and were on their way home, so they must have finished their daily task early. The drivers of the busses were Charles Timmons of South Boston, George Howard of Belmont, and John Cook of Waltham. The busses were owned by the Metropolitan Coach Company of Waltham. The driver of the first bus stopped to avoid hitting a boy on a bicycle. The driver of the second bus also stopped his vehicle close behind the first bus. The driver of the third bus could not stop until it had hit the second bus, pushing it against the first bus. The busses were not badly damaged; the rear panel of the first bus was dented, and a bumper on the third bus was bent.

But the casualties among the WPA passengers were quite general. Although the three busses were so little damaged, that all proceeded on their own power, 78 claims of injuries were made by the passengers in the busses. 29 in the first bus, 29 in the second bus and the balance in the third bus. None of the three drivers reported injuries and no report was made to the Newton police. Thirty-eight of the passengers made claims of injuries on the day of the accident, and forty more claims followed subsequently. Some of those who claimed injuries reported cut lips, others reported loosened teeth, and others strained backs.

Saltonstall Testimonial

Interest in the testimonial dinner and reception to Governor-Elect and Mrs. Leverett Saltonstall on Tuesday evening, January 3, at Newton High School gymnasium is spreading beyond the confines of Newton. Many prominent citizens from nearby cities and towns will be present. In addition to those mentioned in last week's GRAPHIC as special guests, the following well-known public servants have been invited to the dinner: Hon. Frank A. Brooks, member of the 3rd District in the Governor's Council; State Senator Arthur W. Hollis; Representatives William B. Baker, Warren K. Brimblecom, Douglas B. Francis and Clarence S. Luitwieler; Representative-Elect Paul M. Goddard; County Commissioners Nathaniel Bowditch and Walter C. Wardwell; and County Commissioner-Elect Charles C. Warren.

A typical dinner will be served, followed by brief speeches and an interesting entertainment. It is hinted that there may be one or two surprises before the evening is over.

Will Try To Fight Against Measles

Letters signed by Dr. Harold Chope of the Newton Health Department and Julius Warren, superintendent of schools, have been sent to parents of children attending Newton public schools asking for co-operation in combating an expected outbreak of measles this winter. For 20 years there has been a measles epidemic in Newton about every other year. As only 30 per cent of cases of measles in children of pre-school age have been reported in previous years, the parents are asked to co-operate by informing the school department as to which of their children have had measles, and which have not had them. With this information the school and health departments hope to be able to lessen the number of cases of measles the coming months by knowing which children will be immune, and which will be susceptible.

Using Aqueduct As Bridle Path

A complaint was received by the Newton police on Wednesday that some man has been making a practice of using the aqueduct at Waban and Newton Highlands as a bridle path, galloping over it about 7:30 mornings and 3:30 afternoons, frightening women and children walking along the path. As the use of the aqueduct for riding purposes is strictly forbidden, Newton police have been on the lookout for the equestrian.

Pull Three False Alarms on Sunday

The cowardly and dangerous practice of pulling false alarms from fire alarm boxes, which has rapidly increased in Greater Boston the past few years, and which has been increasing in Newton during the past year, was manifested in this city on Sunday when three such alarms were pulled. Two were apparently pulled by the same persons, who took this method for an early observance of the Sabbath by turning in an alarm from Box 234 at Newtonville ave. and Harvard st. at 12:25 a. m. Sunday, and from Box 242 on Crafts st. (about 1-4 mile distant) at 12:34 a. m. At 7:25 p. m. Sunday a false alarm was pulled at Box 351, Webster st., West Newton.

It is peculiar, but a fact, that more fatal accidents occur while fire apparatus is answering false alarms, than while responding to needed alarms. Serious fires have also, frequently, gained headway because of firemen being called out on false alarms, and thus being delayed in answering real alarms. The seriousness of this matter has grown to the extent that Fire Chiefs are demanding drastic punishment for those who will be apprehended after pulling false alarms. Jail sentences seem to be the only effective remedy.

On Wednesday night three more false alarms were pulled and as a result Captain Thomas Enegess of Engine 9 is confined to bed with serious injuries. The first false alarm was pulled at 11:25 from Box 445 and as Captain Enegess started to slide down the pole at Engine 9 house, he slipped and fell to the floor below. The extent of his injuries has not yet been determined.

At 11:56 another false alarm was pulled from Box 242 on Crafts st., and at 12:49 a second false alarm was pulled from this same box. Newton police are determined to find those responsible for the false alarms and will ask for severe penalties.

Raid Italian Club At Thompsonville

Saturday night at 9 o'clock Newton police raided the Italian-American Club at 31 Jackson st. in the Thompsonville section of Newton Centre. The raid followed the alleged sale of liquor to a police agent. The raiding party was headed by Chief Hughes and included Captain Veducchio, Sergeants Bannon, Burke and Cleary and a squad of policemen. As Patrolman Turner broke in the front door of the club with a heavy sledge hammer, Sergeant Cleary with several policemen guarded the rear door and arrested several men who tried to escape that way. Captain Veducchio slightly injured his right hand when he attempted to force an entrance. In the clubroom the police seized four gambling machines, nearly three gallons of whiskey, 15 cases of ale, and 35 cases of empty ale bottles.

Peter Sostilio, 31, of 421 Langley rd., Newton Centre, was arrested on charges of maintaining a liquor nuisance, making an illegal sale of liquor, exposing liquor for sale, and maintaining a gambling nuisance. Seven other men, including Joseph Sostilio, 23, of 421 Langley rd., were arrested for the present where gambling implements were found. They were arraigned in the Newton court on Monday and their cases continued until December 19. Twice within the past few years applications had been made to the Board of Aldermen for a club license at the place, and both times the applications were refused.

Woman Says She Was Robbed

Ralph Thurston of 201 Winslow rd., Waban, reported to the Newton police on Tuesday night that when he returned home at 9 o'clock he found his wife unconscious on the floor, and a strong box forced open and $48 missing. Mrs. Thurston said that between 8:30 and 9 o'clock a man came to her house selling Christmas wreaths and that when she told him her husband was not home the wreath seller said—"Oh! that's different," and that was the last she remembered until she gained consciousness when her husband returned. About a year ago Mrs. Thurston reported that she was robbed of about $10 while wheeling her baby carriage on Woodward st., and that the robber removed the wheels from the carriage.

Childs Again Names W. E. Earle, Street Commissioner

Mayor Edwin O. Childs sent a communication to the Board of Aldermen on Monday night in which he began submitted the appointment of former Alderman William E. Earle as Street Commissioner. In August Mayor Childs submitted the name of Mr. Earle for the position and at the meeting on September 12 the Board of Aldermen by a vote of 19 to 1 refused to confirm the appointment. Although the vote was by secret ballot, it was generally understood that Alderman Temperley was the member who voted in favor.

Last July Street Commissioner Charles Mahoney died suddenly and Mayor Childs appointed Charles J. McCarthy, senior Division Foreman of the Street Department as Acting Street Commissioner. Mr. McCarthy has been in the employ of the department since he was a young boy, well over 40 years ago, and there was a widespread sentiment throughout the city for his appointment to the position. Following the hurricane in September a petition signed by a large number of citizens was presented to the mayor because of the efficiency shown by McCarthy.

Large Crowd At Newton Police Ball

The 23rd annual ball of the Newton Police Benefit Association was held on Wednesday night at the State Armory, West Newton, and was attended by the largest crowd in the history of these affairs. About 2000 were present. From 8:15 to 9:15 an excellent entertainment was given by Joe Rubin and the Club Mayfair entertainers. Dancing was enjoyed until 1 o'clock. Prior to the entertainment a plaque which will serve as a memorial to Henry G. Bell and Lawrence E. Murphy, former Newton patrolmen fatally wounded in line of duty was dedicated. A eulogy on the two deceased policemen was delivered by Mayor Childs, and the plaque was unveiled by a young son of the late Patrolman Murphy.

Chief Michael Hughes was floor marshal, and Patrolman Joseph B. Lyons, president of the association, was floor director. Assistant Floor directors included Thomas J. Burke, Frank Hunt, Thomas P. Leehan, Charles A. Magne, John J. Monaghan and Robert B. Turner. Captain Nicholas Veducchio was chairman of the reception committee.

Drawn To Serve As Jurors

Elmer Somerville of 59 Highland ave., Newtonville, was drafted to serve as a Grand Juror of Middlesex County for next year when his name was drawn from the box holding the jury list at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night. Other Newton residents drawn to serve at sessions of the Superior Court next month are—Charles Devlin, 67 River st.; Roland Kinchla, 79 Dabry st.; David Sprague, 16 King st.; Arthur Strawson, 58 Harvard st.; Robert Snow, 993 Washington st.; Frank Scott, 193 Lake ave., at civil business sessions. George Cutler, 2075 Beacon st.; George Hillard, 120 North st.; Alvah Blanchard, 55 Colbert rd., criminal business sessions.

Rob Grocery at Newton Highlands

While the manager of the Economy Grocery Store, 1157 Walnut st., Newton Highlands, was at his lunch between 1 and 2 last Friday afternoon, someone forced boards from the partition between the cellar of the store and the cellar of an adjoining store, and stole $8 from the cash register. An inventory was taken last Saturday to ascertain if merchandise was also stolen.

Mayor Childs Criticized By Aldermen McKay And McCabe at Board Meeting

Finance Chairman Hits Additional Appropriations—McCabe Discusses Street Dept. Head

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night, Alderman Donald McKay, chairman of the Finance Committee of the Aldermen, in discussing requests for additional appropriations by various city departments, made a strong criticism of Mayor Childs. Alderman McKay read the following prepared statement:

"In the remarks I am about to make, I wish it understood that many city departments are ably and efficiently managed. They keep within their budgets and are deserving of great commendation."

"As the year-end approaches inefficiencies in certain departmental operations come to light. We have seen several instances lately of exhausted appropriations, caused not by any original lack of ample funds but by a disregard of planning, and in some cases an obstinate will to do that which has not been provided for. And we can confidently expect the usual flood of deficit bills to appear in January and February incurred in the same way."

"Habit formed through a large part of a quarter of a century are not easily changed. In fact, they are contagious. I believe this Board is determined to continue unceasingly its efforts toward correcting them. The public seems to approve our attitude. The simile may not be exact but this legislative body might be likened to a crew pulling the oars in a shell, steered by a coxswain—our chief executive—who should look ahead. This year's crew surveyed the course and warned of several dangerous rocks. Nevertheless, we hit them. Now we are floundering in turbulent water which the coxswain should have been able to see from his forward-looking position."

"Let's abandon smiles and take cases. If a budget is well prepared there should be few occasions for further additions, and yet at every meeting since adoption of the budget there have been innumerable requests. And now we are receiving the distress calls. Whether the calls are justifiable or not, I cannot understand how a department head or the mayor can apparently be in complete ignorance of their proximity until a few hours before a Board meeting."

"You do not need to be told that the disclosure of inefficiency and inaction by the anti-maintenance expenditures of the police department would have revealed that Ethyl gasoline was being purchased when this Board expressly stated last April that no provision was made therefore. Whether we were right or wrong about Ethyl has nothing to do with the department's failure to keep within its budget. No matter how right we were, the date in the year for some one and only to realize that the balance available was running low. As previously reported, the chief told the committee he did not believe the extra appropriation was needed, but, of course, the chief is tremendously handicapped. We hold no defense brief for the chief. In fact, there are many laxities in his department which should be corrected."

"Removal of the motorcycle from the streets was a twisted publicity gag. The truth is they were out of commission only long enough to have the side-cars attached because of slippery streets. It is not hard to guess where the newspapers got the story."

"Just as this Board could not jeopardize the lives and safety of children by withholding an appropriation to the playground department a few weeks ago when funds were exhausted through disregard of budget limitation, so now we cannot jeopardize the protection of Newton by withholding funds. At our last meeting the finance

Following the receipt by the Board of Aldermen on Monday night of a communication from Mayor Childs of his appointment of William E. Earle as Street Commissioner, Alderman McCabe of Ward 1 severely censured Mayor Edwin O. Childs. He said—

"Since last July 16 the Street Department of our city has been without a permanent head. The present acting commissioner, Mr. Charles McCarthy, with his uncertain status, has done a most creditable job with the hurricane of September and with two snow storms for which there was not sufficient money in the budget to handle these storms. You all know why the money was not in the budget but what the citizens perhaps do not know is that the reason the budget carried no funds for snow removal was because the Mayor did not provide for this very important activity. He recommended nothing."

"Now let me give you some facts in connection with this street commissioner's job which has been kicked around and tossed around by the Mayor."

"When Mr. Mahoney was appointed street commissioner Mr. Edwin O. Childs, in the Nonantum Athletic Club, stated that the job belonged to Mr. Charles McCarthy."

"At a meeting of the City Employees Union in 1935 I personally heard Mr. Childs say that there were two ways to kill an old man, one was to hit him over the head with a club and the other was to break his heart, and that was what was done with George Stuart, former street commissioner, who was retired for age, but Childs said they broke his heart. This was an untrue statement and made solely for political purposes."

"Now we come to the matter of two ways to kill a young man which are the same as the methods used to kill an old man. On January 1, 1936, we had a very able director of public works, a Mr. Ellis, a young man and a veteran, whom the Mayor professes to regard so highly. What happened? On assuming office on Jan. 1, 1936, the Mayor directed all heads of the then public works set-up to ignore Mr. Ellis. This was the Childs method of breaking a young man's heart. Mr. Ellis is a competent engineer and was doing an excellent job of planning ahead for the city's needs as well as co-ordinating the street, water and engineering departments. You recall the Mayor in his 1936 budget recommended only four months of the director's salary and that the Board of Aldermen over his objection provided the money in the budget for a year's salary. Then what happened? By this time Mr. Ellis was all dressed up and no place to go. He had no duties to perform but twiddle his fingers every day in City Hall. This was a very refined form of sanctimonious cruelty. Finally on July 1 our kind little man fired Mr. Ellis, and since that we have had no director of public works and no

A PROGRAM OF BENEFIT TO NEWTON

The Metropolitan District Commission has announced a six-year highway program which if authorized by the legislature will be of considerable benefit to persons in all parts of Newton. The most important project of this program is the extension of the circumferential highway known as Route 128. A few years ago the new route 128 was built as far as the Worcester turnpike just over the Wellesley line at Upper Falls. Traffic using this highway now comes through Newton Highlands and Newtonville business sections, adding greatly to the congestion, particularly in the late afternoon. The extension of the new route along the Charles River, crossing Washington street near Quinobequin road, will take this through traffic out of these business sections. The new route will also make it more convenient for Newton motorists by providing a quicker and better method of reaching other important arteries intersecting the circumferential highway. Another project, which has been the subject of editorial comment in these columns from time to time, is the extension of the river road from Watertown to Waltham, mostly along the Newton side of the Charles river. It has been definitely agreed that the Metropolitan District will not use California street as a part of this extension, but will use land now owned by the state along the river bank. This extension will also relieve congestion in certain Newton sections and will provide a more facile way of getting to and from Boston and sections to the northeast of Boston.

DO YOUR XMAS SHOPPING IN NEWTON

The Christmas shopping season is here, and less than ten days remain before the most cherished day of the year arrives. Many persons already know the advantages of doing their Christmas shopping in Newton stores. The local merchants are ready to offer a personal service which cannot be obtained in any other way. The tremendous crowds one finds in the Boston stores make Christmas shopping a trying experience. In the Newton stores there is not that tiring crush and bustle, yet from the well-stocked shelves there is a wide and complete selection of gifts. And not only is there the comfort to be obtained from less crowded accommodations but there is the added advantage that almost every Newton merchant is willing to open charge accounts to responsible persons. We have found in our visits to Newton stores that most articles can be obtained in Newton stores at no higher prices than elsewhere. Newton merchants depend upon Newton trade for their livelihood. Their success results directly in the betterment of the community. Do your Christmas shopping in Newton.

TO OUR NEW CONTEMPORARY

We extend a friendly greeting this week to our new contemporary in the field of Newton publications, the Newtonic. For many years we have endeavored to maintain a high standard in the field of publishing and the appearance of Newton's picture magazine gives us the impression that it will also endeavor to maintain this standard. There is a world of difference in the presentation of the news by word and by picture and the rapid increase in the popularity of the news-picture leads us to believe that there is a field for such an enterprise in the Newtons. The first issue of Newtonic was interesting and entertaining, it covers a wide range of subjects and most pleasing of all is the fact that it is staffed by a group of Newton young men. We wish Newtonic success and look forward to a close friendship with our new contemporary.

District Nursing Asso

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Newton District Nursing Association was held on December 12, 1938, at the Headquarters, 297 Walnut st., Newtonville, with Mrs. Louis Arnold, presiding.

The budget of 1939 was presented and with the necessary cuts in expenditures, was approved. Miss Nelson's report showed the total number of visits made during November to be 1796, with 481 homes visited, of which 132 were new homes. There have been sixteen Well Baby Conferences held during November with an attendance of 329.

Miss Dorothy Frederickson, assistant director of the Physiotherapy Clinic at Children's Hospital, was the speaker of the morning. She gave an illuminating and interesting address on the science of physiotherapy and its practical application.

Aldermen Meet

The regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night was attended by all members except Alderman Walker. During the meeting extensive reports of the special committee appointed to study Newton's welfare problems, were distributed to the members, and strong criticisms of Mayor Childs were made by Alderman McKay and McCabe. Mayor Childs for a second time sent in the appointment of William E. Earle as Street Commissioner.

Alderman Rawson reporting for the Claims & Rules Committee recommended that leave to withdraw be given on the petition of the Boston & Albany Railroad for changing land on Washington st. from residence to business zone. He said that Rev. John Sheridan of Our Lady's Church had made a strong written protest against the change, and had presented a petition against it signed by over 1000 persons. Owners of nearby properties had also protested against the change. The petition of Sylvia Hanaauer for a nursery school at 100 Hammond st., Chestnut Hill was withdrawn by the petitioner.

The Claims & Rules report recommending the granting of a permit to Cyril Forbush for a nursery at 2101 Washington st. was accepted. Alderman Rawson explained that the site of the proposed nursery had been used as a gravel pit, and although mostly filled in, resembled a Sahara and has been an eyesore. Mr. Forbush will cover 2 acres with loam, and grow large and small evergreens and perennials there, making it attractive. He will erect no buildings there, and would have to obtain a permit from the Aldermen before he could do so. The Union Market National Bank which has owned the property, will develop the remainder of the land for house-lots. Alderman Hughes inquired how Mr. Forbush intends to sell trees at the nursery if he has no building there? Alderman Rawson said the nursery will be used as a showroom. Alderman Temperley asked if the nursery will be where it is proposed to extend State Highway 128, and was told "No," as the highway route will be north of the nursery locus.

The Board took a customary recess at 8:25, and reconvened at 11:20. Alderman McKay, reporting for the Finance Committee, referring to appropriations for the Street Department, said that this department had not been charging other departments for gasoline, but would start to do so at once. He said there has also been a laxity in keeping track of tools, resulting in large losses. He criticized the continuance of the practice of the sergeant-mechanic of the police department in purchasing ethyl gasoline for police department vehicles, after the Aldermen had budgeted appropriations last April had specified that regular gasoline be used. Mr. McKay then read a prepared statement criticizing department heads and the Mayor, which is printed elsewhere in this issue.

Alderman Fahey referred to a petition for a permit to operate 20 bowling alleys at 320 Washington st., Newton, entered by John J. O'Donnell, and said that a public hearing should be held on this matter. The hearing will be held at City Hall on December 27. Alderman Fahey called attention to the services given by members of the local National Guard company on 9 nights following the hurricane in patrolling Newton. He said they received $1.55 per night. He said they might have been employed at $7 per day, and he moved that the Mayor be requested to recognize the services of these National Guard men in some fitting way. Alderman Hughes suggested that the work of the Boy Scouts after the hurricane also be recognized, and the motion was passed.

President Floyd suggested that Alderman Hutchinson, chairman of the special committee on the study of the relief problem, might have something to say on the report just made public. Mr. Hutchinson said he would not discuss the report at that late hour, but would refer to it at some future time. He commented that the report was just an initial one, that relief will be a continuing problem, and that in all probability the committee would be continued, the same as the special committee on the water problem was continued for a number of years.

Appropriations made by the Board included—Dennis Shea, pension, $67.08; Welfare Dept., clerical assistance, $72; Registrars of Voters, $1200; compensation for stenographer at Aldermen's meetings during 1938, $100; office expenses, Police Department, $150; maintenance of streets, $500; Water Department, $2757. Appropriations on which action was held included $200 for auto maintenance of Playground Dept., automobiles, $2000 for Street Department garage expenses; $3000 for Street Department tools and equipment; $3500 for replacement of tools and machinery for Street Department. On the item of $350 for maintenance of police department automobiles, Aldermen Schinner, Tiffin and Floyd voted in the negative.

An invitation was received from Alderman Alfred Guzzi asking members of the Board to come to V. F. W. Hall, Newton on the night of January 6 to see him installed as President of Newton City Employees Local. A communication was received from Mayor Childs informing the Board that he would give the new school at West Newton the same name as the school it replaces, "Franklin," a name wanted by hundreds who had attended the old school, and the name of a great American patriot.

Claims for damages for injuries received by falling on icy sidewalks were received from Mattie Yardley and Ernest Brenner. Licenses were renewed for all dealers of second-hand automobiles in the city except that of the Nonantum Used Auto Parts (Samuel Shriberg) at 77 West st.

Severe Criticism of Mayor Childs by Alderman McKay

Intelligent planning of the work of committee asked the comptroller to prepare a detailed statement of the auto-maintenance account. We have it tonight and it is apparent that a surrender of principle to expediency must be made.

"When Sinclair Weeks was mayor he sat in his office those evenings on which the Board met. He was available for any needed information and counsel, and I am told such was the custom of all former mayors, that is prior to 1914. In my experiences of the past three years I have no recollection of the present mayor being available, and the only information which the finance committee secures is from cross-examination of department heads, and from the comptroller and the city solicitor. The rebuffs received early in the year when proven constructive suggestions were offered the mayor helps to explain the difficulties under which this Board labors."

"During the past quarter century these same criticisms have been frequently expressed,—but usually, with more feeling. I am trying to be calm and dispassionate in this recital. Personally, I like Mr. Childs but patience has ceased to be a virtue when repeatedly the public is led to believe that the Board is at fault in so many of the things that go wrong."

Alderman McCabe In Denunciation Of Mayor Childs

all three departments. They are all headed by good men, and they work together as I see it for the good of the city, but there is no looking into the future as Mr. Ellis was doing. Incidentally the Mayor wasted $3,000 of the city's money by not permitting Mr. Ellis to function from Jan. 1, to June 30, 1938.

"Mr. Mahoney's tenure of office was not exactly a bed of roses. I happen to know that one of our mayor's questions to him was to the effect that he understood that there was $1,000 in the purchase of every certain make of truck. Mr. Mahoney's answer was that he had never purchased any of that particular kind of truck. They are owned by the city but none was purchased by Mr. Mahoney."

"You gentlemen all know that it is very difficult to do good work without proper planning and the necessary executive support. In this city executive support for the common good variety of honesty is difficult to obtain. Personally I have been to the Mayor's office once in three years and I would not have gone then if it were not at the request of my two colleagues in my own ward. This was for the purpose of securing the Lincoln-Elliott School. At the time we got the air, and we would not now have the Lincoln-Elliott School under way if it were not for recent PWA appropriations."

"In conclusion I want to state that I have been a member of this Board for four years. The first year we had straight dealing, efficiency, good management and honesty. The last three years we have had hypocrisy, inefficiency and mismanagement. The tax rate in the depression in 1933 was $24.80. In the recession in 1938 it was $30.20. If it is not more than $33 next year I shall be pleased."

"At a later date I propose to speak on 'Sanctimonious Heat vs Public Trust.' At the present time I am more than fed up with the preaching of pious political platitudes to accompany a constantly increasing tax rate."

55 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, December 8, 1883
Citizens caucuses have come to stay in city elections.

Willie Emerson, 17, only son of Patrolman William Emerson, died of typhoid and scarlet fevers on Thursday evening after an illness of only two days.

Friends of J. Wesley Kimball celebrated his election to the Mayoralty by burning tar barrels in Newtonville sq., setting off fireworks and cannons and illuminating their houses.

The park at the corner of Elm and Webster sts. West Newton, belonging to the Allen brothers, and which has been the scene of so many baseball games, has been enclosed with a neat board fence. The land is to be improved for house lots.

George E. Wales of Oak Hill has finished a house on Cedar st., near Mill st., Newton Centre, where he contemplates removing his preserving business.

The results of Tuesday's election voiced the protests of a majority of our citizens against partisan politics in city affairs, against control by rings even if they are made up of most estimable gentlemen; against forestalling the action of caucuses and preventing a free choice by the people; against extravagance and high taxes; and against third terms. The citizens movement, put in operation scarcely a week before election, received a handsome endorsement at the polls. Alderman Kimball's long and able service in the city council is evidence of his fitness for the office of Mayor, and we have no fear that he will become the tool of designing politicians. Mayor Ellison will leave office with an excellent record and the friendship of all sides. The votes against his re-election were not against the man, but against the third term scheme, and the clique who sought to control the nomination.

Several prominent residences of Chestnut Hill have just been supplied with city water for the first time. Among them are the residences of Daniel Stone, Leverett Saltonstall, R. H. White and Charles Francis.

The annual public "camp fire" of Charles Ward Post, G. A. R. will be held next Thursday evening at Eliot Hall, Newton. All citizens, especially all honorably discharged soldiers and sailors of the Rebellion are cordially invited. The gallery will be reserved for ladies.

J. Henry Bacon of Francis Murdock's dry goods store is in New York this week buying Christmas goods.

Mr. Joseph Baker of Sargent st., Newton, was one of the men who went from Boston to Bath, Maine to see the launching of the five masted schooner, Governor Ames.

The tunnel under the B. & A. tracks opposite Channing st., Newton, has been in bad shape this week, flooded from the heavy rain, and it has been necessary to lay heavy planks to keep pedestrians out of the water. Some draining process seems to be necessary.

There is some complaint this year because the girls' evening school is held on the top story of the Underwood School, which is inconvenient for some of those who wish to attend. This may be the reason for there not being a larger attendance.

Some of the boys who frequent the Free Library have been very disorderly and last week an example was made of one of them by arresting him and sending him to the House of Correction. There has been a noticeable improvement since in the behavior of the boys at the Library.

The Harvard-Technology road race will be held next Saturday over a course of about 9 miles. The start will be from Newton Corner, thence to Newtonville and West Newton, turning sharply by the great sign boards and back to Newton Corner.

Champion John Leavitt of Newton Corner has broken the record at the swimming contest in the Grand Museum at Boston, doing a half mile in 15 minutes and 43 seconds, nearly a minute better than Captain Webb's famous performance. In a few weeks Mr. Leavitt will go to England with Manager Kyle to engage in swimming contests with Beckwith and other famous swimmers of that country for the world's championship.

The birthday party described as having been given Miss Curtis of Newtonville ave. last week, would have been a very interesting event had it taken place, but unfortunately for the correctness of the report, there was neither a party nor a birthday.

While Dr. Corden of Newton Centre was driving on Sunday with his little girl and sister-in-law, the horse became frightened and dashed over a stone wall. The handsome carriage was demolished, but the occupants escaped with bruises.

Powers' Paragraphs

Recently there was another plan proposed to build a system of rapid-transit highways in Boston which would relieve (theoretically at least) the serious traffic conditions that exist in that city. The cost of the proposed aerial and other highways in Boston would be a mere $42,000,000. Aerial and other highways can be built in Boston at a cost that will bankrupt that city, but the traffic congestion there will not be relieved to any great extent until traffic and parking laws in Boston are obeyed by operators of motor vehicles, and enforced by police and courts. More and more, in recent years parking laws have been ignored in Boston and its environs, including Newton. In Boston, including the wholesale and retail shopping sections, and the Back Bay, where physicians' and dentists' offices are largely located, trucks and passenger cars are parked double and even in three lines, obstructing traffic and causing tie-ups. It is bad enough to have trucks park double, but at least their drivers have some provocation when they have to carry heavy bundles or boxes, but there is little excuse for a passenger car parking double, other than its occupant is too lazy to walk a short distance.

The testimony of President Aspinwall of the Worcester Teachers' College on Tuesday at the investigation being conducted by Attorney General Dever on various contracts awarded for repairs to State properties allegedly damaged by the hurricane substantiated accusations made by the Massachusetts Taxpayers' Association. With economic conditions in their present sorry state, with millions on relief, and a large percentage of taxpayers struggling valiantly to carry on, it is disgusting and disheartening that persons in whom public trust was reposed, would be so venal as to take advantage of a calamity to squander public funds raised by taxing people already overburdened. Some of those responsible for the disgraceful situation go to church regularly and pretend to be righteous. And they have been blatantly condemning "the Reds" as menaces to the future of this country.

Two weeks ago there was a collision on Grove st., Auburndale, in which three buses were involved, two having stopped and the third ramming the second bus and pushing it into the first bus. The collision was not serious, all three buses proceeding on their own power, none having been damaged seriously. A young man, a member of the reserve force of the Newton police, who was at the scene of the accident shortly after the collision occurred, reported that "apparently no one was injured." The buses contained WPA workers being carried back to Medford from Hopkinton. After the collision 38 of these passengers claimed injuries, and within a couple of days 40 more claims for injuries were made. The drivers of the three buses did not claim to have been injured. Although some of the passengers may have had visible evidence of slight injuries, the majority reported having received strained backs. While the insurance company protecting the owner of the buses involved will pay whatever damages awarded for these wholesale injury claims, it is you and the other owners of Massachusetts motor vehicles who will actually settle for these alleged injuries.

A large part of the high cost of compulsory automobile insurance we have to pay is caused by spurious injury claims. And those making such claims are not all persons in poor circumstances. Many of those who get easy money by feigning injuries are persons who are prosperous, who pose as being honest, but who do not hesitate to make their friends and neighbors pay higher insurance rates.

Some folks in this city had the idea that the common support given Governor-Elect Saltonstall by all Republicans in Newton would end the strained relations between the Mayor and the Board of Aldermen. The happenings at the meetings of the Aldermen last Monday night should dispel any such idea.

The much publicized investigation by the Attorney General of contracts awarded as part of the $19,500,000 rehabilitation program authorized by the Legislature in October to repair alleged damages caused by the hurricane, has come to a peaceful ending insofar as the principal complaint made by the Massachusetts Taxpayers' Association is concerned. That was on contracts awarded by the Departments of Conservation and Mental Health, awarded to the Benjamin Foster Company of Philadelphia on a cost plus 20 per cent basis. On Wednesday an agreement was reached whereby the Foster Company agreed to accept cost plus 10 per cent. As a result, the Attorney General cancelled the ban on contract payments, and announced that the State would have had to pay the 20 per cent had the Foster Company insisted. Norman McDonald of the Taxpayers Association expressed gratification at the result and everything is hunky.

Chance for Optimists

At this time of year I feel like a toastmaster whose privilege it is to introduce the spirit of Christmas holidays to the public. It isn't often that I become as self-important and if there were any possibility of my serving in such a role I would run for cover. The few words of welcome I would utter would contain the thought that here at least we have a respite from the continual flood of pessimism. The croakers are silent, the gloom-spreaders lay off and those of us who are not Pollyannas, but who believe a reasonable amount of optimism good for everybody, may carry on without interference.

Singing at Work

There is a memorable quotation somewhere, if I had the time to look it up, which places in a most favorable light those who sing at their work. It would be futile, I am sure, to dispute the desirability of light-heartedness expressed in this way. The only fault I have to find is that the vocal outpourings are not always actual singing, at least not as that talent, gift or accomplishment is recognized in the best or even the next best musical circles.

A man of my acquaintance is so filled with exuberant spirits each morning, or nearly so, that he gives his vocal powers full play while opening the first mail of the day at his office. His repertoire is limited to a snatch of grand opera picked up somewhere. The result is that his associates are forced to listen to the same few bars, or maybe they're only chords, over and over again. Since he is the boss there is little to be done about it.

One member of a Newton household, employed in a domestic capacity I might explain, is frequently given to song while performing her kitchen and chamber duties. It would be much easier on the other dwellers in that house if she didn't think she could sing as every attempt to do so proves her grossly in error. It would not be difficult to multiply examples, which, however, is not the point. Some people can't help singing or what you may prefer to call it, as shown by many who indulge themselves in vocal melody in all sorts of odd places.

As I see it, not all occupations are suitable and certainly all voices are not qualified for singing. The whole thing puzzles me and yet I envision no solution. If 1939 brings a brighter and a better year, as we hope, I may be inspired to suggest an explanation. Meanwhile it will have to be put off, with many other things, until after Christmas.

Parcel Post Congratulations

Poking among some left-over clippings of last month I found a weekly journal had acceded to the request of the postal authorities and reminded its readers that November was "set aside to commemorate the parcel post silver jubilee 1913-1938." This was one of the few published references to that event that came to my attention. If it is or is not in order I should like to know why the occasion did not receive more public attention. Was it that we were so engrossed in politics, foreign outrages and family matters that we couldn't fittingly observe this important anniversary? I must say I don't know what we were expected to do in order to properly show our appreciation, but at any rate most of us seemed to have fallen down. Possibly the postoffice department would have liked to have us mail Christmas cards and packages last month and mentioned November in the hope we'd take the hint. Although we didn't celebrate they've got to admit that everybody is rushing to the parcel post windows these days with armfuls of matter. I might suggest that in order all citizens recognize the importance of parcel post that a day be set apart when everybody might forward free of expense any and all they desired. That would be a genuinely fitting observance.

Same Old Habit

"Human nature hasn't changed in my time," said a grocery and provision storekeeper of many years' experience in response to my query, "Do people still dip into the cranberries and prunes?" I had also asked if cranberries in a box, which is the new method of shipment, prove as alluring as in a barrel, the container of years and years. He assured me they were and that customers sample not only them but "everything else they can get their hands on." He spoke specifically of grapes, which, he said, rated pretty high in the list of articles to which customers generously help themselves. I was glad he did not make any inquiry as to my appetite for I would have had to confess to a weakness for doing that very thing. The only reason I don't is the doctor's warning, "Refrain from raw fruit or vegetables."

Philosophical Pause

The sound of countless pens, not a few of them scratchy, is heard throughout the land as we, the people, bend to the gigantic task of addressing Christmas cards and bundles. Has anybody estimated how much ink is consumed, how much paper required and how many hours of labor involved? Not especially important but the figures might be interesting. The big point is the accuracy of address, the correct spelling of names and the exactness of postal direction. We know that there will be errors and that some people will not profit by earlier mistakes and that much matter mailed is bound to go wrong. Unintentionally misdirected as the energies and destinies of the senders.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Christmas Programs

Waban Woman's Club

At the Neighborhood Club House on Monday, December 19, at 2:30 o'clock, John Nicol Mark will give a humorous informal talk, smoothly blending entertainment and instruction.

A guest of honor will be Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, president of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs.

This meeting, with Mrs. George C. Cavis as tea hostess, and Mrs. Frederick E. Woodruff, Hospitality chairman, will have the background of Christmas cheer. The stage will be set as a charming, fire-lit, indoor scene with falling snow seen outdoors. During the tea, organ music will be played.

Another attractive feature of the afternoon will be an exhibit of about fifty oils and water-colors, painted by Mrs. Clifford P. Smith, of Waban, a Club member. This is the third of a series of such Art exhibits of work done by talented Newton artists, sponsored by the Art chairman of the Club, Mrs. John A. McAniff, and they are proving to be of great interest. Others will be arranged for coming Club days.

Creche Exhibit and Carol Singing

An atmosphere of Christmas will permeate the Workshop of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club on Saturday, December 17, and Sunday, December 18, from 2:30 p. m. to 9 p. m., when the Annual Creche Exhibit will be held. The combined efforts of the Art and Music committees of the Club, together with the Garden Club, will make this an event well worthwhile. On Sunday, the second day of the exhibit, at 8 p. m., the Club Chorus will sing Christmas Carols.

The last of a series of three Book Talks, by Mrs. Thomas Rudkin, was held at the Workshop on Tuesday, December 13, at 10 a. m. These reviews have been well received, and those who attended will be pleased to know that plans are being formulated for a second series, again featuring Mrs. Rudkin, the dates of which have not yet been decided. Mrs. William A. Camp, Education and Literature chairman, in charge of this plan, would be glad to receive applications, telephone, Centre Newton 3333. Those who are not members of the Women's Club of Newton Highlands are welcome to attend these talks at $1.25 for the series, or 60 cents for a single ticket, the same prices as for the last series.

Newton Highlands Garden Club Exhibit

On Saturday, December 17, and Sunday, December 18, the Newton Highlands Garden Club will hold an Exhibit of Christmas Decorations, in connection with the Annual Creche Exhibit put on by the Art and Music committees of the Women's Club of Newton Highlands, which will be held in the Club Workshop. The Garden Club exhibit will be in the Craft Room of the Workshop, and will be open to the public on Saturday, from 2 to 5:30 p. m., and on Sunday from 2 to 9 p. m. This will be a non-competitive exhibit with the following classes:

Class I.—Wreaths, Garlands, Swags.
Class II.—Table Decorations suitable for: 1. Living Room Table; 2. Dining Room Table; and 3. Mantle Decorations.
Class III.—Gift Baskets, using natural or artificial fruits, flowers, plants or gourds.

The Sewing Day of the West Newton Women's Educational Club at the Newton Hospital has been postponed to January 3rd.

Reading of "The Other Wise Men"

With the Bell Ringers of St. Paul in a program of Christmas Carols, the Newtonville Woman's Club, on Tuesday, December 20, at 2:30 p. m., will start the delightful custom of a special Christmas program for Club members and their guests. The Bell Ringers, a group of young girls, have under the direction of Mrs. Ethel Ruby Hood, of Newburyport, revived this ancient and beautiful art.

The reading of Henry Van Dyke's familiar and much-loved "The Other Wise Men," by Gladys McGill, a Club member, and a student of the Bishop-Lee School of Dramatic Art, will complete this well-chosen program.

A group of blind people will be special guests at this Christmas meeting.

Bell Ringers to Give Christmas Carols

The Lothrop Bell Ringers, of Beverly, will give a program of Christmas Carols for the meeting of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club next Monday evening, December 19, at 7:30 o'clock, in the Club Rooms of the Emerson School. Miss Ann Lord will give readings.

Donations will be received for the Disabled Veterans for their Christmas gift. In honor of this thought for the veterans, also, the Club will have as their special guest at this Christmas meeting, Mrs. G. Viola Dangelmayr, of Waltham, State Federation chairman of the division of Cooperation with Disabled War Veterans. Mrs. Frank L. Hunting will be chairman of the evening.

The Club president, Miss Nellie M. Osborne has reported that the receipt of Thanksgiving donations from the children of the R. U. Emerson School and the donations received at the November 21st meeting of the Club, filled ten bushel baskets, which were divided amongst the parishes of the three churches in Upper Falls to aid them in their Thanksgiving donations.

A Christmas Play to be Staged

"Christmas Conversations," a play written exclusively for and at the suggestion of Hortense Crede Rallsback, Program chairman, will be the special feature at the meeting of the Community Service Club of West Newton on Wednesday afternoon, December 21, at 2 o'clock, in the Parish House of the Unitarian Church.

Before and after the play, which Mrs. Rallsback herself will read, a program of Christmas Music will be sung by the Glee Club, directed by Marion Kingsbury, assisted by Edith Temple, accompanist. During the afternoon, the Glee Club will lead the audience in singing together some of the old familiar and loved Christmas Carols.

A special committee, headed by Mrs. Austin Decatur, is preparing a Christmas package for an aged veteran now living at the Soldiers' Home, who has expressed a wish for a warm coat sweater and two pairs of socks.

Miss Louise Lovett is in charge of a Christmas Party to be given to the young readers of the West Newton Branch of the Public Library.

Altogether, those in charge of arrangements for the December activities of the Community Service Club have planned a program that will usher in the Christmas Season with beauty and dignity, and will further emphasize the true significance of "Peace on earth, good will to men."

Magic for the Children

On Thursday, December 22, will be the Children's Party, when fifty boys and girls from the Underwood and Stearns Schools will be the guests of the Newton Community Club, at 2 p. m. in the Underwood (Continued on Page 9)

Recent Weddings

GENDRON—DEAN

Miss Georgianna Winslow Dean, daughter of Mrs. Robert Augustus Dean of Chestnut st., West Newton, was married to Courtney Holbrook Gendron, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Gendron of Winchester at four o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, December 13 in the Leslie Lindsey Memorial Chapel, Boston. Dr. Boynton Merrill of the Second Church, West Newton, performed the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Dr. Thomas Almy of Fall River. She wore her mother's wedding gown of heirloom lace fashioned on princess lines and a veil of rare lace which fell into three tiers edged with lacy silver threads and caught to a matching cap. She carried a prayer book trimmed with dove orchids and a shower of lilies of the valley and baby's breath.

Mrs. Alexander Beard of New York was the bride's only attendant. She wore a gown of plum velvet and a tiny doll hat of matching velvet trimmed with ostrich. She carried an old fashioned bouquet of pale yellow roses, pansies and baby's breath.

Shepard Pond of Brookline was the best man and the ushers were Frank S. Eddy, Jr. of West Newton, cousin of the bride, Wayne C. Smith of Meriden, Conn., Lansdon Allen of Brookline and Kenneth Morse of Belmont.

A reception was held at the Algonquin Club for members of the immediate families.

The bride attended the Eastman School in Washington, The Washington Seminary in Atlanta, Georgia, and is a graduate of the Garland School in Boston. The groom was graduated from Harvard in 1916 and is a member of the Harvard Club of Boston and of the Winchester Country Club.

On their return from a trip to So. America, Mr. and Mrs. Gendron will reside at 124 Walker st., Cambridge. They will be at home after February 1.

Rotary Club

The Newton Rotary Club met at the Brae Burn Country Club at 12:15 Monday to listen to a very interesting discussion of the background and development of the New England Peabody Home for Crippled Children.

The speaker was Dr. Frank J. Ober, noted bone specialist, who has worked with the children and has attained wide fame. He was introduced by Mr. Julius Warren, superintendent of schools in Newton, whose work in developing the educational background afforded these children was praised by Dr. Ober.

In his presentation, Dr. Ober touched lightly on the historical background of the home. He gave credit to Mrs. Nellie Smith for the growth of the institution and stressed the warmth and sympathy that Mrs. Smith had brought to the children. He pointed out the background that had led to the sun treatment for tubercular bone diseases and stressed the need of a long and careful attention in order to prevent recurrence of the disease. Some of the findings of the institution he made public particularly the results that had been obtained by waiting for the tubercular infection to decline before doing some of the grafting work that has rehabilitated so many of these crippled youngsters.

Next Monday the Rotary Club will bring their annual Christmas presents for the children at the Peabody Home, under the direction of Constantine Lupo, who has always taken an active interest in this part of Rotary work.

Dr. Robinson, head of the International Relations Group, also made arrangements for a number of foreign students to spend their Christmas with members of the Rotary Club.

RAILROADHighland Glee
Largely Attended

The Annual Christmas Concert of the Highland Glee Club was held Tuesday evening at the Newton High School under the leadership of D. Ralph Maclean. The young violinist, Francesco Zecchino, as guest artist, gave a most finished and amazing performance of the Concerto in G Major by Mozart. His playing of Adagio, by his teacher, Ondricek, revealed remarkable depth of tone and emotion for a lad of sixteen years.

The "Lotus Sand" arrangement by Kreisler was exquisite in its delicateness. He was admirably accompanied by Carl Lamson, Kreisler's own accompanist.

Mrs. Kathryn Ford accompanied the club in the splendid rendition of her song, "The Four Winds." Mrs. Ford has written a number of choral works but this is one of her finest.

The club also sang a beautiful number by Elizabeth Cheney Kaufman called "An Old-Fashioned Garden," which was warmly applauded and graciously acknowledged by Mrs. Kaufman.

The concert was most enjoyable to a very large audience with its excellent singing and Christmas spirit. The final sing of the Hallelujah chorus was an inspiring end to the first concert of the season.

Mr. Karl Switzer was the club's accompanist.

The Highland Glee Club makes a special announcement regarding the artist for the March concert. Due to conditions in Vienna, Hedda Ballon, one of the outstanding pianists and harpsichord players of Europe, has come to America to live, and at present is residing in Boston. She is to give an intimate harpsichord recital, and in addition will accompany an outstanding flute player and Martha Wight, soprano, in ensemble work. Mme. Ballon was for eighteen years one of the leading piano and harpsichord professors at the Conservatoire in Vienna and played with many of the outstanding orchestras in Europe. She is founder of the Society for the Cultivation of Early Music, and by decree of the Austrian Government received the rare award of "Professor," which is only obtained by unusual and outstanding ability.

School Auditorium. Magic will, indeed, be in the air, for Mora, a pupil of famous Houdini, will produce "Magical Rarebits," even to the visit of some Santa Claus who will have gifts of toys and clothing for the invited guests. There will be refreshments for all. And Mora is sure to provide a delightfully mysterious entertainment for everyone, Club members and the children.

Christmas has already been featured in a program for the members of the Newton Community Club, when "A Medieval Christmas" was presented before a large audience in the Auditorium, last Thursday afternoon, December 8. The Lothrop Bell Ringers gave much pleasure in the Christmas Carols played. Special guests for the afternoon were the members of "The Mothers' Club of the Stearns School Centre."

The stage setting, the candles and evergreen; the tea table decorated by the Social committee, of which Mrs. Allan N. Kee is chairman; the dolls on exhibit, tastefully dressed by Club members for the guests who will attend the Christmas Party; and an exhibit of Arts and Crafts by Mrs. Carlos T. Pierce, gave the background of Christmas, and awakened its spirit. During the business session of the meeting, Mrs. George R. Strandberg spoke of various programs on the radio. Mrs. John L. MacNeil, Public Health chairman, called attention to the opening of the Well Child Clinic to be maintained at City Hall, and announced that Mrs. Wilfred Chagnon, Mrs. Beverly G. Secord, Mrs. Arthur B. Norley, Mrs. George E. Rawson, Mrs. Edward P. Leonard, Jr., and Mrs. Carleton L. Shaw would be her assistants on Community Club Days at this Clinic.

Mrs. Frank H. Briggs, the president, presiding, extended a cordial welcome to the thirty-four new members of the Club.

Mrs. Raymond B. Ladoo, Program chairman, called attention to the date January 26th, which would be Guest Night, and advised Club members to reserve this date, as an excellent program is offered; a notable speaker on an interesting subject, and there will be also an orchestra for dancing. Each Club member is entitled to bring one guest free of charge, and additional guest tickets may be obtained for 50 cents each.

Mrs. Burdett P. Mansfield urged the Club members to patronize the Candle Beam Shop for their Christmas and other shopping, as a per cent of the proceeds of sales to Club members is contributed to the Club's Scholarship Fund.

Mrs. David Black displayed some of the articles knit by Club members to be gifts to the Disabled Veterans. There was a Food Sale of which Mrs. Maurice W. Dennison was in charge.

The hostesses were Mrs. William E. Earle, Mrs. Albert B. Cram, Mrs. Eldred Peterson, and Mrs. Everett B. Crawford.

Through the Holy Land

The joint meeting of the Junior and Senior Women's Clubs of Newton Highlands was held on Tuesday evening, December 6. Mrs. Edwin S. Drowne, Jr. and Mrs. Malcolm Green presided.

The Chorus of both Clubs gave several selections of Christmas music, both individually and jointly.

The Art corner was arranged for this meeting by the Junior Art committee. The plaque of the Madonna exhibited was made by a Miss Constance Lambert, of the Highlands.

An illustrated travel talk on "The Holy Land" by Mrs. Alice Porter Shockley was the program of the meeting. After covering the Mediterranean coast and describing many well-known points of interest, Mrs. Shockley travelled on to Palestine. Her slides revealed the antiquated methods still used in agriculture in this section. Many famous biblical places still are today as they were in the days of Christ; however, the Zionist settlement in Palestine shows more progress than other parts of the Holy Land, the speaker stated.

Mrs. Shockley's pictures carried her audience through this country to Bethlehem where the Church of the Nativity covers the spot where Christ was born. The square where this church is located, said the lecturer, has recently been the scene of military activities and is now held by the British.

At the conclusion of her lecture, Mrs. Shockley showed slides of the famous Via Dolorosa and included among her pictures some world-famous Madonnas.

After the meeting, officers of both Clubs held an informal reception at the rear of the hall, to greet the Club members.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

Mrs. Stephen P. Hurd gave a very inspiring talk on "Lima, Peru, Palestine and Adolph Hitler," at the regular meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club on Friday, December 9, in the Unitarian Parish House. Mrs. Hurd, who was introduced by the Program chairman, Mrs. D. Earle Brackett, believes that the middle years of a woman's life may be the most interesting and productive. She herself has been very active in Club life, and in 1933 began to study at Harvard University and to speak professionally.

Mrs. William F. Leach, Twelfth District director, was a special guest, and brought Christmas greetings from the State Federation president, Mrs. Henry W. Hildreth, who asks that all clubwomen show "Good Citizenship" by shopping early for Christmas and by mailing packages early, in order to help the Post Office department. She also suggested that each member purchase at least one gift made by the physically-handicapped veterans.

Mrs. Benton Curtis and Mrs. Arthur W. Vaughan carried forward the splendid work of making and filling four bags of Christmas gifts for the disabled War Veterans. Each bag contained nine useful gifts which were all wrapped separately. A check was also sent with these bags to Mrs. G. Viola Dangelmayr, chairman of the State Federation division of Co-operation with Disabled War Veterans, to be used as she saw fit.

A delightful group of Christmas Carols and songs were rendered by Mrs. R. F. Wahlgren, Mrs. John Shade Franklin, Mrs. Walter S. Frost, Mrs. Arthur L. Gates, Mrs. James Messenger, Mrs. Malcolm Warren, Mrs. George A. Wynn, and Mrs. A. Wilham Woglom, under the direction of Mrs. Francis L. Kinney. Mrs. G. Howard Frost accompanied at the piano.

All the officers and special guests were presented with a beautiful corsage bouquet of evergreen cones and ribbon which were made by Mrs. Louis A. Meyers and Mrs. Gordon S. Heath. Each member was allowed to bring a guest without charge to this Christmas meeting, and as they arrived, they were greeted at the door by the Reception committee and received their charming little corsages of green and holly. These were made by Mrs. Gilbert R. Jones and Mrs. Raymond O. Littlefield and donated to the Club by Mrs. Jones. Mrs. Littlefield presented the president, Mrs. Francis H. McCruden, with a beautiful Christmas wreath from the Garden Club, which she herself made.

The tea tables were attractively decorated in red and green, with beautiful flowers and tall candles, and a chubby little snow-man added much cheer. Dainty tea-cakes, with holly trimming, and fruit cake, and green and red mints were very much enjoyed with the tea or coffee. The pourers were Mrs. D. Earle Brackett, Mrs. Willard C. Church, and Mrs. Chester E. Borden. The hostesses were Mrs. Nathaniel A. Billings, and Mrs. Paul E. Carlson, assisted by the Hospitality committee.

Newton Upper Falls Garden Club Elects Officers

The Newton Upper Falls Garden Club held its December meeting at the home of the president, Mrs. Raymond Capobianco, of 92 Thurston rd. on Monday, December 5, at 7 p. m.

The president presided at the business meeting during which the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Miss A. Gertrude Osborne; secretary, Mrs. Frank Mordor; and counselor, Mrs. James McNeally. A corsage bouquet of orchids was presented to the incoming president by the outgoing president, Mrs. Capobianco.

The president reported that the donations of Thanksgiving supplies received at the November meeting filled a large bushel basket which was given to a needy Disabled Veteran's family.

Following the meeting a demonstration of the "Making of Christmas Wreaths and Table Ornaments" was given by Mr. C. Gordon Carter of Newton.

The hostess then invited the guests to the dining room where Christmas plants and a Creche were appropriate features of the decorations. Refreshments were served by the hostess and a group of the members.

Newtonville Junior Club

The last open meeting of the Newtonville Junior Woman's Club was held on Tuesday evening, December 6, at the Newtonville Woman's Club House, Washington park.

The newly-drawn By-laws of the Club were read by the chairman of the By-Laws committee, Miss Sigrid Moller, and were approved by the Club members.

The Club members also agreed to contribute money for the purpose of preparing a Christmas basket for a needy Newton family. Miss Louise Tardivel, chairman of the Philanthropic committee, will have charge of the arrangements for the basket.

Among those new members who were welcomed into the Club at this meeting were: Miss Betty Medbury, Miss Mary Lou Duff, Miss Lucy Brockman, Miss Mary Louise Emery, Miss Marcia Hunnfield, Miss Grace Holman, Miss Thelma Robbins, Miss Frances O'Connell, Miss Marion Wells, Miss Virginia Pierce, Miss Katherine Pierce, Miss Elizabeth Higgins, Miss Ruth Wentworth, Miss Cynthia Southworth, Miss Evelyn Margolin, Miss Patricia Cavanaugh, Miss

Not Guilty of Reckless Driving

James Killen of Walnut st., Natick, was found not guilty by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court on Monday on a charge of driving a car so as to endanger the safety of the public. Killen's car collided on November 18 at Centre st., Newton Centre, with a car which Killen claims was driven by Otis Phillips of Bourne, but which Mary Fisher of Mattapoisett testified she was operating. The woman was injured in the crash.

Children At Hospital Entertained By Santa

Through the courtesy of the Jordan Marsh Co., sixteen children were made happy on Friday morning, Dec. 9, when Santa Claus, Santanon, and a clown heralded in the Christmas season by arriving in full costume, bearing gifts for every child in the hospital. The children had been expecting their arrival and all who were well enough assembled in the large open ward.

Among the children none was happier than little Nancy, a patient little sufferer for five months due to severe burns which she received early in the summer. For her Santa brought a set of dishes which any child might be proud of.

There were games and toys enough to go around, appropriately selected for each child.

The presentation of the gifts followed a jolly party where the visiting trio became acquainted with the children, the clown amusing them with fantastic tricks and Santa Claus answering in every detail their fondest imaginings.

Santanon was a real surprise to them and they thought very appropri-

NEWTON ICE TEAM SEEKS HIGHER BERTH

Hockey takes the limelight at Newton High this week as the school varsity six swings into action in the Greater Boston Interscholastic league at the Boston Arena tomorrow. Newton's initial opponent of the 1938-39 season will be the strong Stoneham outfit which boasts of four regulars from last year's outfit holding down starting positions.

Last winter the Newton squad, woefully handicapped by lack of material gave their new coach, Evan Johnson, many troubled moments as they plunged into the cellar berth of the league in which for many years they had been championship contenders. Coach Johnson, however, surveyed the scene undismayed and built largely for this year and next with a squad which was comprised of many juniors and sophomores. With no place else to go but up the Newton coach figures that this year will see some improvement. At a recent practice session at the Boston Garden the Newton mentor remarked "we will be better than a year ago. It can't be any worse than it was then. Our boys just couldn't skate with the other league teams."

Equipment was issued to 16 boys on Monday and more than half of them saw plenty of service last year. On these boys and the possibility of the development of other candidates Coach Johnson pins his hopes. He is not overly enthusiastic of jumping to the top of the league, however, as defensive weaknesses and lack of experience are already evident.

The Newton first line shapes up with Bill McClellan and Walter Hurley on the wings with Jack Carder at centre. All of them played last year. The only newcomer in the second line is Phil Fessenden at one of the wings. The other wing is Paul "Tony" Hines with Tom Duggan at centre. One of Coach Johnson's problems is Al Berets, the tennis standout. Everts played on the line last year and is regarded by his mentor as the best hockey player on the squad. His lack of speed, however, constitutes the problem. He is a possibility for a first or second line position but may be switched to a defense berth where the only veteran experience is provided by Alex Skene. Jack Holter, a football back, has a slight edge on the second defense berth but two other possibilities in football players, Bob Liming and George Hutchings may press him closely. Tom Powers and Vin Carvelli are also battling for defense berths.

Even at this early date Coach Johnson has tentative ideas on a third forward line. Jack Tedesco, who saw considerable service last year, will probably hold down the centre berth with considerable competition being shown for the wing positions. Gordon Goodband and Jim Gallagher with Joe Beatty, who plays both left wing and centre ice, are leading contenders for places.

Cliff Goodband has the call for the goal position over Wilfred Potter who will probably get a chance to show his worth if Goodband falters. Still others rated as possibilities are Al McLeod and sophomores Bill Betts and Fran Carvelli.

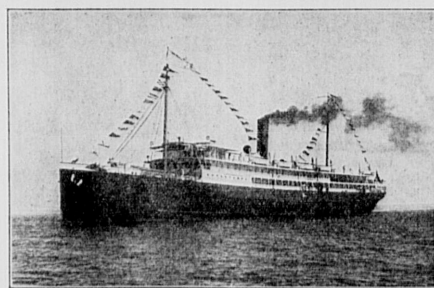

ate, for said one little boy: "How could Santa Claus know what little boys and girls like if he didn't have a boy of his own."

More than the children enjoyed the friendly cheer spread by this gay group for they visited throughout the hospital wards and brought many a smile to patients who deeply appreciated this novel change in hospital routine.

Motor South Via Savannah Line

If you intend to go to Florida this winter, the ideal way is to "Motor via the Savannah Line." Of course you'll want your car, but when you realize that you can take your car with you on a Savannah Liner, it will not cost you any more than if you drive it to the Sunny South, if you allow as little as five cents a mile for operation and depreciation. You save money and all the inconveniences and tedious miles of driving, by routing yourselves and car via the Savannah Line.

And what a trip—3 days of ocean travel at its best. Broad decks, comfortable lounges, cozy staterooms with hot and cold running water, dance cafes, carefree days and long, restful nights that start your vacation the minute you board the ship at Boston.

Delicious meals, temptingly served, make the trip all too short. Simply drive your car to the pier at Boston, and away at Savannah. Fine roads radiate from Savannah to all points in Florida and the South. Sailing each week, with a stopover in New York for a day, with the ship as your hotel, at no additional cost. First-class fares from Boston to Savannah are $33 one-way; $55 round trip with 60 days' limit; and $60 round trip with 9 months' limit. The automobile rates between Boston and Savannah (with one or more passengers) are $25 for one way, and $40 round trip. Marine insurance is included. Complete information and reservations may be obtained from the Newton Steamship Agency, 11 Centre ave., Newton; telephone Newton North 4501.

dory so far as this big phase of the hurricane damage spending is concerned. We are waiting to see what will develop regarding the lavish expenditures authorized by the Department of Education on mythical hurricane damages, expenditures which have been drawing the wrath of the Taxpayers Association and have been under investigation by the Attorney General. During the World War cost plus 10 per cent contracts were quite fashionable, and quite profitable.

Sometimes newspaper reporters and editors write copy correctly only to have embarrassing errors made by linotype operators. And sometimes the linotypers correct embarrassing errors the scribes make. Yesterday Dal Addison, expert linotypist, caught an error we made in a headline to go over an item telling of a man who has been riding his horse over the aqueduct at Newton Highlands. We had intended to write—"Use Aqueduct as Bridle Path." What Dal discovered was this—"Use Aqueduct as Bridal Path." Well, many romantic couples have strolled along the aqueduct in past years.

Fined $50 For Drunken Driving

Herbert Jackson, 34, of Bethany rd., Framingham, was fined $50 by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court on Monday for driving a car while under the influence of liquor. Jackson was arrested about 9:15 Sunday night by Patrolmen Gagnon and Greene after the car he was driving had hit the rear of a truck on the turnpike at Newton Upper Falls. Jackson received slight injuries and was treated by Dr. Sidney Derow.

Stanley Hodgson of South st., Waltham was arrested on Sunday by Patrolman Cronin of the Metropolitan police charged with drunkenness and driving a car while under the influence of liquor. He was arraigned in the Newton court on Monday and his case continued until December 19.

STARLITE MINSTRELS

A very unique Minstrel Show entitled "Lives of Dictators" is to be given on Monday evening, December 19, at 8 o'clock in the Watertown Junior High School Hall. The end men instead of being colored as in the usual minstrel show, will play the part of dictators. The girls will be attired in Russian costumes making a very colorful setting. Among the talent selected for this show are Patricia O'Neill of Newton who will sing and dance, the Maxwell twins from Newton, tap dancers, the drill team of the Daughters of Italy of Newton, and several other numbers by talent from Watertown, Natick and other neighboring towns. The show will be directed by James Smith of Boston. Al Dozola is the publicity director and Leo Conzo and Vernon Stowell are also in charge of the production. There will be dancing following the show.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

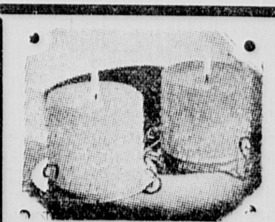

The Newton League of Women Voters, like the National League of which it is a branch, has for object the political education of women voters. In furtherance of this aim, members of Newton League will in the course of the next few weeks interview our Newton senator and representative to learn their position on a few important questions in which the League is especially interested. It is hoped that replies to these interviewers will be more than a simple Yes or No, and will include a brief discussion of the topics under consideration.

These topics are: The wisest treatment of juvenile offenders; Disqualification of married women for public service; Absolute veteran preference for civil service positions; The sales tax.

Two of these points may need a brief explanation.

When a civil service appointment for a woman is to be made it is given to the person who has taken highest rank in the examination. It is proposed to exclude hereafter from the list any married woman whose husband is able to support her.

When a civil service appointment for a man is to be made, any veteran who has reached even the passing mark is to be preferred to any non-veteran, however high the mark of any such non-veteran. It is proposed to abolish or at least modify this preference.

Work Progressing On Newton School

For the past week a power shovel, trucks and a crew of men have been excavating at the site of the cellar for the new school at Pearl st. and Jackson rd., Newton and removing loam to one end of the lot. A large quantity of deep, rich loam was found at the place. The lowest bid on the general contract for the erection of the school, submitted by A. Piotti Company was $173,000 and this company was awarded the contract. Because the amount appropriated for the project was $200,000 and from this the architect's fee and other expenses had to be deducted, the general contract had to be reduced to $168,500.
This was accomplished by eliminating (for the present) an elevator which was to have been installed in the building, and acoustical ceilings in the classrooms. The elevator would have been a new feature in Newton schools. Its purpose would be to serve as a lift for a wheel-chair on which a disabled child might be carried from the basement of the building to the upper floors. There are now in the city several crippled children who have to be taught at their homes by a visiting teacher. It is contended that if school buildings were equipped with lifts, such children could be taken to schools and given the advantage of association with other children. A shaft 5 feet square will be built at the school to permit the installation of the elevator at some future time.

Must Create More Voting Precincts

Because the law limits the number of voters in any one precinct to 2000, and seven precincts in this city now exceed that number, either some of the voters in these precincts must be transferred to other precincts in the same Ward, or new precincts must be created. It is probable that no new precincts will be formed until the boundary lines of the Wards will be changed. There has been agitation for such a change for several years, but strong objections to changes planned in the past few years, caused the existing Ward lines to be continued. In some of the Wards in the city two precincts are located at the same polling place, so changes from one to the other in such an instance, will cause no visible change to the voters affected. The precincts which now contain more than 2000 voters are—Ward 1, Precinct 2, 2199; Ward
3, Precinct 2, 2119; Ward 4, Precinct
1, 2059; Ward 5, Precinct 2, 2384;
Ward 5, Precinct 4, 2018; Ward 6,
Precinct 2, 2455; Ward 7, Precinct 2, 2046.

A FEW SUGGESTIONS FOR CHRISTMAS SAFETY

In the interest of Safety in the home at Christmas time:
Avoid lighted candles in the decoration of the Christmas Tree or Windows. Use carefully wired electric lights.
Place tree in safe distance from the fireplace.
Use metal tinsel for trim and mica or flake asbestos for imitation snow.
Never leave lighted Christmas tree unguarded at any time.
Do not place tree where it will obstruct any exit of a room.
Remove the tree from house before it becomes dry.
Smokers should exercise great care with their matches and smoking material while near tree or decorations.
Before wiring the tree look over the cable carefully; see that there are no exposed wires; also see that plugs are in good order.

School Committee Approves Budget Of $1,550,189.98

The budget of the Newton School Department for the coming year was submitted to the School Committee on Monday night and approved. It totals $1,550,189.98, or about $7000 less than the cost of running the department for this year. The budget submitted by the School Department to the Board of Aldermen for 1938 was $17,000 more than the budget submitted for 1939, but the Aldermen lopped $10,000 from the figures submitted for the year now passing.
Supt. of Schools Warren stated that three reasons contribute to the decrease in the cost of running Newton's schools: a decrease in the number of pupils attending the elementary schools, an increase in the amount received from the Federal Government for the support of the Trade School, recognition of the need for more rigid economy in 1938—a year in which no expansion can take place in the schools. The usual provisions for automatic raises in teachers' salaries is made in the budget, which has been submitted to Mayor Childs.
The Committee approved the appointment of Mary Herlihy of 12 Richardson rd., Upper Falls to succeed Dorothea Duane as a teacher at the Burr School. Miss Duane has resigned as

Sneak Auto Out, Get Into Trouble

Two young West Newton women were arraigned in the Newton court on Monday charged with using an automobile without authority and each received a 30 days' suspended sentence to the House of Correction. One of the girls was employed as a domestic by Charles Penneck of 122 Temple st.
With her companion, who drove the car, they took it from Penneck's garage without his knowledge, and in backing it out the doors of the garage were damaged. Then the girl driving the car did not release the emergency brake, and when the car reached River and Lexington sts., the friction caused the brake lining to ignite and a fire alarm was sent in. Serg. Sullivan and Patrolman Scott arrived at the scene and found the driver had no license. She was fined $5 for this offense. The girls agreed to make restitution to the amount of $18.

the GRAPHIC, and the balance of which will be printed in next week's GRAPHIC. Maynard Hutchinson, chairman of the committee, informed the Board of Aldermen at its last meeting, when the report was presented, that the problem will be a continuing one, that the report is by no means complete, and that the need for such a committee will go on. The report follows:

One of the committee conferred with a member of the staff of the Rockefeller Foundation, and made the suggestion that Newton be considered as a field for laboratory study.
The Foundation already having made an appropriation for a similar study in New York State, using the county as a unit for administrative purposes, our suggestion could not be given consideration.

The Welfare problem has probably been the major concern of our governmental agencies all over the country during the past five or six years.
The Welfare expenditure in Newton has risen to an alarming extent. Statistics are not necessary to prove the existence of this difficult problem, but a few comparative figures will indicate the degree to which Newton residents have been affected, and the extent to which our obligations to the needy have increased.

Net expenditures	$ 77,014	$396,657	$509,832*

Although the city government is responsible for and directs so-called public welfare, this report will make certain references to private relief agencies for the reason that they play an important part in the general scheme, and because the scopes and activities of public and private agencies should be correlated and coordinated.

As a matter of record, and in order to avoid duplication at some future date, mention will now be made of certain remedial activities which were investigated and considered, but which were abandoned or rejected as impracticable.

In the spring of the present year, the Board received a recommendation from His Honor the Mayor, relative to the employment of an outside expert for the purposes of a survey of welfare work in Newton.
An organization known as Clarence A.
Bingham and Associates was mentioned by name. The committee considered this recommendation at considerable length, and found that Mr.
Bingham had made several surveys in other cities, and that his staff for the most part was made up of experienced investigators. Several reference letters were examined, and sources checked. We also obtained information as to the attitude of the American Welfare Association towards surveys by individuals and commercial organizations conducted for a profit. We learned that this type of survey was not favored by social workers because it created suspicion, damaged the morale of relief workers, lowered the confidence of relief clients in case workers because of the methods necessarily employed by the

The general theory and basic philosophy of "mutual aid" and supplementary "work relief" appeal strongly to the Committee. Unemployed men and women should have the opportunity of producing something for their own benefit and that of the city. In this connection, it was thought that an institution of the Morgan Memorial type might be established in Newton and that its field of service might extend to neighboring cities. Likewise the so-called "Richmond Plan" offered possibilities.
The Morgan Memorial Good Will industries, Boston, is an institution which relies on salvage materials, such as metals, newspapers, magazines, rags and voluntary contributions of any nature to cover its overhead. A number of departments are maintained, including furniture repairing, upholstering, shoe repairing, toy mending, clothes repairing and cleaning. In each of these departments two experienced persons are employed who know the work thoroughly and can train and instruct the others.

A service store is maintained where re-made items are sold for moderate prices. In good times such a store can be counted upon to pay 80% of the expense. Recently, these stores have paid only 70% of the cost. Mr.
Moore, Treasurer and Assistant Superintendent of the Morgan Memorial.

Christmas, 1938

Christmas comes, there's peace on earth,
As thoughts turn back to Jesus' birth.
The gospel spreads good will to men,
The Star of Bethlehem gleams again.

Care and trouble seem to lift
As we rejoice at God's Great Gift.
Though now and then our hearts are sad,
We hear the voice that makes us glad.

It comes to all throughout the world,
To high and low, Faith is unfurled,
Bringing to earth from day to day,
The Spirit of Christ. It is His way.

THE WELFARE PROBLEM

The report of the aldermanic committee which has been studying the welfare problem in Newton is of much interest and great concern to every Newton resident. The problem of caring for those unfortunate persons who find themselves unable to provide for themselves and their families in the time of depression and unemployment can only be solved by a careful consideration of the many inter-related problems. It is generally conceded that welfare will constitute a permanent major factor in the conduct of government. This condition has been brought about by the drastic change in our economic situation during the past decade. The rehabilitation of families deprived of many of the necessities of life is but one problem. The re-employment by private industry is another. Yet out of the complex maze of problems we cannot lose sight of the fact that those who carry the burden of cost, as charitably inclined as they may be, must not be overburdened. The administration of welfare must always be just, equitable and efficient.

THE SCHOOL BUDGET

Announcement of the 1939 school budget brings the welcome news that educational costs next year will be slightly lower than that of the passing year. The decrease in the total amount needed, although small, is due in part to the decrease in the number of pupils enrolling in the schools, and in part to larger grants for Trade school purposes. It is wise, however, to give a word of warning that the per capita cost may show a slight increase and with the building of two new schools another year it may well mean a still greater per capita cost. We recognize the necessity of these new school buildings and we have no thought of criticism in stating this fact. We believe the School Committee is aware of the situation and that they are also aware of the necessity of keeping the costs of education within reasonable limits.

Hind Laundry Employees Hold Xmas Party

Over 135 members of the Hinds Laundry Associates, employees of the Hinds Laundry Co., of Brookline, and their guests, held their fourth annual Christmas party at the Casa Manana on Monday night.

This party was sponsored by Mr. Roy S. Milbury, president of the company. The committee consisted of Herbert McLaughlin, chairman and master of ceremonies, Margaret Neylen and Helen Morey. Later in the evening prizes were awarded for entertainment provided by the company's own employees.

SAFETY SONNETS

Dog Gets Caught Climbing Chimney

A collie dog, owned by Louis Madfis of 53 West Boulevard rd., Newton Center, started to climb the chimney at his home on Sunday night, and became trapped when the damper in the fireplace where he entered closed behind him. The dog had been put in the basement when the family went out for the evening, and when Madfis returned about 11 o'clock, he heard the dog barking in the chimney. He notified the fire department and the crew of Engine 3 went to the house. The firemen opened the damper in the basement fireplace and extricated the dog.

Waban Youth Fined $25 for Speeding

Courtland Barnes, 21, of 14 Oakvale rd., Waban, was fined $25 by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court last Saturday for speeding. It was his second conviction for speeding within a year, so the fine was mandatory. Patrolman John Green testified that he observed Barnes driving his car the wrong direction on Short st., Waban; a one-way street, that the youth rounded the corner onto Chestnut st. at a rate of 35 miles, and then increased the speed to 40 miles per hour. The charge for going the wrong way on the one-way street was filed.

W. C. T. U.

The West Newton W. C. T. U. met on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. M. Millie Beardsley, 108 Crescent st., Auburndale. Following the regular business meeting a Christmas party and exchange of gifts was enjoyed. Each member brought a package to be put in Christmas baskets to be sent out to needy families. Mrs. Ella F. Hall was the assisting hostess.

Ward 1 Asso. Holds Christmas Party

The Ward 1 Improvement Association held its annual Christmas party at the Lincoln School on Tuesday night. Games were enjoyed and community singing was indulged in with George King officiating as pianist. Ex-Alderman William Sprout, disguised as Santa Claus, distributed gifts. Prizes for the most original costume and the funniest costume were awarded to Mrs. William Fanning and Miss Elsie Walker. Edward H. Powers, president of the association, told of the assistance the organization has given in helping procure the new school which will replace the old Lincoln and Elliot Schools, and which will also provide a proper meeting place for the association. Alderman Edward Fahey spoke on the influence improvement associations are wielding in this city. The party was arranged by Miss Margaret McDonald, secretary of the association.

Middlesex Court Christmas Party

Middlesex Court, No. 60, M. C. O. F., will hold a Christmas party at its next meeting on Tuesday evening, Dec. 27, 1938, at Elks' Hall, Newton. Chief Ranger Miss Mary M. Mulligan appointed Mrs. Mabel Bryson and Miss Catherine Conroy as chairwomen of the committee in charge which will include the officers of the court. An entertainment is to be held followed by a collation. Each member is entitled to invite a friend. There will be an exchange of gifts as each person is requested to bring along an inexpensive grab for the occasion. Santa Claus will be present and as an added attraction will have his wife on hand for the party. This annual event has been a successful and pleasant affair in past years and many of the members are looking forward to be present at this year's celebration.

PARAMOUNT TO HOLD XMAS PARTY FOR CHILDREN

Santa Claus will visit the stage of the Paramount Theatre, Newton Corner in person Saturday, Dec. 24th, as part of a gala Christmas party to be staged by the popular Hughie McGinness and his regular Saturday matinee Kiddie Stage Revues. The dancers will be furnished by Newton's own Gerrie Wisbach, offering a special Yuletide routine designed and directed by Miss Wisbach.

Many of Newton's leading merchants are co-operating and contributions from them make it possible for Santa Claus to give to a host of lucky boys and girls in the audience presents to start their Christmas. For a "bang-up" real good kiddie show, mark down next Saturday to the Paramount Theatre (the day before Christmas) on your "must see" list.

Christmas Party for Children Of Whiting Employees

The Whiting Milk Company entertained the children of its many employees at a series of gay Christmas parties. These Christmas parties are an annual affair, and the children look forward to them with great eagerness. Each child received a gift from a jolly "Santa Claus" as a climax to an afternoon of fun, entertainment, and refreshments. Dr. Carl W. Larson, president of the Whiting Milk Company, was the initiator of the annual Christmas parties, and other major executives of the company made the necessary plans and arrangements to insure their success.

Because of the large number of employees and the many divisions of the Whiting Milk Company, the parties were held by Company Divisions. During the past week, parties were given at the Whiting Divisions in Charlestown, Quincy, Dorchester, Marblehead, Hyde Park, Watertown, which service a number of suburban Boston cities and towns, including Newton.

Rotary Club

The weekly meeting of the Newton Rotary Club on Monday was particularly happy with the Christmas spirit. As in years past, all of the members brought in their gifts for the children of the Peabody Home. Later 38 members of the Glee Club of the Newton High School delighted the club with the singing of the beautiful cantata "Child Jesus" the music of which was composed by Joseph W. Clokey, of Pomona College, Calif., who ranks high as a composer. The words of the composition are by Hazel Jean Kirk. The young people did excellent work both in the solo parts and in the chorus under the able baton of the director of music in the Newton schools, Mr. Haydn M. Morgan. Superintendent Julius Warren is in charge of the Rotary programs for December.

Dr. Sidney De Row, successor to the late Dr. E. C. Cummings as city physician of Newton, was introduced to the club by Dr. Edward Leonard, whereupon Dr. Harold D. Choate in a witty speech inducted Dr. De Row into club membership. The new member, who will henceforth be known as "Sid," shares with Dr. Choate the classification "Public Health Service."

Next week's meeting, which will be on Tuesday, Dec. 27, will be the annual Christmas party for children, with a magician to entertain.

Newton is to have a dramatic treat such as is seldom afforded here in the performance of Uncle Tom's Cabin at Elliot Hall next Tuesday at Abbey's double company. The famous drama, which has brought laughter and tears for so many years, will be given with the added novelty of two "Topsy's" and two "Marks," who are sure to keep the audience in an uproar. There will be a grand street parade during the day.

The returns to the County Treasurer show that on December 1 the number of dogs licensed in this city were 731 males and 68 females. Twelve dogs licensed elsewhere were transferred to Newton, making the total 809.

The City Auditor's statement to December 1 shows an unexpended balance of $42,234.87 of the appropriations.

Section 3392 of the revised statutes of the United States imposes a penalty of a fine of not over $500, or one year's imprisonment, or both for taking another person's letter from a postoffice to obstruct his correspondence or to pry into his affairs, or for secreting, embezzling or destroying such a letter. Channing Church was the scene on Wednesday evening of the first wedding held in the new edifice, and which was the most brilliant social event of the season. The parties united in marriage were Miss Marion A. Adams, daughter of Luther Adams, and Charles H. Breck, a member of the firm of Joseph Breck & Son, both of Brighton. The bride and her family are attendants at Channing Church and former residents of Newton. The church was filled at an early hour, some 500 guests being present.

50 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, Dec. 14, 1888
Many complaints have been made of the dark streets the past week.

D. R. Emerson's horse became frightened while crossing the B. & A. tracks at Centre st., Newton, on Wednesday, just as an express train was approaching. As the horse became balky the gatetender kept the gates up, and Mr. Emerson led the horse across the tracks in time to avert an accident.

The 60-hour swimming contest at the Grand Museum in Boston, between Leavitt of Newton, and Stone, finished Saturday evening at 10. Leavitt broke the record by covering 50 miles and 11 laps; Stone swam 36 miles and 1 lap. Leavitt was presented with $600 for his week's labor, and Stone received $100.

In the police court last week 13 cases were heard; 8 for drunkenness and 5 for causing disturbances.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night Alderman Ward said he had written to the Newton & Watertown Gas Light Company asking if they are willing to fulfill the contract they offered to make with the city last summer to light the streets. He said he had received a letter from Joseph N. Bacon, president of the Gas Company, and that now conditions have changed, inasmuch as the Gas Company has bought out the Newton Electric Light Company. Last summer the Electric Light Company offered to light Newton's streets for $27,000 for the coming year, and the Gas Company offered to do the same for $24,500 with 10% off, making $22,100. Now, the Gas Company says it will not charge more than the Electric Light Company offered to charge for the contract.

Powers' Paragraphs

The gala appearance of Newton Corner, festooned and illuminated for the Christmas season, has caused much favorable comment, and warrants praise for the Taylor estate and the business men of that district who co-operated in obtaining the decorations. It shows a determination on the part of those concerned to bring a resurgence of Newton Corner as an important business centre. The huge, well-lighted Christmas tree on Centre st. near the Trust Company building is evidence of the efficient efforts of George Rogers and his assistants in the Newton Forestry Department. The Forestry Department also placed Christmas trees in front of City Hall and at Farlow Park, and decorated living trees at West Newton and Auburndale.

The practice which prevails in Newton, in common with other communities, of placing Christmas wreaths outside doors and colored bulbs on living trees a week or more preceding Dec. 25 results in the theft of some of these decorations. Personally, we believe it would be more appropriate if people would not put the wreaths in place and illuminate their homes until Christmas Eve, and then keep them displayed until after New Year's Day.

Why should men who attempted to bribe jurors receive pardons after serving several months of a 2½ years' sentence, when hundreds of men who are serving prison terms for less serious offences against society have to remain in jail until their prison terms will have expired?

Two years ago Charles E. Hurley assumed the office of Governor of Massachusetts high in the regard of the majority of the people of this Commonwealth because they believed he would give an administration that would be beneficial to the State and creditable to himself. For the first few months of his term it appeared that Governor Hurley would live up to these expectations. But, during the past year his political acts caused him to sink so rapidly in the esteem of the people of Massachusetts that he was not only repudiated in the primary, but he is ending his term as Chief Executive not in a blaze of glory, but in a murk. The use of a catastrophe such as the hurricane as a medium for the unnecessary expenditure of money wrought from overtaxed people; the attempt to add another expenditure of $4,700,000 to the $19,500,000 appropriated for hurricane rehabilitation, and the pardons Governor Hurley recommended the past week will cause him to be remembered, but not favorably.

The tragic end of F. Donald Coster, who was revealed as Philip Musica, a former criminal, and the details of his remarkable career, has crowded Adolph Hitler off the front pages of American newspapers. Musica (alias Coster's rise and fall, show how our big financial interests and our society arbiters can both be fooled. While it is embarrassing for those who publish "Who's Who," that directory of the alleged elite of the U. S. A., to have F. Donald Coster's fake biography printed in its high-hat pages, unless we are mistaken, last year the name of a pet spaniel was printed in this same publication, the dog's name having been sent in by its owner as a practical joke. A few more incidents such as these, and inclusion in the list of U. S. A. "aristocracy" will not be so sought after.

Philip Musica was a born swindler and the methods he resorted to were quite outside the law. He obtained millions of dollars by means of non-existent business. Other big financiers whose honesty and ethics have been questionable kept within the law and maintained their leadership in society. They merely watered stocks, or resorted to inflation through the agency of affiliated companies.

The much publicized conference at Lima between representatives of this country and the countries of South America and Central America, which was instigated by the U. S. A. for the purpose of organizing this hemisphere against invasion or control by Germany, Italy or Japan, has been a failure so far because of the unfriendly attitude of Argentina. That country is plainly under the influence of the European dictators. It has been showing an unfriendly attitude toward citizens of this country as compared with other South American countries by its requirement of a visa from U. S. tourists, so its enmity toward the effort to unite the republics of the Western World in a common cause is not unexpected. If the Argentine persists in its attempts to obstruct the plan of the U. S. A. and a majority of Central and South American countries, it may learn that there are other methods than a peaceful conference. Germany, Italy and Japan are not the only countries which can resort to force.

A few months ago when Mayor Childs first submitted the name of William B. Earle to the Board of Aldermen for appointment to the office of Street Commissioner, we stated that in our opinion Acting Street Commissioner Charles McCarthy should have been given the position, and we still think so. We also stated at that time that we have known Mr. Earle intimately since our boyhood days, served with him in the Board of Aldermen, and we believe he would fill the position efficiently; and we still hold that opinion. But we doubt if enough of the 19 Aldermen who voted against the confirmation of the appointment will change their attitude on this matter to reverse their former action.

The Tree Is Trimmed!

As the last garland has been suspended, the last star tied, the final handful of tinsel tossed, the step-ladder is moved away and the tree trimmers may point with pride to their achievement. It cannot be said that the work has been done single-handed, for every member of the family has had a suggestion to offer as to where this ball should hang and that figure attached. The assistance has been more supervisory than co-operative. If there is anything that everybody knows, far better than yourself, it is the way in which a Christmas tree should be decorated. They seldom appear until the job has been nearly completed. Then they point out how much better it would be if the whole thing were changed and instead of the present arrangement another should take its place. They are willing, indeed, that you should perform whatever labor may be involved, and that they add the finishing and beautifying touches. But what of it? The tree is decorated and THERE SHE STANDS!

Back to Private Life

What with a lot of new executives taking office next month throughout the land there will be sworn in many Governors and Mayors who will make speeches to the people. Somehow a great deal of importance is attached to an inaugural address and no wonder. Here's a man who has many plans for the good of the people and is ready to outline them. As interesting as such an address is likely to prove, I sometimes wonder how it would be if the outgoing executive had a few words to say. Possibly the reason it has never been done is that the idea didn't strike the popular fancy. Nevertheless, I still think it wouldn't be a bad idea if it were tried. Yes, I'll admit that some Governors and Mayors would have a lot of explaining to do and if there were hecklers in the audience, as there are almost certain to be, the embarrassment of these retiring statesmen would be considerable. But my idea is not to put them on the griddle, but merely to give them a little toasting, if deserved, or a good hearty slap on the back if it is really coming to them.

Soft-Hearted Critic

Were it not inappropriate at this season of the year to harbor thoughts other than the kindest, I might be tempted to indulge in a long tirade against "the explainer." Let me identify him more plainly as the fellow who tells his companion at the theatre or movies what to expect next to happen and in fact how the story of the play is coming out. If you try you can ignore him unless he is too much for you. One of his kind had me upset the other day when I observed an interesting performance by a sleight-of-hand expert. The tricks were mystifying and delightful and the occasion would have given me an abundance of pleasure if there had not been an "explainer" in the seat ahead. Whenever the magician did something that evoked applause this obnoxious member of the audience pretended to know how it was accomplished and pointed out the details. As I started to say, we mustn't be too severe at Yuletide so all I can hope is that he receives a lot of Christmas presents he doesn't want or have been shipped him C. O. D.

Odd Show of Anger

Prejudice may be calmly concealed, which, it seems to me is more intelligent and prudent, and then again it may be revealed in violent outbursts of temper. Here's an instance that shows how odd and freaky anger may become. One of our most influential and prosperous citizens was riding on the train to Boston, headed for business. As was his custom he opened his newspaper and there, on page one, saw the picture of a foremost statesman—his whose name is in almost every edition. The sight so infuriated him that he tore the paper in such a way as to completely remove the offending portrait. The paper, with a gaping hole and partly shredded was not easily read and certainly of grotesque appearance. Nevertheless, its condition made no difference to the man who hates a certain party.

Final Word to Santa Claus

Dear Sir:

It has just occurred to me that although everybody knows you are expected Christmas eve there may be some who are not at home to receive you. Also that you will find that in some instances you have the wrong address or that the people you are looking for have moved away. I don't know what your policy is in such cases. It may be that it is customary for you to take their presents back to the North Pole with you. If it will help any, and I've no doubt it would, I'd be glad to take any undelivered packages off your hands and charge you nothing for the trouble. Good luck, old man, and don't get too near the lighted candles and let your whiskers catch fire. Yours truly, L. D. G. B.

Here, truly, is a stately Gift for someone you love!

NEWTON SEXTET OPENS SEASON TYING STONEHAM

The Newton High School hockey team, which finished last year in the cellar, opened the 1938-39 Greater Boston Interscholastic League hockey season by playing Stoneham High to a tie, 1-1, last Saturday. Both points were scored in the first period of play. Walter "Bud" Hurley, of football fame, tallied the tying counter for the Orange and Black, with Stoneham scoring first just after Captain Jack Carder of Newton received the first penalty of the current season.

Newton went into the Boston Arena as the underdog in the contest. Newton and Stoneham both have veteran outfits, although Newton's eight vets did not see much service last year, whereas Stoneham's veterans saw considerable.

First Period: The first period started out slowly with each team trying to find each others weaknesses. Stoneham struck first when they sent five men down the ice on one of their well-known rushes. Big Alex Skene took care of two of the men and Goalie Cliff Goodband made a clever stop of a shot. Jack Carder received the first penalty for high-sticking. This brought a cry of disgust from the Newton rooters present. Stoneham showed renewed energy and began a series of five-men rushes. Johnny Russell, Stoneham center, taking a pass from left-winger Joe Tole, shot one by Cliff Goodband for the initial score, after about six minutes of play. Less than two minutes later, on a pass play that the hockey team has been practicing on for the last three weeks, "Bud" Hurley shot one between the gas-pipes to knot the score, taking the puck on Jack Carder's nifty pass. The score would have been 2-1 in favor of Newton if left-winger Bill McLellan had sunk a shot on an open net when the Stoneham goalie left his cage too far. The period ended without much further ado, neither team threatening seriously.

The second period saw both teams skating faster. Newton was apparently playing for a tie as they kept three men in back of the blue line. The game began to slow up at the end of five minutes of play when Referee Bill Cleary began to blow his whistle for offside and anything he wanted to. Alex Skene played beautifully, handling out check after check, doing everything possible without committing a penalty. Cliff Goodband made many stops that might have got through any other goalie. Tom Dugan received the only other penalty of the game when he slashed a Stoneham forward.

The third period was a repetition of the second with the exception of the penalty, although much faster all through. Towards the end Newton and Stoneham both began rushing again.

Alex Skene played a magnificent game at right defense throughout the contest, playing the whole game. Cliff Goodband was unbeatable after the first goal was scored against him. Jack Holter showed in the third period better than in either of the first two. All the others that played deserve due credit for helping Newton to eek out a tie from a highly touted Stoneham team. Above all, Captain Jack Carder, Walter Hurley and Bill McLellan even though the latter was over-anxious on a shot or two.

Arlington and Medford were the only teams to chalk up victories, the other contests being a tie.

Vandalism Causes Discharge of 26 WPA Workers

Twenty-six men, who have been obtaining employment as WPA workers in Newton, were discharged on Monday by WPA officials as a result of complaints made that vandalism occurred while the crew which they composed was engaged in gypsy moth suppression work on the estate of Frederick H. Kennard at Dudley rd., Oak Hill. Someone in the crew daubed creosote on the butt ends of logs cut from fallen trees on the estate and on a small log cabin there. A large elkhead owned by Kennard also was smeared with creosote, but it is not certain whether the chemical got on the dog accidentally, or was put on deliberately. It was washed off by an employee of the estate before the dog suffered any injury from it.

All of the men in the crew were questioned but none would admit knowing anything regarding the mischievous use of the creosote, so it was decided to discharge the entire crew, including the foreman. The men appealed from the discharges, notices of which were signed by James Macauley, a field engineer for WPA, and a hearing was held on Wednesday.

Counterfeit Bills Being Passed

The Newton Chamber of Commerce has issued a warning to storekeepers of this city to be on the watch for counterfeit $10 bills, several of which have been passed here. The bills are well printed and difficult to detect. Newton police have sent out a warning about a thief who passes checks. He purchased articles costing $4.50 at the store of Elinor Curry in Newtonville and tendered a check for $25, which later was found to be spurious.

Aldermen Report on Welfare Problem

was of the opinion that in order to start a service store in Newton 40% of the overhead would have to be provided by private subscription. He further considered it inadvisable to start a branch in Newton because:

- (1) The prices for salvaged materials today are very low.
- (2) A relatively small number of families could be assisted in this manner.
- (3) The Morgan Memorial would lose many contributions from Newton which in the face of a large deficit this year would not be sound business.

The Citizen's Service Exchange or "Richmond Plan" started in January, 1933, was found to follow the same general plan as the Morgan Memorial except that it receives city funds instead of endowed. Script is used instead of money as a medium of exchange. The department includes a bakery, barber shop, beauty shop, kitchen and dining room, and printing. Richmond also started a farm project on city land for the unemployed to produce supplementary food products. Citizens also responded to the request for donations of standing timber so that men could earn their own firewood.

Objectives and Means of Accomplishment

After a considerable amount of discussion, certain definite objectives were listed and an effort made to indicate the means by which these objectives might to some degree be accomplished. First, as to the objectives, the committee believes that we should do everything possible to:

- (1) Eliminate duplication and overlapping.
- (2) Eliminate impostors.
- (3) Discover and care for the unmet needs.
- (4) Promote rehabilitation and re-employment.
- (5) Create opportunities for recipients of welfare to produce their own food and fuel, also to procure and repair clothing.
- (6) Suggest projects and other activities that should be of benefit to the city but not involve high maintenance cost for the future.

These objectives all present problems of implementation.

Duplication, overlapping and impostors can best be dealt with through a Social Service Index. The index is considered in Boston and in many other cities throughout the country to be an invaluable organ to efficient and economic administration of relief. It may be defined as a name and street number index file of all families and persons known to the social case working agencies of a community. Its use consists of each agency reporting to the index the names and addresses of families or persons applying for service, and receiving in return, the names of agencies, if any, who have previously given service to the same family or person. In this way the index provides a means of Social Agencies interchanging information about a client leading to more cooperative and intelligent care. In order to be of any use the case working agencies must report regularly and completely to the index.

The committee found that when the index was started in September 1933, 1761 case cards were filed from records of the Agencies that were members of the index service, namely, The Family Service Bureau, Newton Hospital, Catholic Welfare Committee, Department of Public Welfare and Mayor's Relief Committee. Since that time the number of cards in the index has increased slowly and irregularly to approximately 3000. The only organizations reporting regularly to the index are the Family Service Bureau, Newton Hospital, District Nursing Association, Catholic Welfare and Red Cross.

In trying to determine why the index is not properly used and kept up to date, it appears that:

- (a) Most of the Agencies realize the value of the index but fail to use it because of inadequate staff.
- (b) Non-use of the index quickly results in others feeling that the index cannot supply the needed information and consequently leads to further non-use.
- (c) The Soldier's Relief, State Unemployment Office, and WPA are prevented by Federal Regulations from reporting facts, figures and circumstances.

The Committee is of the opinion that it is essential to good Relief Administration to get the Social Service Index on an all-inclusive, efficient basis. This would involve:

- (a) Education of the workers in all Public and Private Agencies to the value of the index and to the fact that cooperation must prevail if it is to accomplish its purpose.
- (b) Propaganda through individuals who can exert influence.
- (c) Bringing the index up to date.

Note: A committee of the Newton Community Council is actively engaged on the subject of the Social Service Index.

It is suggested that the latter might be accomplished as a WPA project employing at least three clerks. Unmet needs can be dealt with by the Welfare Committee of the Newton Community Council, as its membership includes representatives of both public and private agencies.

Expect Many Phone Messages On Xmas Day

"Anticipating an all-time record number of messages on Christmas day, this year the telephone men and women are prepared to do their part in sending long distance Christmas greetings between New England points," Manager Campbell of the Newton office of the New England Tel. & Tel. Co., announced today.

More than five thousand men and women of the telephone company will give up all or part of their holiday at home in order to assist in handling calls on Christmas day, and nearly seven thousand people will be needed to handle the flood of New Year's calls. In all company offices where a cafeteria is in service, special Christmas dinners will be on the menu.

People can do their Christmas shopping and mailing early, but when they send their greetings by telephone, naturally they want to make the calls on the holiday. Manager Campbell says, "These messages or exchanges of greetings generally mean more to our customers than any other call throughout the year. Calls between neighbors here in New England and their relatives and friends all over the world closely unite them on these important holidays despite the stretch of time or distance."

Programs In The Christmas Spirit

Significance of Christmas in Creche Exhibit

The religious significance of the Christmas holiday was portrayed Sunday afternoon, December 18, in the Exhibition of Creches in the Reception Room of the Newton Centre Woman's Club House. Both children and adults were represented among the exhibitors of the beautiful handiwork. Little Miss Helen Bird Loring, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Loring, well-known artists, was one of the young exhibitors. Jack Merrill, young son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Merrill, entered two different groups, consisting of figures of his own modeling. One Creche made by Jack was most ingeniously arranged with the face of the Virgin lighted by a mirror reflecting the light of a small flashlight bulb. Mrs. William H. Lohrop showed a very large and impressive Creche with a desert scene of sand, with tropical plants. A small group of figures modeled in clay by Mrs. Vaughan Dabney, the chairman in charge of the work, was another show.

One of the interesting highlights of the Exhibit was the wall-hanging made in Sweden and typical of those fashioned for the Swedish Christmas. With this was displayed an Advent Bowl with four candles, one candle to be lighted for each Sunday in Advent. The fourth candle was lighted Sunday. These articles were brought from Sweden by Mrs. Nels Ferre. Dr. Ferre is Doctor of Christian Philosophy in the Andover-Newton Theological School.

The Community Sing was directed by Mrs. Arthur B. Hitchcock, and Mrs. Edward A. Estaver accompanied on the violin.

Another Beautiful Creche Exhibit

The dignity and beauty of the true meaning of Christmas was the atmosphere of the Workshop during the two-day annual Creche Exhibit held by the Newton Highlands Woman's Club, Saturday and Sunday, December 17 and 18.

Among the beautiful Madonnas was a blue pottery plaque shown against a background of blue damask and set off with candles and dainty bouquets of sweet peas and roses. This was exhibited by Mrs. H. Herbert Hale.

A Madonna, hand-made, of Holland glass, was graciously lent by the Middle Door Gift Shop. The Madonna which she plaque, made by Miss Constance Lambert, of the Highlands, was exhibited by the Junior Woman's Club.

Among the children of Newton Highlands exhibiting were Charles Odell, Bob Reynolds, who made his pottery figures, Allston Budgell, Jr., Ross Humphrey and Seward Kennedy. Little Miss Gillespie featured a Madonna which she modeled of soap. Dean Waiter's very complete creche was unusual in that all but the figures themselves were made by this boy.

The adults showing their creches were Mrs. Elwood I. Clapp Mrs. Edgar J. Smith, Mrs. Herbert O. Stetson, and Mrs. R. D. Flansburgh. "The Heavenly Choir" figurines from Bruges, Belgium, were shown by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Weaver, and the Swedish influence was presented in Mrs. M. Paul Hessler's blue and silver exhibit.

Several unusual exhibits were shown through the courtesy of Miss Grace Hunter for the William Filene's Sons Gift Shop.

The Art Committee of the Club, under the direction of Mrs. Fred Thompson, sponsored this beautiful exhibit.

On Sunday evening a group of Christmas songs was the contribution of the Club Chorus to the occasion, and then all present joined in the singing of carols.

Christmas Decorations Exhibit

The Newton Highlands Garden Club held an Exhibit of Christmas Decorations on Saturday, December 17, and Sunday, December 18, in the Craft Room of the Workshop, in connection with the annual Creche Exhibit arranged by the Art and Music committees of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands. These two exhibits made a most pleasing and enjoyable combination. The Craft Room conveyed the true Christmas Spirit with its wreaths and greens, softened by candlelight. Wreaths of many different types were exhibited by Mrs. H. P. Gray, Mrs. Leonard T. Jenney, Miss Mary P. Stark, Mrs. P. I. Merry, Mrs. Noel G. Monroe, Mrs. B. Walter Godsoe, Mrs. Ernest J. Weaver, and Mrs. D. D. McKay. Mrs. Emil F. Haberstroh had a swag suitable to use above a fireplace. A Cape Cod mantle with antique clocks and candlesticks, and filled stockings hanging from it, was exhibited by Miss Marion H. Dorr. Mrs. M. Paul Hessler set a Christmas dinner-table for four, with an unusual cellophane tree as a centerpiece; also two very modern cellophane angels. Four sprays decorated with bells and cones were entered by Mrs. James F. Cooper, Mrs. C. S. Perkins, Miss Marion H. Dorr, and Mrs. Donald D. McKay. Table centerpieces were fashioned by Mrs. Seward G. Johnson, Mrs. A. H. Elder, Mrs. J. Butler Studley, Mrs. H. P. Gray, Mrs. Edward I. Brown, Mrs. C. S. Perkins, and Mrs. Donald D. McKay. Mrs. P. I. Merry showed a living-room table arrangement, illuminating, by a Roman lamp, a Madonna picture.

Appetizing fruit arrangements were made by Mrs. Ward I. Cornell, Mrs. Charles R. Stark, and Miss Adeline P. Graham, and a bit of the antique was brought to mind by a clever arrangement of vegetables in a 200-year-old iron kettle, on a genuine homespun scarf, by Miss Mary P. Stark. A tempting gift basket of jellies was shown by Mrs. B. Walter Godsoe. One of the most outstanding exhibits was a Swiss wood-carving of a Madonna, in tones of brown on a harmonizing tortoise print, backed by a most unusual wreath of dried seed pods, cones and acorns.

Marionettes and Santa Claus

To the stirring strains of a march, played by Mrs. Clarence A. Wentworth, House chairman, the children who were invited by the Newtonville Woman's Club to attend the annual Children's Christmas Party, entered the auditorium to prepare for the visit of Santa Claus. They were given a cordial welcome by Mrs. Paul E. Ellicker, a vice-president.

The program presented for the enjoyment of both the children and the Club members was given by Mr. Curtis Beach's Marionettes concerning the amazing land of make-believe in "Hansel and Gretel." With background of fascinating scenery of the famous scene of "Babes in the Wood," all the more delightful because of the miniature proportions, Mr. Beach cleverly manipulated his tiny figures of Hansel, Gretel, their realistic dog, and the bad old witch on the broomstick.

A surprise followed, Mr. Beach said, for the second show, namely, two old friends were shown which his youthful audience guessed after some questioning to be Mickey Mouse and Felix the clown. In addition to the charm of the lighting, action, and script, Mr. Beach revealed a genuine understanding of little folk in making them share unconsciously and spontaneously in his program, by asking them questions through Mickey Mouse, the Marionette.

The committee for the Children's Christmas Party, with Mrs. Adams Haug, chairman, added to the afternoon's pleasure with the attractively decorated tables in the dining-room, with generous refreshments, and with the big, shining tree and presents for each child at its base. Then arrived Miss Marian Bassett, a jolly Santa Claus, and the Christmas spirit with its eternal message of service and joy, was shared equally by the group of needy children remembered and by those who had made it possible, the members of the Newtonville Woman's Club.

A feature which the children enjoyed also was the taking of their photograph with their guest Santa Claus.

The Annual Christmas Party of the Business and Professional Group of the Auburndale Woman's Club was held on Tuesday evening, December 13, at the home of Miss Rosa Allen of Prairie ave.

Each year this group concentrates on the Canton Home for Crippled Children, for its benevolence, and as usual a large Christmas tree was in evidence, laden with gifts, while the tree was covered with those gifts too large to hang upon it. These included a delightful array of dolls, jewelry both for children and older girls, ties and knives for the boys, and books, games, and toys for all ages. It was estimated that the value of the entire collection was about seventy-five dollars.

Another pleasant custom at this party is the packing of the large tarlatan stockings, about seventy in number. Into these went small toys, candy canes, boxes of candy, apples, oranges, and nuts. These are given to the Family Service Bureau of Newton to distribute.

Refreshments were served at the close by the hostess, Miss Allen, assisted by Miss Gertrude Selloy. Besides the Club members, there were several guests present, including the president of the Senior Club, Mrs. James Dunlop, and the two directors, Mrs. Theodore W. Dearborn and Mrs. Ernest F. Drew.

Christmas Flower Show

The spicy fragrance of deep pine woods greeted the visitors to the Christmas Flower Show of the Newton Centre Garden Club held at the Newton Centre Woman's Club house last Tuesday, December 13. Interesting displays and awards made the exhibit most pleasurable.

Mrs. Clifford P. Smith was awarded a first prize for a mantel-piece display of blue spruce swag, draped over the top of the mantel, with a large wreath of cranberries in the center and a colorful arrangement of fruit on the mantel-shelf.

There were five classes for competitive exhibits. In Class 1 "Christmas Wreaths and Swags" the winning awards were as follows: Mrs. Richard Cole, for wreath of large cones and dried brown beech grasses; Mrs. Fred R. Blumenthal, wreath of blue spruce and large cones; Mrs. Richard Willes, Swag of pine, with cones flecked with gold; Mrs. Edward Leonard, for blue spruce with cones.

"B" awards in this class were given to Mrs. John W. Cooke, Mrs. George Engels, and Mrs. Elias Field.

In Class 2, "Gift Baskets for Fruit and Flower Mission," sponsored by Mrs. William H. Lohrop, there were many attractive exhibits. The winners of awards were Mrs. Austin C. Benton, Mrs. George Engel, Mrs. Donald J. MacPherson, Mrs. Edward Leonard, Mrs. Frederick Knight, Mrs. Thomas Booth and Mrs. Gordon Hall.

In Class 3, "Arrangement of Fruit, Flowers and Vegetables, against a Tray Background," the winners were Mrs. William H. Lohrop and Mrs. Elias Field; with "B" awards to Mrs. Gordon Hall, Mrs. Donald J. MacPherson, and Mrs. Richard Cole.

In Class 4, "Christmas Gift Packages," the exhibits showed a beautiful variety of color and material. The winners were Mrs. Frederick C. Rising, Mrs. Walter H. Dietz; with "B" awards to Mrs. Austin C. Benton, Mrs. O. S. Leland, and Mrs. Richard Cole.

In Class 5, "Winter Arrangements," the exhibits included an interesting variety of pine branches with laurel, graceful juniper sprays in an old pewter container, and seed-pods, sumac and berry bouquets. The winners were Mrs. Donald J. MacPherson, Mrs. Gordon Hall, and Mrs. Edward Leonard; with a "B" award to Mrs. Austin C. Benton.

There was also a non-competitive exhibit of Creches, by Mrs. Austin C. Benton and Mrs. William H. Lohrop, Mrs. M. S. Raymond, M. Stowell, and Mr. George W. Van Gorder. Mrs. Van Gorder's creche included treasures from several different countries.

Zonta Club

The Christmas season was celebrated Friday evening, December 16, at the home of Miss Caroline Freeman of West Newton. A turkey dinner was served with all the "fixins'."

A program of familiar carols was arranged and conducted by Bertha Putney Dudley, with Alice May Dosey officiating at the piano. With the usual Zontian zest all participated in the carol singing. Miss Dosey graciously contributed a solo "Little Noel," by Louis, followed by a duet with Mrs. Dudley, "The Christmas Tree," by Schilling.

The Spirit of Christmas was in the air. Gifts were exchanged. Jollity prevailed.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club Has Christmas Party

The members of the Newton Upper Falls Women's Club met in the Club Rooms of the R. W. Emerson School on Monday, December 19, at 7:30 p. m. Miss Nellie M. Osborne, president, presided at a short business meeting during which she presented Mrs. G. Viola Dangelmayr, State Federation chairman, who spoke upon the work among the Disabled War Veterans and thanked the Club for the bags which were made by the Sewing Circle and filled by the members and their friends.

Six bags, representing a cost of $2.35 a bag, were sent to the disabled veterans. A cash donation of $33.00 was taken for the work of the committee in charge of the Christmas gifts to the veterans.

Mrs. Frank L. Hunting, chairman of the evening, introduced the talent for the entertainment which was given by the Lohrop Bell Ringers of Beverly and Miss Ann Lord, Reader, of Needham.

The bells were products of the foundry at White Chapel, England. These nine bells of beautiful clear tones were rung by a group of five ladies in costume. The program consisted of two groups of Christmas carols, "The First Noel," "O Come, All Ye Faithful," "Silent Night," "Good King Wenceslaus," and in response to wish for an encore, "The Lullaby." Miss Ann Lord read a selection entitled "Why the Chimes Rang," and responded with "Santa Claus at the Ladies' Aid," as an encore.

The second group of carols were "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing," "Away in a Manger," "It Came upon the Midnight Clear," "Joy to the World," and an encore, "The Bells of St. Mary's." The sweet, clear tones of the bells were a fitting emblem of the Christmas spirit.

A delightful incident of the evening came when Miss A. Gertrude Osborne, the newly elected president of the Garden Club, presented to the retiring president, Mrs. Raymond Capobianco, on behalf of the Garden Club members, the gift of a beautiful vase encrusted with silver and a large reflecting mirror. The gift came as a complete surprise to Mrs. Capobianco.

Refreshments were served by the chairman of the Hospitality committee, Mrs. Phyllis Finchbaugh, and a group of the younger members.

President Roosevelt Sends Boy Scouts Xmas Message

In sending them his Christmas greetings, President Roosevelt, Honorary President of the Boy Scouts of America, in which he has been active for seventeen years, called upon the 1,221, 338 Boy Scouts, Cubs and leaders of the nation "to do a good deed for some other person, especially for someone who is less fortunate than ourselves."

The President's message was received this week by Scout Executive Leigh Nisbet of the Norumbega Council, from Dr. James E. West, Chief Scout Executive.

The message follows:
The White House, Washington—
To the Boy Scouts of America:

As a member of the Boy Scouts of America, I am happy to extend to fellow members, my sincere best wishes for a Merry Christmas. This is a time in which it seems particularly appropriate for all of us to do a good deed for some other person, especially for someone who is less fortunate than ourselves. To Boy Scouts who are steadfast in the principles emphasized by their organization I look for future leadership in community and national life. May the year 1939 be a happy adventure for you in the service of others.

(Signed)
FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

Salvation Army Drive For Funds Progresses

The first report from the committee sponsoring the annual maintenance drive in Newton for the Salvation Army indicates that on Monday $2513 of the $5000 quota had been subscribed. This brought much joy to the workers, headed by J. Weston Allen, former attorney general of Massachusetts.

Collections will continue during the holiday season, but will be given impetus on Monday, Jan. 2, as the home stretch of the campaign will be started.

Four collectors, all having an official Salvation Army badge and carrying credentials signed by Mr. Allen, continue their work. They are Reuben Bursey, J. H. Roberts, Ernest Stowe and H. A. Clarke. Mr. Allen suggests that if you are not contacted by the collectors that you may send your contribution to the committee's treasurer, William H. Cahill, of the Newton Trust Company.

In the meantime a huge Christmas program has been planned for Greater Boston's needy folk, as the Salvation Army plans to enlarge its Christmas cheer output. Several service investigators find that the number of families needing help has increased greatly.

Interesting and picturesque specialties with appropriate dances and songs included the Walk-in-Talking Dolls, Firemen on Parade, Dutch Dolls, Pirates, Irish Colleen, Sailors, Patriotic Dolls and Circus Dolls.

The closing portion of the entertainment was the musical dramatic production "The Christmas Caravan" played by members of the sixth, seventh and eighth grades. It told the story of an old puppet showman, who, in his travels at Yuletide, meets a tiny, forlorn girl who has broken her most treasured possession—a soldier doll. The old man comforts the child, mends her doll, and takes her to see his puppets through England, Scandinavia, France and Italy. Finally they arrive in Bethlehem, where the Christmas story is told. The principal characters were played by John Murray, Margaret Clifford, Louis Mullen, Hugh McBaron, Richard Shea, Martha Kerrigan, Elaine Rutledge, of Grade Six; Margaret Manning, Nancy O'Neill, Teresa Sheehan, Francis Daly, Ann Perry, Henry Barry, Ann Jarvis, Jean Foley, Normand Myette, Gertrude Maloney, Joseph MacIsaac, George Thiffault,

Rob Woman of $200 At Center

Evelina Lambert, 23, employed as a domestic at 64 Sumner st., Newton Centre, was attacked by two youths on Sumner st., near Everett st. last Friday evening at 5:30 and robbed of $200 which she had withdrawn earlier that day from her postal savings account at the Newton Centre postoffice. She told the police that one of the thugs seized her right wrist and tried to grab her pocketbook. She dropped some bundles she was carrying and tried to resist the robber, but his companion pushed her to the ground, and the other thug tore the pocketbook from her grasp. According to the report Miss Lambert gave to the police, the robber took the money out of the pocketbook, and then both the bandits fled.

CORRECTION

In last week's GRAPHIC was an item concerning a meeting held at the Stearns School hall on Dec. 10 to protest against the proposed erection of a warehouse near the school, and to request that the city acquire the land which the proposed warehouse will be erected. In this item it was stated that Alderman McCabe told the gathering that if the Mayor will recommend the taking of the land by the city, the Board of Aldermen will vote in favor of such a recommendation. The Alderman did not make this statement. What he did say was—that if the Mayor should recommend the taking, he (McCabe) would vote in favor. He did not commit the other Aldermen.

Presidents' Day was observed by the Auburndale Woman's Club on Tuesday afternoon, December 13, at the Auburndale Club House. The afternoon opened with a Reception, and in the receiving line were the president of the Club, Mrs. James Dunlop and the three guests of honor.

Dessert and coffee were served after the reception by the Hospitality committee. Christmas cards, made by the Class in Block Printing, sponsored by the Art committee of the Club, and wreaths, made by members of the Garden Club, were on display.

A brief business meeting was conducted by the president, after which she presented the honor guests, Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, Newton Federation president, who spoke first, particularly stressed the new Clothing Drive which is to be undertaken at once in Newton. Mrs. W. F. Leach, Twelfth District director, gave advance news of the several Conferences which are to be held in January. Mrs. Herbert French, the last speaker, brought greetings from the State Federation.

She asked for donations of candy for what is termed the "Locked Ward" at the Bedford Hospital for Veterans. The entertainment of the afternoon was given by Club members talented in dramatics, in the farce, "The Glamour Girl," written by Peggy Fernway.

Newton Hospital Aid Association

The Board of Directors of the Hospital Aid Association held their monthly meeting on Tuesday morning, December 13, at the home of Mrs. W. P. Rallsback, of Foster st., Newtonville.

Mrs. Maynard Hutchinson, the president, called on the three members of the Board who were the official visitors at the Hospital for November. Mrs. Ernest Cobb, Mrs. Edwin F. Gibbs, and Mrs. Herbert G. Dunphy, all of whom reported interesting experiences. The two members who will be the December visitors are Mrs. C. Faulkner Kendall and Mrs. Edwin Rogers and they will report at the January meeting.

A report from the recent Treasure Sale which was held in Newton Centre was given by the business manager of the Hospital Aid Benefit Shop, Mrs. Francis H. Williams. She announced that since that time, a generous gift of glass and china had been received, and that this, together with another donation of fancy goods, gave the Shop a decided holiday air. In response to the constant requests for skis, shoe-skates, sleds and toboggans, also children's clothes, she urged the Board to give any such that they could spare.

The speaker for the morning was Miss Fay Crabbe, supervisor of the Student Nurses at the Newton Hospital. She has at the present time about ninety nurses under her charge, many of this group having been among those who attended the Tea last week at the home of Mrs. Hutchinson. Miss Crabbe spoke of the splendid morale of the group, and explained that these girls are chosen very carefully. Scholarship is very important, good health and good character necessary. Another trait desired is emotional stability.

As the Board of Directors has already pledged $5,000 to the new Home for the Nurses, this talk was most timely.

Morning coffee was served at the close of the meeting, Mrs. Charles R. Floyd pouring.

Firemen Again Ask For 2 Platoons

A committee of Newton firemen consisting of Fremont Keyes of Engine 5, Nicholas Bibbo of Engine 8 and Frank Fitzgerald of Engine 7 will await on Monday night the decision of Mayor Childs today and present a petition signed by members of the department and asking that the two-platoon system be established in Newton. The petition states that Newton is the only one of the 39 cities in this State in which the single platoon is still in effect. Newton firemen are on duty continuously for 48 hours and then have 24 hours off. They have endeavored for many years to have the two-platoon system established here.

Dull Meeting of Aldermen Jan. 2

Despite the fact that Mayor Childs will not attend the meeting of the Board of Aldermen next Monday, January 2nd to make the customary address, and that there will be no election of officers of the Board, the Aldermen will have to meet, nevertheless, as City Solicitor Bartlett so ruled. Because the citizens of Newton voted for biennial city elections, members of the Board whose terms would have expired on December 31st of this year, will hold over for another year and there are no new members to be given the oath of office. Likewise the President and Vice President of the Board hold over in office. The only business before the Board at its "New Year's" meeting on Monday will be the re-election of City Treasurer Newhall and the passing of a few routine orders.

Fire At Hudson Drug Store

A counter covered with Christmas merchandise and decorated with cotton batting simulating snow, caught afire at the Hudson Drug Store, Newton, on Sunday evening. Archie Pierce of the Newton Fire Department happened to be standing near the store when the counter became ablaze. He rushed into the pharmacy and extinguished the fire with the aid of Bernard Burke, proprietor of the store and two clerks. Water from the soda fountain was used in quenching the flames. A cigarette or cigar in the hand of some customer is supposed to have started the fire.

Testimonial To Frank A. Brooks

On Thursday night, December 22 a banquet and testimonial to Frank A. Brooks was held at Veterans Hall, Concord. The affair was a tribute to the service which Mr. Brooks has rendered as a member of the Governor's Council from the 3rd District which includes Newton. About 175 were present. The public manifestation of appreciation of Mr. Brooks' service was arranged by Otis Whitney, Representative in the Legislature from Concord. Robert Bushnell of Waban officiated as toastmaster and among those at the head table were Christian Herter, next Speaker of the House; Joseph C. Connelley, Lexington, next President of the State Senate; Sinclair Weeks, Robert Bradford and Councillor Bayard Tuckerman.

The various speakers lauded the honesty and courage displayed by Mr. Brooks in combatting the pernicious activities of the Governor's Council during the past two administrations and said that the gathering was not only a tribute to the Council member from Concord, but also evidence that the people present wanted to show their regard for any man who keeps his oath of office by performing his public duties in the interest of the public, rather than in the interest of greed and graft. Mr. Bushnell and Mr. Tuckerman were both severe in their denunciation of Governor Hurley and those members of the Governor's Council who have been conniving with him. In behalf of those present Bushnell presented Councillor Brooks with the keys to a new Buick sedan which awaited the recipient outside the hall. Among the Newton men present were former Aldermen Gallagher and Goddard, and Philip W. Carter.

Parsons was starting to walk along Waverley ave. after having alighted from the Boston Elevated car when the two bandits accosted him. One, about 20 years of age, asked for a match and as Parsons reached in his pocket for it, he was slugged by the other bandit and knocked unconscious. After partially recovering, he wandered about in a dazed condition and it was 3 a. m. before he arrived at his home. His pockets had been rifled and robbed of $3 in money and a pair of eyeglasses. He reported the robbery to Patrolman McDonough on Saturday morning. Besides wounds on his head, Parsons also received a severe blow on his right eye.

City Employee Stricken at Work

Loretto Gentile, 60, of Silver Lake ave., Newtonville, a veteran employee of the Newton sewer department, had a cerebral hemorrhage while at work in a manhole at the grounds of the Bowen School, Newton Centre, last Friday afternoon. He was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance.

Tribute on Jan. 3 To Saltonstall

Next Tuesday evening, Jan. 3, at 7 p. m., in the Newton High School the citizens of Newton will turn out en masse to pay their own tribute to Governor-Elect and Mrs. Leverett Saltonstall.

It is more than half a century since Newton has given a governor to the State of Massachusetts. Not many of the throng, which will take possession of our high school next Tuesday evening, will be able to recall even the name of the last governor who came from our midst. His name is William Claflin and he was the Chief Executive of our state from 1869 to 1872.

Nearly 1500 men and women from every village in Newton will have an opportunity to shake the incoming governor's hand and wish him the success he so richly deserves. A typical dinner will be served at 7 p. m., with entertainment intermingled. As previously announced, the toastmaster at the dinner will be Mayor Edwin O. Childs and the only speakers will be former Mayor Sinclair Weeks, Hon. Thomas W. White, Lt.-Gov.-Elect Horace T. Cahill and Governor-Elect Leverett Saltonstall.

All unsold tickets have now been called in and, inasmuch as no tickets will be sold at the door next Tuesday, it will be necessary for all those who have neglected to purchase tickets heretofore to phone immediately the chairman of the ticket committee, Mr. Harold S. Piper of 151 Plymouth rd., Newton Highlands, Arthur A. Hunt, 16 Duffield rd., Auburndale, or Thomas E. Mullen, 31 Montford rd., Newton Highlands, if they wish to be present at this outstanding event—one of the most significant in Newton's entire history.

Burglary At Oak Hill House

The home of Joseph R. Walker, 275 Brookline st., Oak Hill, was entered last Friday night and ransacked. Walker, a wool merchant, has been absent for some weeks from his home, having gone to Australia on business. The break was discovered by Charles Hathaway of Henshaw st., West Newton, caretaker of the Walker estate, when he arrived at the house about 8 o'clock Saturday morning. He reported the break to the police and they found that entrance had been made by breaking a window. A peculiar circumstance is that silverware in the house was not taken, and two $5 bills lying on a table also remained untouched.

Fined $200 For Reckless Driving

Robert Hurley, 21, of 100 Chestnut st., West Newton, was fined $200 by Judge Eisenstadt in Roxbury District court last week Thursday for operating an automobile so as to endanger the lives of the public. He was found not guilty on a charge of driving while under the influence of liquor. A car driven by young Hurley hit and killed Miss Margaret McLeod, 50, of Bay State rd., Boston, as the woman was crossing Commonwealth ave. near Sherborn st., Boston, one night two weeks ago.

Discharged WPA Men Back at Work

Twenty-six Newton men who were discharged as WPA workers last week as a result of complaints of the smearing of creosote on logs and a dog at the F. H. Kennard estate in Oak Hill, were reinstated on Tuesday following a hearing which was held last Wednesday. WPA officials stated that evidence presented at the hearing did not justify the discharge of the men, and furthermore another crew of WPA workers had been at work in the vicinity on the day the vandalism occurred. Efforts are still being made to find who was responsible for the daubing of the creosote.

McKay Asks Gow For Advice

Printed below is a letter from Alderman Donald McKay of the Newton Board of Aldermen to Colonel Charles Gow, asking advice on the matter of selecting a Street Commissioner for this city, and a reply from Colonel Gow. Both letters are quite interesting.

December 15, 1938.
Colonel Charles R. Gow, President, Warren Brothers Company,
Cambridge, Massachusetts.
Dear Charlie:

There is a difficult problem before the Board of Aldermen of Newton, and I should very much appreciate your comments and counsel. Several months ago the street commissioner died, and since then a member of the department has been acting-commissioner. Several weeks ago the Mayor submitted an appointment for approval to the Board which devoted several hours in committee of the whole to serious consideration of the matter. Every possible effort was made to establish justification for confirmation, but we could not find grounds for so doing. The person in question was formerly an alderman and chairman of the public works committee. He has sold road-building equipment but has no engineering training, nor apparently been an executive in charge of numerous employees. Our desire is to have the best possible qualified man in the position, and there is no intent to disapprove any appointment the Mayor may make solely because it seems he is repaying a political debt.

So much for the background. My request of you is an exposition of those qualities which your experience as head of one of the largest road construction companies of the world would demand in a position of this kind. I am not asking for a recommendation of any individual, as the Board has no authority to indicate its preference. We can only consider such names as are submitted by the Mayor. I have neglected to state earlier in this letter that the appointment was rejected 19 to 1. Nevertheless, the Mayor has again submitted the same name and it will be before the Board for action on December twenty-seventh. No new applications have been presented.

If a properly qualified man is available it is, of course, always desirable to select from the residents of a community, but failure to find the right man in Newton should not restrict a search elsewhere. It would seem that in this time of general unemployment there must be men equipped through training and experience who would eagerly accept such an opportunity. The position has been paying $4,000.00. I have no doubt you could name a dozen men who have been in the $10,000 and up class who would now like to be appointed in this position.

I should greatly appreciate hearing how you would select a commissioner if you were the Mayor of Newton.

Sincerely yours,
(Sgd) DONALD D. McKAY.

Mr. Donald D. McKay
Dear Don:
I wish to acknowledge receipt of

Fined $100 For Drunken Driving

James I. Aiken of 63 Franklin st., Watertown was fined $100 by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court on Wednesday for driving a car while under the influence of liquor. He was arrested on Tuesday afternoon by Patrolman Joe Smith after the car he was driving had crashed into a pole opposite 117 1/2 Chestnut st., near the policeman's home.

Rescued From Burning Car

Three persons were pulled out of an overturned car which caught afire on Monday morning at the intersection of Beacon and Walnut sts., Newton Highlands. Cars driven by Colburn Hardy of East Orange and Achille DeSerres of Attleboro collided and the Attleboro car tipped over and caught fire after it had skidded about 30 feet. DeSerres, Eugene DeSerres and Clarida Sandler, were extricated from the car by Motorcycle Officer O'Donnell, assisted by persons who witnessed the crash. DeSerres received an injury to his knee and the two women were also injured. They were taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance and a police car. O'Donnell pulled an alarm from Box 71.

Aldermen Refuse 20 to 1 To Appoint Earle As Street Commissioner

Mayor Criticized For Sending In Former Alderman's Name
A Second Time After Board's September Vote

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Tuesday night the members for a second time refused to confirm the appointment of William E. Earle as Street Commissioner. The vote was practically the same as that on September 12 when Mayor Childs first appointed Mr. Earle. The vote was 19 against confirmation, and 1 in favor. On Tuesday night the vote was 20 against confirmation and 1 in favor. At the September 12th meeting one member of the Board was absent.

Before the vote was taken on Tuesday night, Alderman Walker, vice-president of the Board, criticized Mayor Childs for sending in the name of Mr. Earle a second time after the Aldermen had almost unanimously voted not to confirm his appointment in September. He said that he would not call it a discourtesy on the part of the Mayor to have submitted a name a second time, although some believe it to have been discourteous. Alderman Walker commented:

"I take it that the Board has a responsibility fully equal to that of the Mayor. He makes the appointment and the Board passes on it. It is our responsibility to see that the appointee is well qualified."

"It is a matter of common knowledge that the Board took more than the ordinary amount of time in considering the appointment. The Board's opinion was decisive and unmistakable. The situation was thoroughly and conscientiously reviewed. There has been nothing to change the clear opinion then reached and expressed. The Board has made known its opinion and has decided that the office shall not be administered by this appointee. The matter should be considered closed."

The report of the Claims & Rules Committee on the matter of several claims against the city brought dissent from Aldermen McCabe and Tiffin and caused one claim to be referred back for reconsideration. The committee had approved the payment of $10 to Rev. Thomas Quinn of Boston College who had fallen on a defective sidewalk and broken his eyeglasses, and it disapproved a claim of $44 from Mrs. J. G. Grant of West Newton, who had fallen on a defective sidewalk, received injuries and torn her dress. Alderman McCabe said both claims were similar, and Mrs. Grant should be compensated for medical treatment, loss of employment and damage to her dress. He said the defect on the sidewalk should have been observed by the police and reported, especially when it was in a heavily travelled section. Alderman Rawson, reporting for the committee said that there had not been evidence of defect in the sidewalk, nor had any report been made of it, and the city not liable. Alderman McCabe said he does not know Mrs. Grant, but the fact that city employees placed a shovelful of tar at the spot where Mrs. Grant fell, proves there was a defect there. Alderman Tiffin and Case agreed with McCabe. Alderman Hutchinson said he favored granting the claim, but it establishes a dangerous precedent. He moved that the matter be referred back to the committee.

A claim from Giuseppe DeAngelis in behalf of his young son was refused. Alderman Rawson explained that the boy was injured when he ran into a wire fence at the Stearns School grounds, and the city cannot be held liable for anyone injured on school property. A claim from Mattie Yardley was rejected. She fell on an icy sidewalk. The city is not liable for

False Alarm Was For Real Fire
Sigvald Ramsland of 34 Whitlowe rd., West Newton, was vulcanizing a tire in the kitchen of his home last Monday night and was using fuel oil for fuel. The oil caught fire and started a brisk blaze. Ramsland ran to Box 321 and pulled an alarm at 9:44. Then he ran back to his home and resumed his task of fighting the flames. Several fire trucks from Newton and Waltham answered the alarm, found no one at the box, saw no fire, and returned to quarters, with the firemen muttering maledictions at who ever pulled the "false alarm." Patrolman Dwyer, Greeley and Scott started a search of the neighborhood looking for whoever pulled the box, and learned that the person who turned in the alarm had run toward Ramsland's home. Proceeding there the policemen found Ramsland still endeavoring to put out the flames. The fire department was again notified, but when they returned, Ramsland had the flames nearly under control.

STARTING THE NEW YEAR RIGHT

Next week Thursday noon a new Governor of Massachusetts will be inaugurated at the State House on Beacon Hill. Next week Tuesday evening citizens of Newton will gather at a testimonial dinner and reception to be given Governor-elect and Mrs. Leverett Saltonstall at the high school auditorium. Although the general distribution of tickets has been concluded there are still tickets available for the affair as noted in our news columns. Emphasis is laid upon the fact that no tickets will be sold at the door. Due to the holiday season many persons doubtless postponed a decision as to whether or not they would attend. Indications are evident that the affair will be the greatest gathering of its kind in the history of the city. More than fifty years having passed since a Newton citizen held the office of Governor of Massachusetts makes it an event of noteworthy significance. Beyond that fact, however, it will be a voluntary and enthusiastic demonstration of the honor and respect which Newton citizens have for Mr. Saltonstall. Coming as it does, in the first few days of the New Year, we trust that it will be the first of many happy occasions, not only for Governor Saltonstall, but for the citizens of Massachusetts during 1939.

THE LAST FEW WEEKS

Any soldier who has been on the march can testify that it is the last mile that is the longest. Most any citizen of Massachusetts can testify that it is the last two weeks of a gubernatorial administration that seem the longest. The numerous episodes and incidents that have taken place at the State House under Governor Hurley and the present Governor's Council have astounded and disgusted many persons. The granting of pardons, various appointments of persons to important and responsible state positions, the holding of non-competitive examinations for civil service jobs, and many other acts bring forth vehement criticism. Steps have already been taken to prevent any further granting of pardons without prior publicity and public knowledge. The cleaning up of the civil service question is an objective of the incoming administration. The making of appointments is also receiving attention. There is growing sentiment for a change in the date of appointments so that terms of office of state positions will expire in June instead of near the end of the year as at present. Such a change of procedure, if effected, would not only benefit the public, through the abolition of "lame duck" assignments but it should prove less embarrassing to any future governor. Perhaps the time is not too far removed when this change may come about.

THE YEAR GOES—ANOTHER COMES

The year is going. Another year is coming. Our sincere wish for our readers and friends is that 1939 may be happy and prosperous for all.

Our Lady's Alumni Dance January 5

Another popular dance will be held by Our Lady's Alumni on Thursday evening, Jan. 5, at the high school auditorium. The proceeds will be donated to the recently organized basketball team in order to procure suits and other sundry equipment. The music will be provided by a popular orchestra from S-I. Refreshments will be served and everyone is welcome.

There will be a general Alumni meeting Tuesday evening at 7:30 with entertainment, consisting of two one act plays, being furnished by the local WPA. Everyone is urged to attend.

American Red Cross Christmas Seal Sale

Braille transcribing is beginning its tenth year as an activity of the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross. During this period many books have been hand-transcribed and contributed to the Library of Congress in Washington, D. C., to Perkins Institution, to blind students, and to a blind radio speaker.

At present there are four volunteer certified brailleists in Newton and several others are learning braille. Two of the trained transcribers correspond with sightless persons, thus affording them the joy of reading their own letters. The brailled letters are usually sent in mailing tubes, so the raised dots will keep their shapes.

Newton Chapter has recently branched out in a new direction in its braille department. One of its certified transcribers, who is an accomplished musician, became interested in music braille. Very little is known about how music is written for the blind. All music is written by means of the same six dots that represent the alphabet, but the signs are different. There are few transcribers of music as it is a very difficult and exacting task. There is an increasing need for brailled music.

The Newton transcriber has completed the music of several piano selections and voice music with accompaniment. Every part of the manuscript must be absolutely correct and the work can be done only by a person who is a proficient musician as well as a proficient brailleist. "It is not only amazing, but extremely gratifying, to see how readily a blind person can read and memorize a really well-transcribed page and a great privilege to be able to make even a small contribution toward making music accessible to the blind," wrote Newton's transcriber of music braille.

"The Seeing Fingers," a short film, tells the story of braille and is a revelation to sighted persons. It was produced in Boston and Newton's proof reader, who is blind, has an important part in the picture.

There has been a definite growth in the braille department the past year and a very cordial welcome awaits any interested volunteer this coming year.

Y. M. C. A.

Annual Open House

Members and friends, both men and women, of the Newton Y. M. C. A., are invited to attend the Open House on Monday evening, Jan. 2nd.

In the afternoon, from 2 to 5 o'clock, parents and friends of the Cadet and Junior groups will be entertained in the Game Room, Gymnasium, and Swimming Pool by members of these groups.

In the evening, beginning at 7:30, there will be tumbling and games by boys' groups; basketball, squash and handball matches; swimming, boxing, and wrestling exhibitions. An interesting feature of the evening's entertainment will be an exhibition of table tennis by Lloyd Shephardson and Leslie Lowry. At 9 o'clock there will be an entertainment in the Assembly Hall by Jack Raymon, naturalist, who will give a talk on "Reptiles of North America," and he will present live specimens. The musical part of the program will feature Beatrice and Jack Henderson with imitations, monologues, whistling and piano and banjo music.

The committee sponsoring this program is headed up by F. Sayford Bacon, who is ably assisted by the following: Eldred M. Peterson, Roger B. Tyler, Arthur M. Jacobs, Harold A. Ham, Norman Jennison, William Evans, "Sandy" DeNucci, Arthur H. B. Clarke and Robert Young.

The exhibitions by the Boys' and Senior Groups are under the direction of Mr. Richard B. Simmons and Mr. V. A. Anderson, Physical Director of the Association.

Young people and family groups are most cordially invited to attend.

Junior Swimming

The Newton Y. M. C. A. Boys' Swimming Team defeated the Lowell "CY" boys at the Lowell Association last Saturday afternoon, 27-25. The meet was closely contested throughout, with the lead changing many times. The score stood at 25-20 in favor of Lowell, with the Relay deciding the issue. The Newton boys equalled the Y. M. C. A. Boys' Free Style Relay Record of 1 min., 25 3/5 sec., to win a very close decision and the meet. The Newton Relay Team swam as follows: Richard Farrar, Albert Shapalis, James Martin and Fred Harrington.

The other point winners for Newton were Fred Harrington 1st and Richard Farrar 3rd in the 40-yard Free Style; Jim Martin and Algie Shapalis 2nd and 3rd in the 40-yard Breast Stroke; Jim Martin and Morton Harrington 1st and 2nd in the 40-yard Back Stroke; John Coffey 3rd in the Diving; and Gardner Hess 3rd in the 100-yard Swim.

Chest. Hill Thief Pleads Guilty

John Wilson, 27, of Massachusetts ave., Boston, pleaded guilty in Middlesex Superior Court last Friday to charges of having burglarized four houses at Chestnut Hill last May. They were the homes of Chandler Hovey, 256 Hammond st.; Winthrop Carter, 328 Hammond st.; Andrew Bonanno, 95 Commonwealth ave.; John Daley, 60 Old Colony rd. Jewelry pawned by Wilson in Boston was identified by Inspectors Goode and Chase of the Newton police.

Wilson was later arrested by Boston police and on September 8 was convicted of burglaries in Brookline and sent to Concord prison for 5 years. In court last Friday he received a similar sentence for the Chestnut Hill burglaries, but as it will be served concurrently with the sentence he has been serving, it means that Wilson will not have to remain in prison any longer than the term for which he was first sentenced.

Kiwanis Club

Presiding over his last meeting as President of the Newton Kiwanis Club, on Tuesday, Dec. 27, 1938, at the Charles River Country Club, Archie C. Bellinger voiced his sincere thanks to all of the members for the fine spirit of co-operation shown during the year drawing to a close.

Howard Parker told of the fine party given by the Kiwanians to the crippled children at the New England Peabody Home on Saturday, Dec. 24, 1938. Led by Jack Janse, Vice President of the club for the coming year, the Kiwanians, including Santa Claus in person, delivered gifts to all of the children and then put on a show including talking pictures and a personal appearance of Toto the Clown.

President Archie Bellinger had as his guests Chief Hughes of the Newton Police Department and many of his ranking men including Captain Nicholas Vedeucio, Sergeants William P. Mahoney, Richard L. Bannon, Thomas J. Burke, and 25 patrolmen.

Dr. T. Morton Gallagher, Medical Examiner, was the guest speaker and described the work, the problems and the difficulties of his chosen profession. He told of the duties of the medical examiner. He also traced the great strides made in medicine during his many years as a practicing physician. The present trend toward a socialized medical service when, for a certain monthly fee, the government will supply all your medical needs, was described by Dr. Gallagher, as a natural rebound from the excessive cost of medical and surgical treatment today as compared with 25 years ago.

On Wednesday evening, Jan. 4, 1939, President Walter Finlay will be installed as the fourteenth president of the Newton Kiwanis Club. Jack Janse and Raymond Green will take office as First and Second Vice Presidents, respectively. Leo Noel will take over the work of Club Treasurer, which has been handled so faithfully for many years by Past President George White. Austin Shea will continue as secretary.

Central Church Women

To Meet Next Wednesday

The Woman's Association of Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, will meet on Wednesday, January 4, with various kinds of handwork ready for members at 10:00 a. m. The luncheon at 12:30 will be prepared by Mrs. Franklin Field and the Bible Circle. Mrs. A. W. Church has charge of the dining room and decorations. The afternoon program begins at 1:30 when Dr. Walter Amos Morgan of the Chestnut Street Congregational Church, Worcester, will be the speaker, taking as his subject, "Youth in the Church." Miss Lois Oliver will provide music on the xylophone.

Dr. Surabian Pleads for Jews

The life of a refugee from oppression is not easy, as described by Myron C. Surabian of 439 Commonwealth ave., Newton Centre, appealing for a welcoming attitude in this country toward German Jews.

Mr. Surabian, former chairman of the Pan-Harpoon Association, fled to the United States in 1915 during Turkish massacres of Armenians in which his parents and nearly 500 other relatives were slain.

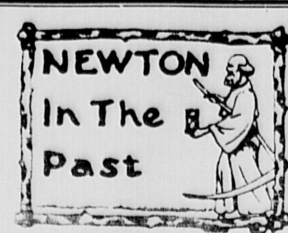

Even the land of opportunity seldom offers an easy life to the foreigner, he said, as he recounted his struggle to gain an education under a strange tongue and to establish a professional practice as dentist.

Nevertheless, with only a smattering of English, the young emigrant entered the Harvard Dental School and in 1918 graduated from the Tufts Dental School to which he transferred when he learned that his hard-earned tuition would cost less there.

Mr. Surabian said he had no money to buy books.

The war, from which he fled to avoid fighting with the Turks against Italy, gave him his first job in the new world, making ammunition in a Worcester arms factory.

Since Surabian became a citizen in 1925 he has been working constantly as an organizer to bring a larger number of Armenians to citizenship. Good citizenship is the key to happiness in a new land, he says, adding, "This terror in Germany is awful. We Armenians feel it in our nerves, for we have been through the same thing. More than 10,000 Armenians were massacred in 1895, and many more since that time. We hope many Jews may have the opportunity of safety here that we have had."

55 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, December 22, 1883
The horse cars between Newton and Watertown have been taken off on account of the snow, and a barge now connects at Watertown with cars leaving on the hour.

The double mammoth "Uncle Tom's Cabin" company which played at Elliot Hall on Tuesday evening proved to be a show of pretty cheap order, although it was amusing to the small boys.

From the mild weather of last week to the snowstorms of this week was a pretty sudden jump. Snow began falling Sunday night and has fallen every day since, except Thursday. A period of fine sleighing is promised.

The ice broke on Silver Lake, Nonantum, the other evening while many were skating there and 18 persons were plunged into the icy waters. Happily all escaped, although one young man was taken out in an exhausted condition.

The defeat of the Auburndale park project will not cause a great deal of grief. The proposed park was a harmless and inexpensive affair, but it was acknowledged to be the entering wedge to a much larger scheme—the laying out of a parkway along the Charles River for a mile and a half.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night the special committee on sewerage made a report which was accepted and referred to the next city government. The report said that the committee feels that the subject is one of vital importance and demands careful and thorough investigation before committing the city to any plan or system. The report of the Newton Sewerage Commission contemplated the discharge of the sewerage into the Charles River at a point near the Watertown Arsenal, necessitating the construction of main sewers to that point at great expense; and a later report of the State Commission indicated that a much larger expense will be necessary to carry sewage from places around Boston to the sea. The magnitude of the amount which the construction of a sewer system on this plan would require has caused the City Council to hesitate in taking action.

A plan has been proposed which is thought can be applied with success to the City of Newton with its many villages. This plan would divide the city into several distinct sewer districts, according to centres of population, and formation of surface; using only pipes of sufficient size to care for sewage matter, leaving the drainage of streets as at present, to be cared for by natural water courses. This plan proposes to use sewage matter for irrigating and fertilizing selected pieces of properly situated land that the city may possess or acquire. If this system will do all that is claimed for it, the city will not need large, expensive sewers, and we can avoid the enormous expense of joining the proposed Metropolitan Sewer System.

50 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, December 21, 1888
The horse-cars between Newton and Boston are to be heated this winter if the railroad company succeeds in carrying out its plans.

Dr. E. P. Seales met with a slight accident Monday morning while driving down Centre st. The transom bolt of his buggy snapped suddenly and the horse with the forward wheels proceeded to Whitman's stable. No damage of consequence resulted.

The water rose so high in the cellar of the new Elliot Church on Wednesday as to put out the fire in the steam heater and men have been at work since pumping the water out. Evidently some means will have to be taken to drain the cellar before the church can be used.

Charlie Kimball the 8-year-old nephew of George Alden, was investigating some geological specimens at the Free Library last Saturday when he pulled a heavy stone too far over, and it fell, breaking his left leg. The fracture was reduced by Dr. Frisbie and the patient is doing nicely.

Mrs. Alvin Houghton of Hillside ave., West Newton, met with an unfortunate accident last Friday. In going down the cellar she stepped on her pet cat, lost her balance and fell the whole flight, breaking her wrist and severely injuring one knee. The shock was severe and she has since been seriously ill.

The tunnel at the upper end of the depot platform at Newton is in worse condition than ever in spite of another layer of planks which has been just put in. The water is higher than the planking and the only hope is that it will freeze, and thus allow people to pass through. The railroad company should have provided a drain for the tunnel when it was built, as it is only free from water in dry weather. If many more planks are laid only small children can get through.

Five teachers at the Bigelow School mourned the loss of their months' salaries yesterday. They sent one of the pupils of the school, an 11-year-old boy, to the Newton National Bank to get their checks cashed. B. F. Bacon put the money, $299, in an envelope, the boy put it in his pocket, but in some unaccountable way the boy lost the envelope on his way back to the school.

Powers' Paragraphs

In this week's GRAPHIC is printed a letter written by Alderman Donald McKay to Colonel Charles R. Gow relative to the appointment of a Street Commissioner and a reply from Colonel Gow to Mr. McKay. Both letters are quite interesting. We have no intention to inject ourselves into the controversy between the Mayor and the Board of Aldermen on the question of the Street Commissioner, but we shall state some reactions we had after reading the letter written by Alderman McKay and the reply written by Colonel Gow. As a prelude we repeat that we still believe Acting Commissioner McCarthy should have been appointed to the office, and we think that had he been the Board of Aldermen would have named him. Apparently, the Mayor does not see fit to appoint Mr. McCarthy.

In our opinion the Mayor did not appoint Mr. Earle solely to repay a political debt. It is true that Mr. Earle has consistently been with Mr. Childs in the latter's political battles. But the Mayor has not borne the reputation of rewarding those who supported him politically. He has been accused, and in our opinion rightly, of deferring to those who opposed him politically. We believe the Mayor thinks that Mr. Earle has some qualifications for the position of Street Commissioner. And so do we. In the past Mayor Childs—and other Mayors, saw fit to appoint as heads of City Departments, members or former members of the Board of Aldermen who had not excellent technical training in those departments, former Boards of Aldermen saw fit to confirm the appointments, and those appointed and confirmed made good. On the other hand, we have observed so-called "big game" men appointed to public office, men with the alleged advantage of degrees and technical training, and they did not exhibit outstanding efficiency. Personally, we don't fall very hard for so-called "big game" men or men of greater value. A man may have received $10,000 or more in some job, public or private, because he was worth it. And he may have received such a large salary because he was fortunate, or because he had a "pull." This does not mean that he would be worth $10,000 in some other job. He might not be worth a tinker's dam in it.

Colonel Gow's reply is intelligent—and fair. He pays a high tribute to the late Street Commissioner, Charles Mahoney. Mr. Mahoney had no technical training. He was a graduate of Newton High School and entered the employ of the Street Department as a clerk under the now Acting Street Commissioner, Mr. McCarthy, who incidentally was Mr. Mahoney's first cousin. Mr. Gow does not believe technical knowledge is a necessary qualification for a head of a department to possess. He says—"If there is some subordinate in the department who is thoroughly familiar with such matters, and providing the commissioner will be willing to rely upon his judgment and advice, it will not then be so essential that the head of the department possess the technical knowledge and experience required to possess. Christmas Program

The Christmas spirit was fittingly expressed in the special Christmas program of the meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Club on Tuesday, December 20, at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. Ethel Ruby Hood of Newburyport presented her group of young girl bell ringers, appropriately attired in the Yuletide costume of Elizabethan days, with scarlet coats, big white ruffs, and feathered hats. Under the direction of Mrs. Hood the bell ringers gave the audience a number of old ballads including such favorites as the "Last Rose of Summer" and "Blue Bells of Scotland." The delicate shadings of the bell tones from loud to soft showed the care and skill with which these young girls have been trained by their leader. Between the songs Mrs. Hood gave the audience interesting information about the history and technique of the ancient art of bell-ringing.

After the ballads, Mrs. Gladys McGill, a Club member, read "The Other Wise Man," by Henry Van Dyke. While she was reading the story, Mrs. Percy W. Woodward showed accompanying pictures depicting incidents of the story in color on the screen. The agreed theme of the happiness is only found in self-forgetting service, was effectively brought out in this unusual presentation, and the quietness of the audience was a genuine tribute to the excellence of Mrs. McGill's reading. Christmas Carols in which the audience joined in singing "Silent Night," closed this beautiful program, which, as Mrs. Thomas G. Walters, the Program chairman, said in her introduction, was a Christmas present to the Club, and Mrs. Tracy wished all the members a Merry Christmas.

Children Entertained

The Children's Christmas Party of the Newton Community Club was held in the Underwood School Hall, Thursday, December 22. The special guests were children from the Underwood and Stearns School, each one receiving a gift; the girls, dolls; and the boys, trucks; also a bag of candy, an apple, and an orange, for all, with hoodies and cookies for refreshments.

A beautiful Christmas tree on the stage from which Santa took the gifts was a great delight to the children. Mora with his "Magical Rarebits" was splendid entertainment in every respect. His manner with the children soon won their confidence and they were most anxious to have him do tricks with them personally. He presented many new "rarebits" and was enjoyed by both old and young.

Mrs. James B. Melcher was chairman of this delightful event.

Zonta Club

At the last meeting of the Zonta Club held at the home of Miss Caroline Freeman, following an exchange of gifts and carol-singing, several of the members presented excerpts from "The Haunted Man," by Dickens, as abridged by Mrs. Cora Sadler. The characters were represented with inspiring sincerity by Mrs. Sadler, Miss Doris Lovell, Miss Marion Fuller, Mrs. Currie Kurlmeyer, Miss Mary Barbour, Miss Grace Lawrence, and Mrs. Della Stanley.

"Keep the memories green" is the thought stressed in "The Haunted Man." Arousing latent sympathies, it was particularly appropriate at this Christmas Season.

The Play, "Christmas Conversation"

The Yuletide spirit of joy and good-will prevailed at the Christmas meeting of the Community Service Club of West Newton held on Wednesday afternoon, December 21, in the Parish House of the Unitarian Church. Mrs. Leslie P. Phinney, president of the Club, opened the meeting with appropriate seasonal greetings to all members of the Club and to their families.

The program began with the Processional of white-robed Glee Club singing the beloved "Adeste Fideles," led by the director, Mrs. Marion Kingbury, and in which all present joined. Then followed a group of three numbers of special Christmas Music, after which Mrs. Hortense Creede Railsback read delightfully, as well as with dramatic skill, an original play, "Christmas Conversation," a playlet written especially for her. As Mrs. Railsback finished, the Glee Club began softly the strains of "Away in a Manger," adding just the right touch to the significant and timely story just heard.

Another group of Christmas numbers was presented by the Glee Club, followed by general signing of familiar carols in which the audience joined. The Recessional to the strains of "Hark the Herald Angels Sing" brought a memorable program to a close. Miss Edith Temple of Newton, talented pianist, was the accompanist of the afternoon.

A delightful social hour followed in the form of a Christmas Tea, with Mrs. Everett D. Kiefer in charge. Many appropriately decorated tables set up in several parts of the Parish House made complete the atmosphere of the season.

Christmas Party at Library for Junior Readers

One hundred and fifty boys and girls, all of whom take out books regularly from the West Newton Branch of the Newton Public Library, enjoyed a Christmas Party in the downstairs Recreation Room of the library building on Friday afternoon, December 23.

The party was given by the Community Service Club of West Newton with Miss Louise Lovett as chairman of the committee, and was in charge of Mr. McNiff, Librarian of the West Newton Library, who is doing splendid work in guiding the juniors in their reading material, who come for books to his branch.

NEW YEAR

To all our friends and customers, both old and new, we extend our sincere greetings for a joyful and prosperous 1939.

Each year at this time it is customary for many of us to make new resolutions—to try to do things a little better than we did before. We wish you success in your new determinations. May they last throughout the year.

For ourselves—we steadfastly resolve to be ever on the alert to even further improve our milk and dairy products and our service for the benefit of all whom we serve.

Enjoy Christmas At The Newton Hospital

When friends visited their families spending Christmas Day in the Newton Hospital they must have been pleased with the real Christmas that had been planned for the patients who could not enjoy that day at home. A great deal of time and effort as well as resourcefulness went into the planning of a happy holiday season for the patients and their friends. Gayly decorated trees and festive wreaths, attractive skating and skiing scenes were abundantly used throughout the hospital.

On Christmas Eve at seven o'clock a young man, who is a professional accordion player, played Christmas carols through the corridors which delighted the patients. This was followed by the singing of Silent Night by twelve members of the Nurses' Glee Club who visited each ward, singing from the corridors.

Very early on Christmas morning the glee club of the Nursing School, which is directed by Mr. D. Ralph MacLean, graduated nurses, and in-burial, and in which all present joined. Then followed a group of three numbers of special Christmas Music, after which Mrs. Hortense Creede Railsback read delightfully, as well as with dramatic skill, an original play, "Christmas Conversation," a playlet written especially for her. As Mrs. Railsback finished, the Glee Club began softly the strains of "Away in a Manger," adding just the right touch to the significant and timely story just heard.

AUNT LYDIA CHRISTMAS

December 1938.

Dear Editor:

I cannot find words to write to express my sincere love for Newton Hospital.

I can truly say I have enjoyed my Christmas the best of all in my life of 91 years.

First they trimmed our ward handsome. Even tied pretty bows on our beds all in bright colors.

When they got the hall and Christmas tree fully decorated, to my surprise they moved my bed around so I could look out at the handsome dec-your letter of December 15 pertaining to the matter of selecting a new Street Commissioner for the City of Newton.

I am familiar with the situation which you describe as now existing respecting the office to which you refer. I am not, however, familiar with the background of the candidate proposed by Mayor Childs.

I can say that the late Commissioner was an ideal man for the position and his place will be difficult to fill. It is, of course, highly desirable, as you indicate, that the incumbent should be conversant with the technical phases of road construction. The present technique of highway construction involves a great variety of factors, a knowledge of which cannot be acquired except through long and intimate contact and experience.

Of course, if there is some subordinate in the Department who is thoroughly familiar with such matters and providing the Commissioner will be willing to rely upon his judgment and advice, it will not then be so essential that the head of the Department possess the technical knowledge and experience required. If, however, there are available, as undoubtedly there are at the present time, many experienced men for such a position, it would seem unnecessary and undesirable to select a man for this important office who is unversed in the technical details of the work involved.

Furthermore, if there is a subordinate in the organization who is qualified from the standpoint of experience to exercise the required judgment which is called for, the question may well be raised as to why he should not occupy the office rather than serve merely as an adviser to an uninformed incumbent.

It cannot be denied that such an office requires executive capacity as well as technical experience and the two qualifications must somehow co-exist either in a single individual or otherwise by some co-operative arrangement between two employees. Obviously, it is desirable to combine the two qualifications in one individual if this is possible.

It is needless for me to add that the primary essential in a nominee for Street Commissioner is absolute integrity since there will always be strong inducements brought to bear upon him from time to time to base his recommendations upon considerations of friendship or personal benefit, and if I were in your position, I would much prefer a man in this office who knew absolutely nothing regarding the technical details but who would honestly seek for competent advice from those qualified to impart it than to select a man who might possess expert qualifications as a highway specialist but who would be likely to compromise with his conscience when it seemed advantageous to him to do so.

Perhaps I have not helped you much with your particular problem but I have tried in general to outline the various alternatives with their respective advantages and disadvantages.

With kindest regards, I am
Sincerely yours,
(Sgd.) CHARLES R. GOW.

Weeks Jr. High

Mr. Robert MacDonald, inspector of schools in Scotland, visited the John W. Weeks Junior High School on Friday, December 16, 1938 for the purpose of seeing how Social Studies are taught in the United States.

The Weeks Junior High School was the first Junior High he had ever visited and he was greatly impressed by its size and beauty. He spoke on schools of his country and compared them with the ones he had visited in the United States. He pointed out that in Scotland the teachers are paid a minimum salary. This system is contrary to the one used in this country. Also he said that physical education was a major part of the schooling in Scotland.

Mr. MacDonald saw his first football game in New Haven, where Harvard beat Yale. It was the roughest game he had ever witnessed but he enjoyed it very much.

He plans to see how schools are taught in the western and southern parts of the country.

Department, even though he does not possess a college degree, or has been the recipient of a high salary. This practice has worked satisfactorily in Newton in the past, and should work well in the future. We also believe the Mayor made a mistake in submitting the name of Mr. Earle a second time when the Aldermen had not evidenced any change of attitude on this matter.

Alderman McCabe deserves commendation for the stand he took at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Tuesday night relative to a claim made against the city by a woman who fell on a sidewalk in the business district at West Newton and was injured. The Claims & Rules Committee of the Aldermen, acting on advice of the City Solicitor, had recommended that the claim be not paid because the defect in the sidewalk had not been reported to the city, and therefore the city was not legally liable. Alderman McCabe contended that the defect should have been observed by some policeman or Street Department employee, reported and repaired. He is right. There are many defects in sidewalks and streets in Newton that should be reported, and when employees of the city whose duty it is to observe and report such defects, are derelict in this duty, the city should not attempt to hide behind some legal technicality. The late Inspector John Shaughnessy of the Newton Street Department was outstanding in reporting defects in streets. In past years when the Police Department was kept on the corner at police headquarters, and therefore was accessible to newspaper men, there were frequent entries telling of some such report by Lieutenant Shaughnessy.

When Wilbur and Orville Wright invented the airplane, we doubt if they realized that by enabling man to fly they were creating something that would prove a far greater curse to mankind than a blessing. The present supremacy of Germany in the air, and the hectic efforts being made by England, France and the U. S. A. to catch up and eventually outdo the Nazis in this respect, will place the burden on civilization that will be staggering.
